JOHN, WE JUST GOT AN ORDER OVER THE PHONE FROM MRS. CUTUPSKI; SHE WANTS ONE OF THE 'NO. 10' CHAIRS FOR HER HUSBAND. RUSH IT OUT THERE.

THE OLIVE BRANCH IN ONE HAND, SWORD IN THE OTHER

(Sacramento Bee.) The convulse of the present league of nations assembly and council at Geneva has hinted that nothing would suit it better than to have the United States help compose the bloody strife in Armenia. At the same time the European diplomats are trying to lure this country into the Anglo-French Alliance, which is the alliance within the broader alliance of the league.

but designed solely for the three powers, England, France and the United States.

Bonar Law recently said in the house of commons that England would not enter the pact if this nation refused to do so. The proposed alliance then is off, for the American people have overwhelmingly voted for the Washington policy of keeping out of entangling European alliances. While the league is in session the powers are exerting themselves more severely than ever to pile up armament, naval and military. Lloyd George recently admitted that England is vigorously experimenting with chemical warfare weapons. He said in one of the countries not members of the league poison gas experiments are being prosecuted. He failed to name the country. Poison gas methods are inhibited in an article of the treaty of Versailles. Nevertheless, Great Britain is overlooking no advantage in that field. The powers are adding to their navies, ocean and air. Each power carries the olive branch in one hand, the sword in the other. And the sword is in the right hand. As a league to promote peace the organization meeting at Geneva seems not omnipotent but impotent. It really is a huge alliance to preserve world conditions as they are, following the territorial and geographical changes wrought by the allied victory. Out of it all stands pre-eminent the league for the United States of preparedness, safety first and Americanism.

Modoc Northern Extension Again In the Newspapers

The Siskiyou News has revived hopes that the Modoc Northern railway is again in the near offing. The News says:

Reports are current to the effect that the Fernley (Nevada) and Lassen branch of the Southern Pacific is to be extended from its present terminal near Westwood to Klamath Falls. Work thereon to start in 1921. The proposed route is through western Modoc and Lassen counties, and the distance is about 150 miles.

Construction of this line was financed prior to the war, but the project was dropped with the opening of the conflict.

The Herald has always predicted that when the railway building program, checked by the war and government control of the roads, gets underway again that the Modoc Northern will be one of the first extensions built. It is well-known construction material is on the ground for a start from the Lassen county end of the line.

One of these days the community will awake to find reality taking place of the constantly recurring rumors.

Howard Held for Grand Jury Action

James Howard was bound over to the federal grand jury late yesterday at the close of a hearing before Bert C. Thomas, United States commissioner, on a charge of having liquor in his possession. Bond was fixed at $1500.

According to the testimony Howard had a Thanksgiving party in his room at the Washington rooming house, which was a glorious celebration until the entrance of Patrolmen Wynn and Barnett interrupted the festivities. The officers gathered in Howard and a five gallon keg of moonshine liquor.

One of the hotel staff testified that the attendance at the party was large. Men flowed in and out of the room all morning, she said, and created such confusion that she was glad when the officers came and removed the center of attraction.

Hospital Cargo Arrived Safely

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 30.—The Presbyterian board of home missions which has a branch headquarters here, has been advised that the hospital equipment it sent to Alaska has been delivered at Point Barrow. The equipment included lumber for the hospital buildings, modern operating apparatus and one of the largest furnaces ever taken to Alaska. The equipment was taken north on the little power schooner Olga which arrived at Point Barrow August 24 and sailed southward the following day. Seventy-six natives were used to unload the hospital shipment and the work was completed in seven hours.

Captain Alexander Allan, who was accompanied on the trip by his wife, reported he speeded up the unloading of the boat because he did not want to be caught in the arctic sea. The ice this year, he said formed along the Siberian coast instead of the Alaskan coast.

The Olga is now enroute to Seattle for the winter. Captain Allan left the vessel at Nome and arrived here on a passenger steamer.

CAPTAINS FOR C. OF C. DRIVE

In order that everyone in Klamath Falls may be given a cordial welcome into the Klamath county chamber of commerce, the organization committee is being formed. The Klamath Falls organization to be headed by two captains each to have charge of a business district.

Arthur R. Wilson of the Wilson Abstract company has been appointed captain of the north side of Main street. He will appoint and name his lieutenants, W. T. Lee, and E. R. Danner.

These men are planning on doing some real work and to see that everyone is given an opportunity to join the chamber of commerce this year. If you are not a member of the chamber of commerce, prepare now to accept the invitation which will come to you within a very few days. "A city is known by the chamber of commerce it keeps" is the slogan that should be supplied to Klamath Falls," say the organization committee. "Let us make it a thousand."

CAR WOULDN'T STOP, SO HE STOPPED IT

TOLEDO, Nov. 30.—A street car wouldn't stop for him so G. S. Comte stopped it himself by pulling the trolley off the wire. He was arrested.

Short Circuit Is Cause of Blaze

A short circuit on top of a power line started a fire this morning on south Sixth street and a fire alarm was turned in. The fire department responded promptly and extinguished the blaze before it reached any farther than the pole it was burning from. The blue blaze could be seen several blocks around.

DECLARE WAR ON STATEHOUSE ROACHES

DES MOINES, Nov. 30.—Even election interests had to take a back seat at the state house when the cockroaches that have infested the building for some time became so numerous that they threatened to walk off with the archives. War has been declared.
