CAL. ELECTORS TO CAST VOTE FOR HARDING

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 14.—California's 13 presidential electors, three of whom are women, will meet at Sacramento on Monday, January 10, 1921, formally to cast the state's electoral vote for Senator Warren G. Harding for president and Governor Calvin Coolidge vice president.

The balloting usually takes place in the senate chamber at the capital and is without unusual ceremony. The procedure of the electors is fixed by law. They must meet at 2 p. m. on the second Monday in January following their election and proceed to vote by ballot for one person for president and one person for vice-president of the United States, one of whom, the law says, is not an inhabitant of this state.

At the conclusion of the balloting, the result of the vote is certified and transmitted by mail to the president of the United States senate. The electors are allowed $10 by the state as compensation for their services and ten cents a mile traveling expenses from their home towns to Sacramento and return.

In the event of the death of a presidential elector, or other inability to discharge his duties, the law requires the electors present to select from among the citizens of the state as many persons as will supply the vacancies.

The republican presidential electors chosen at the last general election are: John H. Rosseter, Mrs. Edward F. Glaser, Lawrence J. Flaherty all of San Francisco; W. I. Hollingsworth, and Mrs. D. C. Stephens, Los Angeles; A. H. Hewitt, Yuba City; A. J. Mathews, Susanville; George M. Francis, Napa; C. C. Young, Berkeley; Mrs. Charles C. Teague, Ventura; George R. Davis, Pasadena; Wylie M. Giffen, Fresno; and Edward Fletcher, San Diego.

STOCK SURVEY SHOWS NEED OF READJUSTMENT

(Issued By the State Livestock Sanitary Board.)

The livestock industry is passing through the long looked for readjustment period that everyone at all familiar with the industry knew must take place before the business would get back on a firm foundation. The surprising thing has been that things are as good as they are. No great amount of forced liquidation has taken place. The presidential election, which always brings about business stagnation, has passed and soon a new congress and a new president will be asked to pass what appears to be much needed legislation for the industry. Already it is reported that there is a letting up in the buying of certain foreign wools for import, the would be purchaser, fearing that he may get caught with his import product in the protection bars of the new tariff fence that this special session of congress may establish. Feed is plentiful and must remain cheap. In order to market the enormous hay crop of nearly every section of Oregon, much winter feeding must be resorted to and a brisk home market for much of our feeding stuff ought to be in evidence.

The desert section of Oregon, which has formerly been used as a winter range for many of our interior shepherds, but which owing to the high price of sheep during the war period, was not used because of certain winter hazards, is now being thrown into use for the cheap carrying over of many of our range flocks. The early fall rains have insured a rank growth of all desert grasses and a spring lamb crop far above the average ought to result from this year's carry over of all range breeding ewes. The spring market, which has been exceedingly poor for the past year should be materially helped by purchasers from Montana, Wyoming and the Rocky Mountain states that have experienced heavy winter losses during last year and a lamb crop of but 50 per cent of the normal.

Cattle seem to have reached the bottom and a slight climb in price might well be looked for. Were it not for our abundant hay crop the feeder and yearling end would be a source of some little concern, but as the feed situation is entirely satisfactory and much outside range is everywhere reported these unsold animals may well be put to the profitable task of garnering a feed crop that might otherwise go ungathered. Statistics show that Oregon cattle profits are made from the range running of cattle rather than from the feed lot. This year might show a much better spring balance than is now looked for. The Oregon cattle producer has materially improved the quality of his animals by the bringing in and use of pure blooded bulls on the range and with good feed, a high and desirable type of animal will be offered the range states feeders and shippers.

Department Asks Million to Fight Forest Fires, 1921

WASHINGTON, D. C. Dec. 14.—Legislation and an appropriation of $1,000,000 to enable the department of agriculture, through the forest service, to co-operate with the states in forest-fire protection and other forestry work in the next fiscal year has been asked for by Secretary Meredith in a supplemental estimate submitted to congress through the treasury department, with the approval of the president. This amount is needed, Secretary Meredith feels, in order to enter on a broad program for conserving the forest resources of the United States.

For some years the forest service has had $125,000 annually for co-operation with states to protect the watersheds of navigable streams against forest fires. If the new recommendations are adopted, the work will aim at the protection of forest lands generally with a view to insuring their reforestation.
