

Boy Scouts Will Plan Clubhouse, Tonight's Meeting

A meeting of more than ordinary importance will be held by the boy scouts of this city in the high school tonight, at 7 o'clock, and every boy scout in the local organization, and all other boys who are interested, are urged to be present.

Plans are being made to build a club house for the scouts, and Scoutmaster Paul T. O'Dowd is laying his plans to begin a busy building campaign.

Meetings will be held every Tuesday and Friday night.

Chief Still Steps Pretty Spry for One of His Age

Some of the law violators who have had experience with the celerity with which the head of the local police department moves in an emergency may doubt that the chief has piled up years enough to entitle him to the distinction conferred upon him yesterday, but it's a fact nevertheless—the chief can now claim the proud title of "grandpa." It's the first time that the chief has had occasion to do the grandfatherly role, but, recovering from his first elation, he steadied down to it today in good shape.

The cause of it all is an eight pound boy, born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Ketsdever at the Wilson home. Mrs. Ketsdever was Miss Ina Wilson before her marriage. This is the first grandchild in either the Wilson or Ketsdever family.

THE LIBERTY THEATRE

A clever and entertaining comedy with the brilliant Emmy Wehlen in the stellar role, will be shown at the Liberty theatre on Saturday.

"The Belle of the Season," with Miss Wehlen as the star, is a Metro production adapted to the screen by S. Rankin Drew from the original poem by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, and is the most becoming vehicle Miss Wehlen has had for her exceptional talents.

The story revolves around the character of Geraldine Keen, intimately called "Jerry" by her friends.
