UNDERWOOD'S

WED BY PROXY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Business detained Senor Don Manuel C. Teldez, secretary of the Mexican embassy here, on the day set for his marriage to Dona Emilia Benoit. Authorization was sent to Mexico City empowering his brother to appear at the altar for him, and under an old Mexican custom the knot was tied while bride and groom were 2400 miles apart. Two weeks later Senor Teldez met his bride in New York and they have arrived in Washington.

Local Young Folk Caught By Cupid

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Wood, corner of Washington and Tenth streets, was the scene of a quiet wedding yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, when Miss Lena M. Foster became the bride of John F. Hackett. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend C. F. Trimble, of the Christian church, in the presence of Miss Foster's mother, Mrs. Sarah Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Wood, and a few other intimate friends. Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom left for San Francisco, where they will visit for two weeks before returning to make their home here.

Mrs. Foster, with her daughter, came here from Junction City, Oregon, the latter being engaged to teach in the Mills school. During her short residence here, Mrs. Hackett has won many friends, especially among the teaching fraternity, who will take great pleasure in welcoming her back to her place in the Mills school at the termination of her wedding trip.

Tuesday afternoon, at the Mills school, teachers and members of the Parent-Teachers' association tendered a surprise linen shower to the bride-to-be, Mrs. Bertha Elzell and Mrs. Freida Bryant served tea, and the presentation of gifts to Miss Foster, both dainty and useful, featured a most enjoyable afternoon.

Don't put off mailing that package until Christmas eve.

Don't neglect to tie it properly. It is handled at least five times before it reaches its destination.

Don't forget to write your own return address on all parcel post matter.

Don't guess at the postage and give your friends the pleasure of paying "postage due."

Don't plaster Red Cross stamps on the face of packages or letters; take care not to "seal" parcel post packages with them. It raises the rate.

Don't forget that a little thoughtfulness on your part can help to make Christmas happier for Uncle Sam's men, his horses and his automobiles.

Do mail early, preferably before December 20th, writing on your package, "Not to be opened until Christmas."

Do your best to use the post offices in the forenoon, the earlier the better.

Do write legibly, both the address to which you are sending the gift and your return address.

Do be courteous and "Christmas-y" to the postoffice men who serve you. They are handling thousands of pieces of mail matter.

Do be brief at the counter. You keep someone else waiting if you are loaded like an express truck, with packages and foolish questions.

New Variety of Wheat Produced By Malin Farmer

A new variety of wheat, which is said to be about 14 per cent more wet gluten than the blue stem variety grown so generally here, has been produced by John Sprolek, a Malin farmer, as the result of an experiment with two wheat heads which he secured from outside this region.

The wheat known here as blue stem, according to local milling authorities, has become mixed with other varieties, and the real blue stem is seldom produced here. This, according to Mr. Sprolek, induced him to make the experiment. From a very small beginning, Mr. Sprolek increased his production of the same species of wheat, on wet tulle land, and this year he was rewarded with a yield of 35 bushels to the acre.

In addition to the greater quantity of wet gluten, contained in the wheat, the increased production per acre, as indicated by the yield this year, materially increased its value. More than that, it will mature earlier, thus supplying some protection against the disadvantages of late threshing, it having been learned this year particularly that the elements are quite likely to be unfavorable to the preservation of any grain not safely under cover.

WILL HAVE CHRISTMAS TREE FOR GUESTS

James Milne, resident manager of the White Pelican hotel, announces that he is planning upon decorating an elaborate Christmas tree in honor of his guests, a proceeding quite in keeping with the hotel's usual efforts to make everything pleasant for its patrons.
