At the Theaters

THE STAR THEATRE

It is to the movies, now, that Elsie Janis has taken her pep and personality, and after two years without even a glimpse of her, we get our chance to have her with us Thursday when she comes to the Star theatre in her first Selznick picture, "A Regular Girl."

Elizabeth Schuyler, a social butterfly, returns to New York after her canteen service abroad and is loathe to fall back into the idleness of former days. Her dad credits her irritability with her need for a rest, and he sends her to a sanitarium. Here, Miss Schuyler's nurse turns out to be the one with whom she worked in France. Elizabeth confides her plan to her, and is helped to run away and call in her overseas guise of "Lizzie" at a boarding house where many of her pals are stopping. She tells them she is with them once more, this time to help land them their old jobs. "Lizzie," with such struggling, finally gets her fiancé, a young attorney, to acquiesce to her scheme. Of course, he knows that the sooner the song and dance team are signed by a theatrical manager, and the prize-fighter is reinstated into the ring, and the inventor has his brain-child patented, "Lizzie" will have a few spare moments to marry him. Therefore everything culminates blissfully with all the pals attacking employment.

THE LIBERTY THEATRE

"White Lies," the photoplay from the novel of Charles Reade, which William Fox presents with Gladys Brockwell in the stellar role, shows tonight at the Liberty theatre.

A lie, told to save a human heart from breaking, is the theme upon which this masterful drama is built. Its action is rich in tense situations which culminate in a felicitous climax.

"The Kissing Girl is Here!" Maybelle Flowers, show girl at the Vanities, has a repertoire of what she terms floral kisses. If she are some of them! Oh! Yum! Yum!—The chaste lily-of-the-valley kiss, the scorching crimson rambler and the lingering, tantalizing honey-suckle twister!

Can you imagine what furor such an advertisement would cause? It started a whole train of exciting circumstances for Sylvia Figueroa of proud old Southern California aristocracy. They were proud—but oh, so poor! So Sylvia had become "Maybelle Flowers" of the "Vanities," and then the press agent put out that awful story. And Sylvia's lover read the story and believed it. It makes a most entertaining photoplay of "Food for Scandal," which will show at the Liberty theatre Thursday.

To ensure themselves against oversleeping the Chinese sometimes tie a long piece joss-stick to one of their thumbs, light it, and lie down to rest. When the stick burns down to the flesh the pain awakens them, and they quickly arise.
