WHITE PELICAN HOTEL
DECKED FOR CHRISTMAS

In accordance with the custom instituted last year the White Pelican hotel is holding a Christmas tree celebration in the lobby for their guests and friends. A wonderful tree reaching to the ceiling has been secured and the whole hotel force is busy this afternoon making the old fir gay with ornaments and electric globes.

A large shipment of wreaths have been received by Mr. Milne, manager of the hotel, and these are gracing every window and doorway arch. Another decorative feature is bouquet lights made of clusters of holly with tiny lights for berries. These are to be attached to some of the chandeliers while enormous red bells will hang from others.
