

CALENDARS BLOCKED
BY HOOZE CASES

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Federal courts of northern California have about 3000 cases of alleged violation of prohibition laws on their dockets, according to John L. Conside, federal prohibition enforcement agent.

The courts are about two years behind in their work, on account of the congestion of cases, Conside said recently. As a remedy he suggested that more federal judges be appointed to try liquor cases exclusively.

ROSS SUFFERED FOR TEN YEARS

HAD AWFUL DIZZY SPELLS AS RESULTS OF INDIGESTION. IS WELL MAN NOW.

"After suffering for ten years without finding anything that would do me any good, Tanlac has restored my health entirely and I have gained ten pounds in weight since taking it," said Charles F. Ross, of 1191 East Thirty-third street, North, Portland, Ore.

"For all these years my stomach has given me trouble, and often I was bothered with rheumatism in my joints. My appetite was very poor and my stomach was so easily upset that I had to be very careful about what I ate or I would be in misery for hours afterward. The rheumatism in my joints pained me so badly at times I could hardly stand it, and sometimes I had terrible fainting spells and would fall unconscious. I had no energy, felt tired and worn out all the time and when I began taking Tanlac was in a badly run-down, weakened condition.

"After taking the first bottle of Tanlac I began to feel stronger and better than I had in years, and as I continued taking it my improvement was so great that in a short while I was a well man. I now have a splendid appetite, eat anything I want and never have any trouble afterwards. I am entirely free of rheumatism and have not had one of those terrible fainting spells since I started taking Tanlac. I never have that tired, worn out feeling and am always ready for my work, which I can do without a particle of trouble. In fact, since taking Tanlac I feel just like a different person and it is a real pleasure for me to recommend it to others."

Tanlac is sold in Klamath Falls by Star Drug Co., in Lorella by James Merc. Co. and in Merrill by Southern Oregon Drug Co.—Adv.

Inside Staff
In building a column,
The part that's tough
Is writing the first
New lines of stuff;
It's easy when once
You're on the way.
So we'll make this do
For a start today.

Take it from us a girl with pretty eyes has no trouble in holding a man's attention—that is until a girl with pretty legs passes by.

Fred Mills says that even a man as tall as he sometimes finds himself short.

I know a lad
Whose parents had
His future doped out to a tee;
They thought they knew
When he was two
Exactly what their son would be

Five years or more
His mother wore
One hat, for his dear sake to save;
She didn't mind,
His father shined
His own shoes—went without a shave.

"Did he make good?"
We knew you would
Inquire, but we're compelled to say
We do not know;
'Twas long ago,
And 'bout that time we moved away.

Dear Ah-or-aw-fuss-cat:
As I understand that you still have several lines left, I am taking a chance and sending you these gems of poetry

Mary gat
A little hat.
Her hubby gat the bill.
And after that
He thought a hat
Was quite a useless frill.

Mary gat
A little cat.
She made it wear a bell.
And every night
That cat would fight
The racket sure was—swell.

Mary gat
A little fat
And thought that she'd reduce,
She went to work
Without a shirk
And now she wears 'em loose.

MAGICIAN'S GOODS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 3.—Requests for "one spirit hand plain," "one spirit hand clammy" and "one vanishing spectre" were on a list of needs seen here recently.

They were not seen, however, in connection with the spectral but were the opening items of a bill of goods ordered from a local man who has built a world-wide reputation, and a large factory, from manufactured goods for magicians and prestidigitators.

Dice that always fall one way, cards that change from spot to face, horns that blow themselves and un-winking eyes that gleam from empty darkness are a few of his simpler specialties.

STUDENTS MAKE PROGRESS, O.A.C.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Jan. 3.—Klamath county has five agricultural students in the college who have completed their first term's work of this school year. These students are: Earl W. Mack of Klamath Falls; and Robert R. Gordon of Fort Klamath, sophomores; Scott W. McKendree of Klamath Falls, freshman; Fred Gordon of Fort Klamath and Grant H. All of the Oregon counties are represented in the school of agriculture with the exception of Curry Harney and Jefferson. Benton county leads with an enrollment of 65, Multnomah second with 63. Twenty-six of the Oregon counties have 79 of the 154 federal rehabilitation men now enrolled for agricultural work in the college. Multnomah county has 15 of these rehabilitation men, Benton and Marion 8 each, Lane 6, Umatilla 4, Baker, Clackamas, Linn, Union, Douglas and Washington 3 each, Klamath, Polk, Morrow, Lincoln and Yamhill 2 each, Crook lake, Deschutes, Wallowa, Columbia, Hood River, Coos, Wasco, Malheur and Jackson 1 each.

In addition to the federal rehabilitation men, the state has 11 industrial rehabilitation men enrolled at the college for special training in agriculture. The act under which these men are sent here to school was passed by the special session of the state legislature in 1920. The act itself is an extension of the original workmen's compensation law enacted in 1913.

CALIFORNIA NEWS

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 3.—Stanford university, confronted by financial difficulties which have caused older institutions with larger and wealthier alumni bodies to carry on campaigns for additional funds, has been forced, in default of these means of increasing its resources, to announce an increase of the tuition fee at the university from $40 to $75 a quarter. This increase becomes effective at the beginning of the next academic year in October, but will not apply to any students registered before that time.

LANCASTER, Cal., Jan. 3.—T. W. Edwards, realty operator, celebrated his 74th anniversary of his birth here by kicking a hat off the head of a man six feet, two inches tall, without losing his balance.

"When I am 100 years old," remarked Mr. Edwards, "I shall take on a much taller man."

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Once again the nickle is coming into its own.

Following the drop in the price of a cup of coffee from 16 to 5 cents in many of the city's eating establishments, comes the announcement of a big restaurant in the city that pie would be 5 cents per cut. The same house only a few days ago was charging 20 cents for "coffee and."

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Seven of the 12 men holding the distinction of being the first group of students to complete college education at the University of California are still living. It was learned following the completion of a census of alumni. All are members of the class of 1873.

TELEPHONE RATES AND THE DECLINE IN PRICES

The Telephone Company has asked its patrons in Oregon to pay more for their telephone service. It has placed the facts and figures of the situation before the Public Service Commission for their investigation and verification. The increase will not amount to much to individual subscribers, but the aggregate will permit the Company to properly maintain and develop its service.

We have shown the Commission that we are operating at a loss. Our expenses are greater than our earnings. The owners of the property are receiving nothing from their Oregon investment and the interest due on debts which should properly be borne by the Oregon properties are not being paid from Oregon receipts.

At the hearing before the Public Service Commission not a fact or figure presented by the Company was disputed or disproved. The only material contention made was that increases were perhaps inopportune in view of the apparent decline in general commodity prices.

The Company is asking for a reasonable return upon its existing investment, without regard to the uncertainties of the future. The Company files periodical reports of its operations with public authorities and its future investments will be the subject of constant consideration and future adjustments, if necessary.

Salaries and wages make up 72% of our current expenses. We hope they will not be reduced and do not think they should be.

In the five years 1916-1920 inclusive, we have increased the wages of our plant people $307,000.00. Our traffic (operating) employees $681,000.00, commercial employees, $98,000.00, a total of $1,086,000.00 per annum.

Efficient and contented employees mean good service. It is their due and our desire that their compensation be equal to that paid in other lines of business activity.

Adequate service is dependent upon adequate rates.

Farmers' Inventory Advocated By the Agricultural Dept.

With another season of farm work drawing to a close, the United States department of agriculture is urging that an annual property list or inventory be made by every farmer. It is the only means, department specialists say, whereby farmers may know accurately their net financial worth, what progress they are making from year to year, and how their investment in farm property is being distributed. Property lists, or inventories, made in accordance with a plan outlined in the office of farm management, United States department of agriculture, are not difficult to make and are of great value to any farmer who is striving to better his conditions overcome obstacles to success, and place his business affairs on a secure foundation. To drift along year after year, not knowing whether toward success or failure, is not the practice of business men. Specialists of the department are prepared to give complete directions for making a farm inventory that will put the farm on a business basis.
