

Rub Backache Away

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or may be from a strain, and you'll get blessed relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on and out comes the pain. It is perfectly harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin. Lumber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had head-ache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.—Adv.

Stored Foods

At certain seasons of the year, nature mothers us in generous lavishness; at other seasons she treats us as outcasts.

One great service rendered by Swift & Company to the consumer is in taking some of the surplus of nature's plenty and storing it against the season of non-production. This is a service based upon sound common sense and meets a definite economic need.

This enables you to obtain all the year round some foods which otherwise would be so abundant in certain months that the entire supply could not be used, and so scarce at other times that prices would be prohibitive.

Swift & Company has equipped its plants and branch houses with refrigerating plants, and has a sufficient number of refrigerator cars to carry a supply of meat foods to its customers. Space in public cold storage warehouses also is used by us to carry perishables until they are needed.

We store only enough meat, butter, poultry, eggs, and cheese to supply our customers during the period of scarcity and not to speculate on rising prices. Our storage profits during the last eight years have averaged about one cent a dozen on eggs, and less than a cent a pound on butter and poultry.

Storage of food is a world necessity and we regard our part in this as an important factor in our service in supplying the nation with wholesome food.

The Office Cat

A Psalm of Life from the Cradle to the Grave.

Carried;
Married;
Harried;
Buried.

The average man's idea of home is a nice big easy chair, where he can sit with his feet on the library table and smoke, while his wife keeps an eye on the furnace and the kid carries out the ashes.

A rhythmic bombardment exchanged between Doc. Goddard and one of the deputies in the assessor's office has ended bloodlessly. The metric barrage was all-enveloping while it lasted. Ask Maurice or the Doc.

Bob's Mistake.

A prosperous farmer has gained the reputation of being the stingiest man in town and consequently is not a general favorite with his neighbors.

He owns an old horse, which, to put it mildly, is very thin. As if to make up for lack of flesh on its body, however, the animal has a head many sizes too large. The other week he went to the expense of a new collar for the animal. A few minutes after the delivery he was back at the Oregon Harness company's place of business with the collar.

"Don't you know nothin'?" he blurted out. "You've made it too small. I can't get it over his head." "Over his head?" exploded Bob Ryan. "Man alive, it wasn't made to go over his head. Back him into it."

Danger! Beware!

A woman who was too economical to subscribe for her home paper sent her little son to borrow the copy taken by her neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a four dollar stand of bees and in ten minutes looked like a warty summer squash. His cries reached his father, who ran to his assistance and failing to see a barbed wire fence, ran into it, breaking it down, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy and ruining a five dollar pair of pants. The old cow took the advantage of the gap in the fence and got into the cornfield and killed herself eating corn. Hearing the racket, the mother ran, upset a four gallon churn of rich cream into a basket of kittens drowning the whole litter. In her hurry she dropped and broke past all hope of mending, a twenty-five dollar set of false teeth. The baby, left alone, crawled through the spilled cream and into the parlor, ruining a twenty dollar carpet. During the excitement the eldest daughter ran away with the hired man, the dog broke up eleven setting hens, and the calves got out and chewed the tails off four fine shirts.

And all to save fifty cents.

How About It?

The less you think about what you did yesterday, the more time you'll have to plan what you ought to do tomorrow.

Not Wanted.

Miss Fortyodd woke in the middle of the night to find a burglar ransacking her effects. Miss Fortyodd did not scream, for she prided herself among other things upon her courage.

Pointing to the door with a dramatic gesture she exclaimed, "Leave me at once."

The burglar politely retreated a step and said: "I had no intention of taking you."

GREAT MEXICAN ESTATE MAY GO UPO NMARKET

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 6.—Inspection of the great Terrazas estate in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, has been made by T. F. Doyle, of Phoenix, member of a cattle company, who said he had been asked, to look over the property by representatives of New York capitalists who had an option to purchase. A report on the development of water, Doyle said, will be made by a Los Angeles firm.

The Terrazas ranch, long the domain of General Luis Terrazas and his family, comprises 5,700,000 acres and is the largest stock ranch in the world, Doyle said. He added that the purchase price named is $12,825,000.

Before the revolution's tides swept over the Chihuahua, the ranch was well kept, Doyle said. It contained 20 haciendas, each a district headquarters with a population of 1000 or more.

When the ranch was at its best, according to Doyle, it supported 400,000 head of cattle, 250,000 horses, but he said there were comparatively few there now. He added that whereas the state of Chihuahua once held 5,000,000 cattle, there were now not more than 1000 with the exception of the stock on the Palomas ranch near the border and the Corralitos and Santo Domingo ranches.

"The condition of poor Mexicans in the towns and at the haciendas is pitiful," he continued. "They are ill clad, half starved and uncared for. Governor Enriquez of Chihuahua is offering all possible encouragement to American investors."

The Terrazas ranch Doyle described as comprising more of the country between Juarez, on the American border, and Chihuahua City, and south of the Chihuahua capital. Doyle said it was the plan of the American capitalists, if they exercised their option, to construct irrigation works, subdivide the most fertile land and invite settlement. The rest of the ranch would be re-stocked, he said.

ONE PLACE WHERE OLD DOBBIN HAD INNING

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—Horses came back into their own and replaced the automobile for a brief time here recently when a team of twenty heavy draft animals plodded up Market street drawing a fifty-ton door to a safety deposit vault being constructed in a new bank building here.

Police said the load was one of the heaviest ever handled through San Francisco's streets. The door was 32 feet wide and rested on a truck built especially for the haul.
