COPCO DAM WILL BE RAISED AND PLANT ENLARGED

Construction Job That will Employ 150 Men for Year Under Way

A crew of about thirty men is on the ground, establishing camp and making repairs to the branch railway, preparatory to construction work at Copco, which contemplates the installation of an additional generating unit in the power plant and the raising of the Copco dam 14 feet.

The work, according to John Boyle, division manager of the California-Oregon Power company here, will mean, as soon as weather permits operations at full capacity, the employment of a construction crew that will average 150 men for the remainder of the year.

The job is not undertaken because of additional demand for power from the Copco plant at this time, said Boyle, but in order to get the additional unit, which has been on the ground since the plant was built, installed for emergency use, in case the present equipment should be temporarily impaired.

Installation of the machinery means the repair of the thirteen-mile spur to Thrall, once part of the old Klamath Lake branch, which has been out of use since the Copco plant was constructed, and the collection of men and supplies, so the company decided that the work of increasing the dam's height could be done more economically while the installation was under way than as a separate job later.

All usable equipment left over from the Link river dam job has been shipped to Copco and supplies are accumulating for the new work.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Jan. 16.—The Allied Debt Funding bill was approved today by the Senate Finance committee, after most of the provisions objected to by Secretary Mellon had been eliminated.

Chairman McCumber said it was proposed to press the bill for passage without waiting for an adjournment of the Arms conference. Except for a provision that the re-fundings be accepted from the foreign governments, shall mature not later than June 15, 1947, the measure is virtually in the form in which it passed the house last October.

No soldier bonus provision was added to the bill and that phase was not discussed.

Young Bride of Leslie Lewis is Victim of Diphtheria

DORRIS, Calif., Jan. 16.—Mrs. Evelyn Lewis, age 16, died at her home here at 9 o'clock Saturday evening with diphtheria, following an illness of only a few days. It was not until a few hours prior to death that Dr. A. A. Atkinson saw the necessity of extreme emergency action, but the disease developed so rapidly that all efforts were in vain.

Mrs. Lewis was the five months bride of Leslie Lewis, who for the past year has been employed as express clerk at the local Southern Pacific depot. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Henning, were summoned from their home at Ager late Saturday evening, and arrived Sunday morning. Interment will be made in the local cemetery.

CENTRAL SALES ORGANIZATION PLAN OF MILLS

California-Oregon Lumbermen's Club May Enter Into Contract

An organization for the purpose of financing lumbermen and providing an outlet for the lumber cut of a large number of the mills of this district probably will be established here shortly.

Plans for operation were tentatively entered into by the California-Oregon Lumbermen's club at its meeting at the White Pelican hotel Saturday night, when the proposition was placed before the members by E. D. Rowley, president of the Pacific Forest Products company, of Portland; H. H. Harriman, president of the Lumbermen's Warehouse & Storage company, of Portland, and Mr. Weirheim, vice president of the Commercial Credit company, of Baltimore, Maryland.

The plan involves the establishment of a selling agency here by the Forest Products company, and the financing by the credit company, or other similar organizations or banks, of the warehouse receipts issued by the Lumbermen's Warehouse & Storage company against the lumber, in pile, the paper to be redeemed when the selling agency disposes of the lumber.

It is believed that the plan will overcome the difficulties now standing in the path of the smaller mills of this district, and that it will aid materially in increasing the lumber output of this region.

The California-Oregon Lumbermen's club is composed of owners of 24 sawmills, a large number of whom attended the meeting Saturday. All present agreed that the outlook is favorable for a good demand at fair prices.

Since examinations and registration are now out of the way the pupils of the high school have turned their attention to school and class organizations, by electing new officers to take the places of those who have left school. Following closely upon the student election was an important senior class meeting held for the purpose of naming officers to fill a vacancy made when Rolland Watt, president of the class, was obliged to move to San Francisco. Chester Shriver, vice-president became president and Frank Peyton was elected vice-president. Frances Humphrey is senior class secretary.

The juniors also held an election. James Manning was made president to take the place of Robert Millam, resigned intending to graduate this term, and Albert Moorland was elected vice-president to take the place of Ted Montgomery who has left school.

CONTROL PLAN IS ADOPTED IN WAR ON BEETLE

Directors of Three Areas Will Form Board to Supervise Work

The control plan adopted for the war to be waged this season against the pine beetle, as the result of the passage by congress of the $150,000 appropriation, today was announced by J. F. Kimball, who has been one of the leaders in the fight to obtain the appropriation and in organization of the control work.

Under the plan adopted control work on Area No. 1, including all lands under the project west of Upper Lake, will be under the direction of J. F. Kimball.

Area No. 2, lands on the Klamath Indian reservation and south to the untimbered valleys, will be under the jurisdiction of the Indian Service and direction of F. P. Ken, of the Bureau of Entomology, who is expected here from California the latter part of this week.

Area No. 3, including the Bly district and south into Modoc county west of Goose Lake Valley, will be under the jurisdiction of the Forest Service and the direction of Forest Supervisor W. G. Durbin, who will arrive here some time this month.

The three area directors will constitute a board of control which will manage the entire project. The technical features of the work will be under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Entomology while the administrative features will be entirely in the hands of the board of control. This arrangement gives the Indian Service, the Forest Service and the private owners representation on the board, and the Bureau of Entomology direction of the control plan evolved in the survey of last summer.

In connection with the control work, the Klamath Forest Protective association will be formed as successor of the Klamath-Lake Counties Forest Fire association, the present organization, and will be incorporated in order to give it legal status in dealing with the government. Under this association also will come forest fire control work. The new association will meet on February 2, when directors will be elected.

At a meeting today of the present association, the resignation of C. L. Gilham, formerly president and for several years vice-president, was accepted and C. H. Daggert, of the Ewauna Box company, elected to fill the vacancy.

In discussing the control plan, Kimball said many were under the mistaken impression that the work will start at once. First, he said, will come a school for training skilled workers—cutters, spotters and others—who will be necessary to carry on the work over the tremendous area involved. This school will be instituted here under the direction of the Bureau of Entomology. In addition to this force of trained men, between 200 and 300 workers will be required for felling, burning and similar work. Actual work will not start before March 20 at the earliest. The appropriation money is actually available for use at the present time, Kimball said.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES

The Cyclo-Stormograph at Underwood's Pharmacy shows that the barometric pressure has been falling since 3 p. m. Sunday afternoon and since 9 o'clock this morning the fall has been quite rapid.
