Home-baked cakes and currant jelly and fried chicken. It was a surprise for the minister, but the "surprises" were the most surprised. They might as well have left the chicken at home, they found. The minister already had one—and she wore tights! "Pink Tights," which shows at the Liberty tonight, is the story of a beautiful circus queen, played by the charming Gladys Walton, whose parachute lands her on the roof of the minister's house in a little New England village. The effect on the stupefied pastor and on the scandalized villagers may be imagined. There are complications, too, when the manager of the circus learns that his sweetheart is in the minister's bedroom. Jack Perrin has the role of the minister, and Dave Dyas—newcomer to motion pictures—is the circus manager. Stanton Heck is seen as a husky villain, and Ross Gore, Dan Crimmins and Dorothea Wolbert are amusing village types. Two spirited boys of the kind called "naughty" but really only mischievous, are played by Martin Neillan and Reeves Eason, Jr. The latter is the son of Reeves Eason, who directed the picture, and who was fortunate in being able to secure the finest circus atmosphere shown on the screen for some time.

Every feature of the canvas exhibition, from its dressing tent to the sideshow and from its menagerie to the balloon ascension, has been reproduced for "Pink Tights" with marvelous fidelity. Nearly 8,000 people figure in one of the scenes, watching the ascent of the mammoth gas bag. The story is by J. U. Giesy and Philip Hurn made the screen adaptation.

"The Brute Master," a Hodkinson release, presented by J. Parker Reed, Jr., will be screened at the Liberty Sunday.

MONDALE

"God's Man," the super-photoplay production, which has been heralded wherever shown with a superlative degree of praise, is truly a wonderful picture presentation. Presenting a vivid story of New York's Broadway and night life. For those who crave the thrills there is the scenes of the race course, the stirring scenes of the Crusaders, the wreck of the tramp clipper on the rocks in which Jack Sherrill was nearly drowned and the heroic struggle of the hero to reach the vessel; while for those who crave the lesson there is told a story which has never been rivaled for its potent teaching. H. B. Warner, favorite of both stage and screen, is the star of the production, and in his support is a

WOMEN DISCUSS PARTI N C. OF C. PROGRAM

Twelve women members of the Klamath county chamber of commerce met yesterday afternoon to discuss the part the women of the club will take in chamber of commerce work during the year. Plans were made to serve refreshments at the formal opening of the chamber of commerce rooms Tuesday night, January 25, and the women, according to the plans, will take general charge of the big crowd which is expected to attend.

COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL CORNER

EDITED BY HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

HI SCHOOL STUDENTS STRUGGLING WITH EXAMS.

On account of mid-year exams, school news is scarce this week. Nothing of interest has been heard in the high school halls. During the week frequent conversations could be overheard among groups of students in far corners, their queries of each other following these general lines: "What is a metaphor?" "Tell me something about Walt Whitman?" "Conjugate 'amo' in the subjunctive mood?" "Say can you do cube root and what is the theme of Julius Caesar?"

Dancing and skating seem to have been substantially forgotten during the past week, crowded out by weightier matters.

EXAMS. ONE WEEK OFF

'Tis in the month of January
Exams. are one week off
We students have no time for fun
The teachers are all cross.

The skating's fine upon the lake,
The hills are white with snow,
And every thing's inviting us
To take our hate and go.

Yet we must not be tempted,
But study with might and main,
And spend no time in idleness,
For credits we must gain.

MANUAL TRAINING DEPT.

The manual training department is especially for the boys, but there are some things in it which the girls are interested, such as working in copper. Out of this, a great many things can be made, such as lamp shades, candleholders, plates and baskets.

The boys seem to be most interested in the bench and lathe work, both of which are very practical and of use.

In bench work the boys are taught to use all the different kinds of tools and how to make the most useful joints. They are allowed to make whatever they are interested in or whatever they need at home.

In lathe work, the boys learn to make powder boxes, nut bowls, ash trays and many other useful things for the home. They learn to use the lathe and lathe tools in such a way that they could operate one of their own if the necessity arose.

In this department Mr. Beauchamp is a very capable instructor and makes the work very interesting for his students.

HI JINKS

Friday evening, January 21, the Girls' Student league of the high school held its annual Hi Jinks at the I. O. O. F. hall. Several stunts, including two funny-paper stunts, were staged by various groups of girls. The entertainment committee awarded prizes for the prettiest, the ugliest, the funniest, the most poverty-stricken.

cult. At the Portland Automobile show this week interest of the crowds has centered upon a mud splattered but new 1921 Buick coupe in the exhibit of the Howard Automobile company. This is the "hero" car that had added the most sensational chapter to the history of the automobile in this section.

Twenty-nine hours and sixteen minutes—forty-four minutes under the time made by the Southern Pacific's crack train, the Shasta Limited—that is the amazing achievement of this Buick coupe in covering the 751 miles between San Francisco and Portland, with Claude A. McGee and Roy E. Skinner as the daring pilots, who, without rest, fought snow, mud, north at 5:01, thirty-nine minutes having been consumed in crossing the bay and awaiting place at the end of the line of leave the boat. Deducting this "idle" time, the actual elapsed time from Sausalito to the Howard Automobile company's salesrooms at Twelfth and Alder streets in Portland was 28 hours 37 minutes.

The latest record set by the Buick cuts more than ten hours off the mark made in 1914, when McGee, driving a Buick touring car, covered the distance in 39 hours 25 minutes. Making the new mark even the more amazing is the fact that it was made with an enclosed car, the first time that such a daring run ever has been attempted with this type of car.
