Melody Maids Are Classy Entertainers

Six vivacious, capable maids, rightly named the "melody maids," held the rapt attention of several full houses in the Mondale theatre yesterday afternoon and evening. Each of the six girls is a star—they are all musicians—the flute, violin, clarinet and piano being played with equal facility. Each is a clever dancer, also. The girls have good voices, too, one of them being away above the average. The pictures shown were up to their usual standard.

These entertainers will be here all this week, and will present something new every day. Coming directly from the big circuits, they have a decidedly new line of stunts, and as it would take more than a week to exhaust their supply, there is sure to be something surprisingly new every night.

Archdeacon's Lectures Start This Evening

Everybody is invited to attend the lectures to be given on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, in the Odd Fellows' hall, by Dr. Van Waters, archdeacon of the Episcopal diocese of Eastern Oregon. Dr. Van Waters has struck a popular chord in his lectures, which are of a type to appeal to the intelligence of people of all creeds. These lectures will begin at 8 o'clock every evening, and will last one hour, except on Wednesday evening, when the lecture will begin at 7:30 and will end at 8:30. At 8:45 Wednesday evening, there will be a general meeting of Episcopalians to perfect the arrangements to continue the service, regularly.

Yesterday's morning service brought out the largest attendance that has been held here. Miss Verda Cozad, at the morning service, and Arthur Bean, at the evening service, sang solos which were excellently rendered. C. W. Eberlein has been highly commented for his success with the choir.

THE STAR

It happened in one of the beautiful little islands of the South Sea group. The human population of the island reached a total of one by the last census—a young doctor who had come there months before to pursue scientific research. Also to forget.

He had many things to forget—misplaced love, deception, failure in one of the crisis of life, and the scorn of the fellow-members of his profession. And a lonely island, devoid of human companionship, is not the easiest of places in which to forget the past.

Came a day when the fury-filled elements lashed the sea into a full-blown tempest. And there was washed upon the beach, from a wrecked ship, the one person in the world hated by the young islander—the beautiful woman who had been the cause of all his misfortunes.

That's the situation in "Marooned Hearts," the new National Picture starring Conway Tearle, which will be shown at the Star Theatre Tuesday.

See it, and enjoy one of the most powerful plays ever presented on the screen.

Maps of Disputed Ft. Klamath Route Sent County Court

The chamber of commerce has been notified by the state highway commission engineer that maps and data of the proposed detour of the Dalles-California highway in the vicinity of Fort Klamath have been sent the Klamath county court and arrangements will be made for their display by the court to all interested persons.

The routing of the road, which leaves Fort Klamath a mile and a half off the highway and eliminates some very beautiful scenery, has been protested by a number of interested citizens and the highway commission has promised a full hearing before the route is definitely adopted.

A SPLENDID POLICY.

If you were offered a life insurance policy that did not absorb any part of your premium, in a company that was safe and sound, it is not likely that you would refuse it. In fact the agent offering such a policy would be swamped with business. Well, that is practically what W. A. Bullock, of this city is doing. He is selling a policy in the Occidental Life Insurance Co. of Los Angeles, Calif., that does this very thing. Here is how it is done:

He will write you a policy on the 20 year endowment plan guaranteeing you that in the event of death to return all deposits made by you in addition to the full face of your policy.

Should you become totally disabled from sickness or accident, the company have made special provision whereby you will have no further payments to make and will pay $19 per month on each thousand dollars of insurance you carry which is not deducted from your policy at death. Besides, your policy matures the same as though you had made the payments yourself.

This is one of the best policies ever offered by any legal reserve company and has other special features just as remarkable as those outlined above. Before you buy that insurance you are thinking about, if you will call Mr. Bullock, 43-W or drop a card to 1405 Oregon Ave. He will be mighty glad to tell you all about it.—Adv.
