Motorist Describes Drive to Portland

Although one can drive a car from Klamath Falls to Portland in the dead of winter, it is not a trip that possesses an appeal that makes you want to do it twice, writes T. A. Hinote, a guest at the Central hotel for several weeks, who drove from here to Portland about ten days ago. In a letter to Guy Garrett, manager of the Central, he describes the trip.

CASING FOR KLAMATH OIL COMPANY'S WELL IS HERE.

Fifteen hundred feet of casing for the Klamath Oil company well on the Manning ranch has arrived here, and it will be installed in the well as soon as possible. Drilling operations at this well have been suspended pending the arrival of the casing, a depth of 1592 feet having been reached. Neel Campbell, manager of the Klamath Oil company believes that the strong gas pressure at the well is evidence that the arrival of a gusher is imminent, and interest in developments at the well has been revived with the arrival of the casing.

HOME RULE IS SOUGHT BY THE WEST AFRICANS

LONDON, Jan. 10.—(By Mail).—West Africa is the latest country to seek home rule. A mission, representative of educated opinion in British West Africa, has arrived here to urge upon the Colonial Office a number of reforms in the internal administration of the four West African colonies and protectorates, Sierra Leone, the Gold Coast, Nigeria and the Gambia, says the London Times.

The mission has been sent to this country by the National Congress of British West Africa, and seeks in the first place the creation of a legislative council which will be composed one-half of members chosen by the crown and one-half of members elected by the people, and for a house of assembly which would have complete control of the revenue and expenditure.

As to local government, the mission urges that municipal corporations should be established in each of the principal towns of the colonies.

The judicial system of British West Africa, in particular Nigeria, is criticized by the mission which states that at present "it is the practice to appoint to judicial offices Europeans who have not received any legal training and who are not competent to exercise judicial functions."

Among other suggested reforms they seek: The establishment of a West African University; the removal of the color bar in the West African medical service and the introduction of immigration laws to prevent the influx of undesirable aliens to British West Africa.

Blame Women For Military Failure

LONDON, Jan. 13.—(By Mail).—The wives of prominent Bulgarian politicians and generals are being called to account by the Bulgarian government whenever it is proved that their influence over their husbands has caused a political or military disaster to the nation.

The wives of several public men and generals have already been made responsible by the Bulgarian government for the disastrous results of the war owing to the influence they exerted over their husbands, says the newspaper Atré, published in Sofia. It is believed in Sofia that the sentiments of a number of Bulgarian women caused a movement for a greater Bulgaria, which influenced Bulgaria to enter the war on the side of the Central Powers.

OLD REGIME IS DONE, GERMANY

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9.—Catherine M. Cox, who has just returned from a year's relief work for the American Friends Service Committee (Quakers), says that while she was in Berlin a German school teacher took from the walls of the school portraits of the former Emperor William, Crown Prince Frederick and Field Marshal Von Hindenburg and burned them in the stove.

The action was the result of a suggestion by Harold Evans, of this city, also a relief worker who, in delivering an address in the school, reminded the instructor that the imperial portraits were reminiscent of the old Prussian order and antagonistic to the democratic spirit of modern Germany. A few days later one of the women councillors informed the relief workers that the portraits had been burned.

Miss Cox said that more than 600,000 under-nourished German children were receiving one hot meal a day from the American Friends Committee and the Quakers plan to increase this number to 1,000,000 a day during the winter. The Prussian children are most grateful, she added.

"Whenever we give them chocolate pudding, which is their favorite dish, they give three cheers for America," she said.

As an example of their appreciation, she told of an incident of a German school teacher who was trying to instill in her scholars love and reverence for their parents.

"Who is it feeds and clothes you?" the teacher asked, expecting the parents to receive the credit.

"The Quakers," came the shout from 50 childish throats.

Poet Laureate Not Speedy Enough to Suit British M. P.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—(By Mail).—Robert Bridges, poet laureate of the British empire, is to remain in that office, despite a suggestion that he be removed. His fitness to do so was questioned the other day in the house of commons by Horatio Bottomley, who asked the Premier if Britain's national bard had written any poetry on the war, on the declaration of peace or on the unveiling of the cenotaph, and if not, "would the prime minister consider appointing a national poet whose muse was more attuned to the soul of the British nation."

Premier Lloyd George replied that "so far as he was aware, the poet laureate had written nothing about the events mentioned, but Mr. Bridges had written many poems during the war, and it was not considered necessary to make any change.

A wag in the house raised loud laughter by solemnly suggesting that Mr. Bottomley himself should take over the job.

When another member suggested that Rudyard Kipling should be offered the post, there was a chorus of "No!"

Mr. Bridges was appointed Laureate by former Premier Asquith, his friend and admirer, in 1913.

Truck Breaks Speed Record Down Grade Ditches Jno. McCall

John McCall, assistant postmaster, is "all stove up" as the result of a runaway with an auto truck Sunday. None of his injuries are serious however and he is on the job as usual. John wanted a load of sawdust to line his garage walls and Sunday—the better the day, etc.—he got a truck and hauled up a load. Three others were on the truck with Frank Wrist driving. At the top of Third street, on the return trip, something went wrong with the machine and the party started on an involuntary coasting trip. It was a fast ride while it lasted. They made a record for the five or six blocks. At the bottom, coming into Klamath avenue, the driver made the turn alright but John was a victim of centrifugal motion or maybe he cannily leaped fearing the truck would capsize, but anyway he landed in the street receiving a number of bruises that still leave him stiff and sore, although escaping serious hurt. The truck with the other occupants made the turn safely.

SALEM.—Extension of jury service to women in Oregon as proposed in a bill introduced by Representative Mrs. W. S. Kinney, the only woman member of the Oregon legislature, was defeated in the house by a vote of 34 to 22.

PLOTTERS LIST MEN WHOM THEY PLAN TO KILL

BERLIN, Jan. 13.—(By Mail).—German radical disciples of what is called "Red Russian terrorism," who say they are planning to overturn the present German government and establish a proletarian dictatorship, openly announce that they have drawn up lists of "capitalists and undesirables" who shall be killed when the revolution begins.

One of these men, a hotel waiter, who calls himself a "precinct leader," complained the other day that his list included "nearly everybody around here" who has influence, property or money. He said, a "superior" came to him one day and read a list of names, and announced these were to be the "precinct leaders" quota when the killing began.

The waiter declared he acknowledged "orders" but thought the program was being carried too far.

"As leader in this precinct I am expected to kill a lot of folks when the revolution gets underway," he said. "My list is certainly big enough. What do you think about that?"

Apparently his opinion of his orders was very low, but when asked if he would carry them out if opportunity offered he merely laughed.

Radicals of the most pronounced tendencies toward revolution and destruction may be encountered everywhere. They appear quite proud of the fact that Germany today is "a land of the freest speech on earth," and sometimes ask what would happen to men who preached their doctrine in the United States. Frequently they are students, carrying along with their textbooks all sorts of radical literature. They discuss their "plans" with great liberty. One of them, a small, mild-mannered person, of distinctly Slavic type, said it would be necessary to kill many people during the next revolution in order to impress upon the bourgeoisie that they "meant business."

"There will be piles of dead in the streets," he declared. "We'll just have to do it. We can't treat these bourgeois kindly, for they wouldn't appreciate it. We'll have to impress them with our earnestness. We will line them up by the score against buildings on the main streets and shoot them. We will want all to see what we're doing. That will throw a wholesome terror into the hearts of the reactionaries. Of course, I will do my share and if necessary will give my life to the cause."

Police authorities apparently are not much concerned about the "red terrorism," for their policy is to permit the radicals to have their say, and go their way in peace. Arrests are very infrequent.

MEDFORD.—Hugh Rankin, supervisor of the Crater Lake national forest, has just purchased the H. J. Doubleday home on Genesee street, and will move in with his family at once.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.—Adv.

Refugee Priest to Return to Russia

LONDON, Jan. 1. (By Mail).—Pastor William Fetter, formerly head of the Baptist Church at Petrograd who fled to America in 1915, after having been exiled to Siberia by order of the Russian emperor, is going back to try to evangelize Russia. He is taking a band of about 25 Russians who are to travel with him as evangelists.

The band is well-equipped and is taking a large quantity of clothing, a nurse, an American musical director and an expert translator.

The evangelists have had three years training in theology and all are expert musicians. "We shall teach the Bolsheviks to sing 'The Glory Song'" said the musical director.

Famine Threatens Arabian Shepherds

ALGIERS, Jan. 1. (By Mail).—"The drinkers of sunshine," as the Arab shepherds call themselves in their own language are on the verge of starvation throughout Algeria and unless wheat is imported from America may have nothing but sunshine as a steady diet during the winter. The threatening famine in Algeria is the result of a long drought. No rain has fallen for a year.

This has proved a calamity for the Arab shepherds, nomads living practically by their flocks. Seventy-five percent of the sheep in Algeria have died as a result of the drought and the Arab 'Drinkers of Sunshine,' dreamers and philosophers, incapable of any work but that of guarding their flocks are in dire straits.

Governor General Abel of Algeria, has left for Paris to ask the government to arrange for the importation of wheat from America or Argentina to tide the people over the crisis.
