

EXPLORER'S SHIP ALMOST READY TO GO

EAST BOOTHBAY, Me., Feb. 14.—Work is almost completed on the hull of the Bowdoin in which Dr. Donald B. MacMillan, explorer, will make his next dash into the Arctic regions. The launching of the schooner will take place in the early spring and the vessel will be in shape to depart from this port by May 1.

Dr. MacMillan is perfecting plans for an expedition, to begin next summer, which will include an attempt to circumnavigate Baffin Land and penetrate its western coast. 1,000 miles in length, said to be the longest stretch of unknown coast line in the world. He is a frequent visitor here and keeps careful watch over the construction of his ship.

The Bowdoin, which is being built on the sturdy lines needed in an exploration vessel to withstand the ice grind, is of the knockabout fishing schooner type. It will be 88 feet in length, over all, 20 feet wide and equipped with 45 horse-power oil burning engines. Three inch oak plank material is being used for the hull.

Before his departure for the far north Dr. MacMillan will make an exhibition cruise along the coast during May and June. About July 1, with a party of six men, the explorer will sail from Boston for the polar regions.

Under favorable weather conditions The Bowdoin should reach Fury and Hecla Strait early in September. There the ship will be frozen in.

Leaving their vessel under a lone guard the party will push forward on a 200 miles trip on sleds drawn by dogs. Five eskimo dog drivers will accompany the MacMillan outfit across the rugged, ice bound country which abounds in perils. Establishing of a camp 700 miles south of Etah in the northwestern part of Greenland, is one of the main objectives.

Within the last 12 years, Dr. MacMillan has made six trips into the land of the midnight sun. Most famous of these was his expedition by which he disproved the theory that a Croker Land existed in the extreme north. At that time he discovered nine new islands.

On his visits here, Dr. MacMillan chats freely about his plans and several hardy mariners have begged to be allowed to accompany him. The townspeople are preparing to present a flag, to fly from the fore peak of the Bowdoin.

DAIL EIREANN IS DOMINANT

DUBLIN, Jan. 18.—(By Mail)—The Dail Eireann, the Sinn Fein parliament in the minds of an overwhelming majority of the Irish people, continues as the dominant—the only legitimate authority in Ireland. It is treated as an authoritative body. None of the municipal or county bodies which pledged allegiance to it have withdrawn from that position.

The Dail Eireann's instructions are obeyed by these subsidiary bodies and all dealings with the Irish local government board, which represents the British government, are barred. For this reason the board is unable to make its customary audit of county and city accounts. The result is increasing difficulty in every district.

"Rate," or tax collectors are faced with two sets of instructions—one from British government representatives, or the local government board, the other from local Sinn Fein authority. A king's bench decree, designed to compel these collectors to obey the law, has been unavailing. Obedience of crown instructions, in many cases, would doubtless bring severe punishment, if not death, to the collector.

Tax collecting, needless to say is not brisk. The balances in local treasuries are proving insufficient to enable authorities to maintain public institutions. In Sligo, banks have refused to permit overdrafts, and there is no money to pay the contractors who are therefore withdrawing their services. Patients in hospitals are without sufficient food and the inmates of the poorhouse are in a similar plight.

The chairman of the board of Aldermen approved the suggestion of Dail Eireann that leading men of the city be asked to advance 50 pounds each to relieve the situation, but there was no response.

In queen's county, the greater part of the taxes of the county, amounting to about 60,000 pounds, remains uncollected, and the resources of the county are exhausted, involving serious consequences to the lunatic asylum and several hospitals. The county council at its meeting resolved to ask the advice of Dail Eireann. They have no doubt of its ability to meet, and are willing to act upon its instructions.

At Bray, an important seaside suburb within 12 miles of Dublin, an attempt was made by a member of the town council to get out of financial troubles by rescinding a resolution acknowledging allegiance to Dail Eireann, but he did not find a seconder.

HATE BETWEEN GERMANY AND FRANCE FLARES

BERLIN, Jan. 26. (By Mail).—Recrudescence of the war-spirit of the German people, which even as late as six months ago apparently had been completely banished, recently has assumed a new and noticeable aspect, particularly in relation to the French who generally are blamed for most of the post-war ills of the German nation.

Civilians and former soldiers alike frankly express the most intense hatred for the French and again are dreaming of a day when they can even-up in war what they have lost in peace. There is no evidence of ill-feeling against the English and toward the Americans, of whom much is expected commercially, there is every indication of good-will.

England on the whole has been credited with a desire for fair play in the execution of the Peace Treaty, but in many sources the opinion prevails that France is destined to have her way, even at the expense of the integrity of the German nation. (This applied to the situation before the amount of the German indemnity was fixed).

Agitation in certain French circles for an independent South Germany, probably under the domination of Bavaria; the alleged pro-Polish attitude of the French military in the Upper Silesian zone; the insistence of the French that the Einwohnerwehr and other "protective organizations" shall at once disarm; threats of a military occupation of the Ruhr district; and use of French Negro troops in the occupied zone, all have contributed to this revival of race hatred.

Delivery of milk cows to the French has, in view of the milk shortage in Germany and the increase in infant mortality intensified the feeling among the civilian population against the French people.

A German government official with whom the correspondent discussed the situation did not agree with some men who once held high commissions in the army that "another struggle with France is inevitable" but expressed the opinion that "hatred of the French is a natural consequence of French conduct." He believed, however, that superficial aspects had led to exaggerated opinions of the war-spirit of the German people.

"For example German army uniforms may be seen everywhere," he said, "and especially in the universities. The stranger immediately jumps to the conclusion that this is an exhibition of the military spirit. The facts are that many soldiers, and this applies particularly to students, are wearing uniforms to conceal the fact they have no shirts. They are too poor to buy other clothes."

However, he thought, "that other things being equal" the Germans would be willing to promptly go about settling old scores with the French.

THE STAR

As a rule a comedy produced in 5 reels, gets tiresome, but Mack Sennett's, "Love, Honor and Behave" showing at the Star Theatre proved to be otherwise and instead of being glad it is the end you'll wish there were more of it. It is a good clean comedy and not so much on the usual order of the slap-stick comedy. It has its final showing tonight at the Star.

The Star theatre for Tuesday will have as its principal attraction the latest National Picture entitled "Out of the Snows," which is said to be a virile, soul-stirring drama containing all the luring atmosphere of the far North.

It is further announced that Ralph Ince gives one of the finest characterizations of his career as Robert Holliday, a man known to the Indians of the Hudson Bay fur country as "Storm Man." Supporting Mr. Ince is Zena Keefe, Selznick's 1920 screen star, who effectively portrays the role of Anitah, a half-breed Indian hostess.

The story is said to center around Ruth Hardy, a foundling, strayed in the vast depths of the rugged North. The girl does not know from whence she came nor to whom she really belongs. But she is betrothed to Robert Holliday, of the Royal Mounted Police. While in his company she learns that her father was killed by her fiancée in a scrimmage with the Canadian Mounted Police. How Holliday finally breaks the chain of circumstances that condemn him makes the story, in the trend of its unfolding, powerful, gripping, and replete with tense dramatic situations.

Willard Smith Hits Maple Hard

Underwood's Druggists trimmed Swanson's Barbers to the tune of 3 to 0 in the Elks' bowling tournament last night. W. L. Smith, of the druggists, ran wild with a three-game total of 338. His score of 248 was high single score for the evening. The barbers were plainly out of form, only one score, 190 by Ackley, being worthy of especial mention.

Upp's Jewelers will meet the Rex Cafes tomorrow night.

Last night's scores:
