

WASHINGTON DAY PROGRAM, SACRED HEART

(Contributed)

The impromptu celebration of the Sacred Heart academy Monday afternoon, the first held in the new school building, marked a change in the routine of school affairs and suggested various possibilities to both teachers and pupils. The girls hall is large enough to accommodate the entire school and make a fine assembly room. Hereafter, when we want to get together for mutual improvement, amusement or patriotic demonstration, the need of a hall will not be an obstacle. The order of the exercises was as follows:

- The Star Spangled BannerSchool
- Adagio, Hayden, Piano Solo
- Our First Flag, Recitation
-A Thacker
- The Good Old Times, Reading
-Patrick McAuliffe
- Valse, Becker, Piano SoloAda Ball
- Better Than Being Washington
-Ruth McNeely
- The Soldier's Song, Violin Solo,
-Walter Hannon
- The Greatest Hero, Discussion
-Sixth and Seventh Grades
- Danse, Pastorale, Chaminade
-Elizabeth Ramsby
- Penelope Peneoick, Recitation,
-Ramona Stout
- Boat Song Mendelsohn Clarice Elliott
- America The Beautiful, Vocal Trio
-High School
- A History ReviewEighth Grade
- Violin Quartette, Encore—Saxy,
-Walter Hannon, Anita Lawrence, Richard Bogue, David Totten, and Opal Cardwell, Piano.

The program rendered was all the more enjoyable because nobody knew what was coming. Each room had been asked the day before to contribute something toward a fitting celebration in honor of the Father of Our Country. When it was over, favorable comment on the merits of the contributions was heard on all sides, but it was generally conceded that for amusement the eighth grade carried the palm. George Bertram as a dependagogue was so realistic one might easily guess that his ambition pointed toward a professor's chair instead of a wireless station. And his pupils—well, may Professor Bertram have less trouble teaching them patriotism and correct English than he had last Monday.

After Father Marshall had dismissed us with a lesson of encouragement drawn from Washington's example of heroic fortitude, a few of the music pupils got together and improvised an orchestra. They expect to add to their repertoire of popular airs something very appropriate for the occasion the next time we celebrate.

LUMBER RATE LOWERED

PORTLAND, Feb. 26.—Stimulation of the northwestern lumber industry is forecast by the report, received in local railroad circles, that officials of the trans-continental lines, in session at Chicago, had agreed upon a material reduction in the lumber rate as far east as that city.

According to these advices the rate to St. Paul and the Missouri river will be reduced to 66½ cents per 100, and the rate to Chicago and St. Louis to 73 cents. Though this basis is partially tentative, it is believed that it will represent approximately the new rate, constituting a reduction of 7 cents.

At the Theaters

BARRYMORE RAISES HIS INSURANCE

As a result of the perils encountered in the making of motion pictures, notably "The Devil's Garden" which will be seen at the Star theatre, Sunday and Monday, Lionel Barrymore, the famous star of this film production, has increased the amount of his life and accident insurance.

In this motion picture, which is declared to be the greatest cinema achievement of his career, the distinguished actor has a particularly strenuous role as William Dale, a man of violet temper and passion. He fights a groom who insults a woman, throws a disturbing British soldier out of a postoffice, and later chokes to death, the man who had betrayed the confidence of his wife. And lastly Mr. Barrymore was slightly burned while enacting a rescue scene at a fire.

It has been recorded that the percentage of participants in film productions who are injured in discharging their duties does compare with injuries sustained in factories. There are fewer fatalities, of course, but just the same the average movie actor or actress places his or her life in jeopardy frequently for the sake of realism, and extra insurance premiums are paid by more people in this industry than any other for this reason.

THE MONDALE

William Desmond, starring in western comedy-melodramas distributed by Exhibitors Mutual, had a ludicrous, tho' rather painful experience while doing one of the scenes in "A Sage Brush Hamlet," his latest picture. During a big fight in a bed room a feather-bed bursts and the "goose raiment" is blown all about the battlers. Desmond, gasping for air inhaled some of the downy particles. The angel food tickled the genial star's palate and made him "light-headed" for several days. Mondale Sunday and Monday.

A picture that pleased last night's audience is on again tonight. Taylor Holmes in the presentation of his latest screen success, "Taxi."

In this feature Mr. Holmes plays the role of a taxi driver who makes all-night cruises around the districts where bright lights gleam, finally driving his way to happiness and fortune under the most unexpected circumstances.

Financial machine that was traveling the highways of commerce under full steam, when it was brought to a dead stop instantly. Such a stoppage has its effect upon a business institution just as it does on a piece of machinery. It has taken time to bring back to normal adjustment the disarranged mechanism. This readjustment has reached a point now where the finishing touches are being applied and when the hour arrives for me to make the much-wished-for announcement, you may rest assured I will do so.

In the meantime, I want you to know that I appreciate your loyal support, and to tell you that the day is not far distant when you will know that it has not been misplaced.

WEATHER REPORT
OREGON—Tonight and Sunday, generally cloudy.

BACK FROM SOUTH AND GLAD TO BE HOME AGAIN

Refreshed after a vacation of almost two months spent in Santa Barbara her former home, and in other California points, Mrs. Edward Espinosa arrived last night, bringing with her the knowledge that however bright and balmy the Southland may be, and regardless of the many attractions there, there is something about the atmosphere in Klamath Falls, and something in the rugged construction of this region, and the genial companionship of its residents, that eclipses the attractiveness down there, and she states that she is heartily glad to be at home here again. Like many others who incline to loneliness after leaving an almost life-long home, Mrs. Espinosa believes that this trip has cured her, and she is now ready to sing "home, sweet home" and that the home of which she will sing means Klamath Falls. Mrs. W. T. Lee, who made the trip south with her, is still in Los Angeles, but is expected back soon.

NEW MILLINERY

Miss Margaret Callahan, who has been in Portland for some time, has returned home, and announces that she has purchased a varied and chic assortment of spring and summer millinery which will delight every woman or girl who intends to buy a hat that will be both becoming and fashionable. Her millinery store on Main street, next door to the Style Shop, will be open from now on.

THE true harmony of outline of the new Scripps-Booth Touring Car gives it a conservative individuality that you will recognize as being more carefully worked out than is usual. Its die-stamped fenders are solid and clean-cut. The bevel-edged plate-glass windows in the full-lined Pantasote top savor of costly equipment as does every other detail in the car.

The scientifically designed chassis on which this body is mounted is worthy of such coach work. Its long, wide springs and 115" wheelbase insure the maximum of riding comfort. Its six-cylinder valve-in-head motor secures the utmost of driving power from the gasoline.

Scripps-Booth is indeed moderately priced for a car of such magnificent appointments.

Something to Consider

The Foundation of the Prosperity of This City is its PAY ROLLS

The Lakeside Lumber Co. Pay Roll from February to December last year was nearly $50,000.00 (about $5,000 per month). This money was spent in Klamath Falls.

Every merchant, lawyer, doctor, insurance man and preacher got part of it. It went into the cash registers of every store, restaurant, picture house, hotel, pool room, dance hall and garage. The churches, the undertaker, the tax collector, the landlords, the Red Cross, the itinerant beggar and the fraternal orders all got their part of it.

Every person who bought WINDOWS, DOORS, MILLWORK and LUMBER from us contributed to this PAY ROLL. We believe the citizens of Klamath Falls appreciate this contribution to the GENERAL PROSPERITY.
