

ANCIENT CITY UNCOVERED BY ARCHAEOLOGISTS

SAN JUAN DE TEOTIHUACAN, Mexico, March 3. (By Mail).—Prospecting for the habitations of a lost race in virtually the same manner as miners dig for gold, federal employes here have just started to uncover the remains of a city of at least 100,000 inhabitants which flourished 4,000 or more years ago. Here and there over the confines of the buried city have been sunk shafts to find streets, houses and temples known to exist below the level of the mountain valley in which lies the little village of San Juan de Teotihuacan. The name of which means in the Aztec tongue, "City of the Gods."

The Mexican government has appropriated funds for this work of excavation which is in charge of Manuel Gamio, director of anthropology of the department of agriculture. The government hopes eventually to make the spot one of the show places of Mexico.

Dominating the area are the two pyramids, one to the Sun and the other to the Moon, which for centuries have defied the efforts of archaeologists and historians to trace their origin. The pyramid to the Moon is still untouched, retaining an appearance to the lay eye of a huge mound of irregular shape, overgrown with grass and rubbish.

Senior Gamio says the city now under excavation at one time covered an area of 15 square miles with a population of more than 100,000. Its builders are unknown to history but, Sr. Gamio believes they were a portion of an Indian tribe which wandered into Mexico from the north and finding the valley fruitful and the climate salubrious, decided to settle. The presence of volcanic rock as one of the top strata covering the ruins indicates that one of the nearby mountains erupted and inundated the city with lava.

Entry to the grounds is made facing the "Temple to the Goddess of the Winds", which was discovered less than a year ago, when erosion uncovered well defined walls and decorations typically Indian and Egyptian in their conception. This temple has now been dug out and reconstructed on the exterior. The inside is reached at present through a series of subterranean passages. Inside, the visitor treads over massive stairs with ornate decorations of huge serpents with obsidian eyes and grotesque conceptions reminiscent of Egyptian art. The work of interior excavation and reconstruction is far from complete.

Between this temple and the pyramid to the Sun is a stretch of one-quarter of a mile which is at intervals pierced by the shafts of the diggers and in some places by the uncovered remains of a house or public building with the paint still bright and the frescoes as intact as the day they were placed there several thousands of years ago.

Between the two pyramids is a well defined plaza on one side of which a street has been uncovered known as the "Path of the Dead." Flanking the place are hundreds of mounds which Sr. Gamio assured the correspondent contained either houses or temples.

Immense stores of valuable archaeological material have been taken from the various excavations. Human bones, terra cotta heads, obsidian knives, arrowheads, children's toys of clay, cooking utensils, incense burners and crude musical instruments form the bulk of the find and all are preserved in a museum which has just been erected on the grounds.

The two pyramids, however, are the dominant structures of the city. The pyramid to the Sun measures 761 x 721 feet at the base and is 216 feet high narrowing to a level summit.

Unlike the pyramids of Egypt with its huge jutting blocks of stone forming an endless stairs to the top, the Sun pyramid is built with a smooth surface in five distinct tiers. Ascent is made by steps built into the side and to the uninitiated the undertaking is almost perilous because of the steep incline with not supporting balustrades. It differs from its Egyptian counterparts also in the respect that it contains no interior passages or rooms.

The pyramid of the Moon is smaller with a base measuring about 511 x 426 feet. It rises 151 feet with a crowning platform about 19 feet square.

In connection with his supervision of the excavations, Sr. Gamio has interested himself in the Indian life of the valley and one of his first efforts has been to establish schools with special attention paid to manual training. Originally, the valley cortained 200,000 Indians, but those had been reduced to 20,000 in colonial day and now number less than 8,000. They earn but a poor living when crops are good and when there are failures, starvation and widespread death ensue. Groups of Indians at pottery making, a new industry in the valley, were evidence that a portion at least of Sr. Gamio's program is being carried out.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should just try this for a week and notice results.

OAK FLOORS OVER OLD FLOORS

Oak floors are often found in such costly surroundings that few imagine how little they cost. Very few people realize how much they can get for their money by laying 3/4-inch Oak floors over old floors.

The distinctive modern and artistic appearance of a home, as well as its health and comfort, will be greatly increased by the use of Oak flooring. Oak flooring is rich and cheerful in color, and imparts an air of elegance and refinement to a home.

For permanently artistic floors we recommend Long-Bell Forked Leaf Oak Flooring. It is uniform as to color and texture, perfect as to manufacture and is of superior quality. Its remarkably smooth surface is unsurpassed, and it makes an ideal foundation for a beautiful interior.

Let us know the size of the rooms you wish to floor. You will be surprised and pleased at the figures we can quote you on 3/4-inch Long-Bell Forked Leaf Oak Flooring.
