

UNEMPLOYED DRIFTING BACK TO THE FARMS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 11.—Widespread unemployment in cities has created a drift back to the farm and relieved the farm labor shortage brought about during the war, reports of federal and state employment bureaus reveal.

Farm hands in the great grain belt of the central states are reported plentiful at wages greatly reduced as compared with a year ago.

Farmers, who for several years have been forced to grant almost any concessions to labor to bring their crops through, are in a position this year to dictate terms of employment, according to employment agency officials. Then, too, the farmer faces the problem this year of holding down the cost of production because of the low prices of farm products and generally is trying to get along with as little help as possible.

Farm wages in Kansas this year average $40 a month, board and lodging, or about $20 less than a year ago, the free employment bureau in that state reports. W. H. Lewis, Missouri labor commissioner, declares "there probably will not be any shortage of farm labor this year and wages probably will be much lower than in any year since 1915."

In North Dakota a survey disclosed that farm labor for spring and summer work was plentiful at from $30 to $40 a month as compared with wages of from $50 to $60 a month paid last year.

In Illinois the state department of labor reports farm hands going back to the farms and accepting the cut in wages.

Kansas farmers are demanding experienced men after worrying along for several years with any sort of labor that presented itself, according to officials of the Kansas Free Employment Bureau. Experienced applicants are being located as fast as they apply, however, while there are about sixteen applicants for every job open in other lines of industry, the records show.

The bureau warns that farm hands who venture to define how many hours a day they are willing to work stand a poor chance of getting jobs.

The general scale recognized in Kansas, the principal growing state according to bureau officials, runs: For experienced hands from $25 to $50 a month (according to experience) for single men, and from $40 to $65 for married men who are willing to live on farms with their families. Last year, the peak year of farm wages, the scale ran $40 to $65 for single men and $50 to $80 for married men.

The immediate prospect is that harvest wages this year will be around $5 a day as compared with $7 last year, the Kansas Bureau reports.
