

EMPLOYMENT FOR SERVICE MEN SOUGHT

Guy H. Booker, here in the interest of employment for ex-service men who have taken the rehabilitation course of vocational training at the O. A. C. left for Medford yesterday. During his local work Mr. Booker found Klamath Falls employers very willing to co-operate. Prominent lines in the O. A. C. vocational training are engineering, agriculture, auto mechanics and forestry.

Louis K. Porter, local contractor, has offered the use of his office on upper Main street for headquarters for ex-service men who are out of employment, and promises all possible aid toward securing jobs for them. It is said that many outside men have come here in response to rumors that government land was open to soldier settlement and, finding the reports premature, are remaining to find work.

The American Legion on April 1 broadened the scope of its unemployment committee to take in the entire state instead of confining the work to Portland. A lengthy report has been issued by the committee for February and March, from which the following is extracted:

While there were many minor causes for the vast army of penniless unemployed in Portland, our survey showed that the condition was due primarily to the lack of a definite industrial program which should and would more evenly distribute industrial activities over the entire year. This committee hopes to present a program to the city, county and state officials, whereby, through co-operation with the State Chamber of Commerce and the various local commercial organizations, the critical unemployment situation of the past winter will be averted throughout the entire state in the future.

Next to the lack of a definite industrial program, the greatest cause for unemployment is the lack of an intelligent, consistent, all-the-year-round advertising campaign of Oregon products, to create a permanent and growing demand for home products by Oregonians—and further, advertising of Oregon products outside the state. Had Oregon products been given the proper advertising last year, we believe that Oregon factories would have employed more than 20 per cent of the bread winners who were idle and penniless at the time of our survey. This committee also has a plan of action to present to Oregon commercial organizations which, we believe, will remedy that condition in time to provide the needed employment next winter.

The third important factor in unemployment, we believe, is the delays of state and municipal contractors, who bid for highway, street and sewer contracts at a rather high figure, basing their higher figures upon extra cost of operation during the rainy season. While this additional cost is recognized as legitimate by state and municipal officials, and the contracts are let on that basis, the contractors do not perform the work during the expensive labor period. Thus the contractor realizes a greater profit on his bid, but the bread winner and his family are deprived of their benefits which were figured in the original contract. This condition, too, we believe, will be very materially changed before the winter sets in.

Much work could and should have been performed by certain public utilities throughout the winter months, particularly as the state public service commission granted those utilities increased rates for the very purpose of financing such work; but after receiving authority to increase their rates the corporations seemed to forget the purpose for which they sought the increase.

During the month of February the Unemployment committee found employment for 2,211 men and 113 women, a total of 2,324. During March employment was provided for 1,708 men and 682 women in co-operation with the women's division, a total of 2,390. In the two months, through the efforts of the committee in Portland and Multnomah county, 4,714 men and women found work.

FOUR NEW BUILDINGS COMPLETED AT WEED

WEED, April 14.—The Weed Lumber company boarding house has been moved into the new building recently completed. The building is one of a group of four buildings which the company has recently built for the use of its unmarried employees. The other three buildings are modern rooming houses.

The boarding house is a three-story structure. The rooms for the help are on the first floor. The dining rooms and kitchens, with all the modern conveniences for cooking for large numbers of men, are on the second floor. On the third floor are situated the quarters for directors, general offices of the company and visiting lumbermen.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that there will be a called meeting of the land owners of the Klamath Drainage District held at the office of the Secretary in Klamath Falls, Oregon, on Saturday, April 23rd, 1921, for the purpose of voting on whether or not we shall enter into a contract with

NOTICE TO DELINQUENTS ON FIRST THREE UNITS OF PAVING

The attention of Delinquent Lien Debtors on the first three paving units is called to the urgency of the situation confronting the Common Council on May First, next. On that date the principal of the remaining outstanding bonds on those units, amounting to $47,818.53, will be due and payable; and the bonds themselves will be presented for payment to the city treasurer on that date.

There is in the hands of the city treasurer applicable to that purpose $31,185.02, the difference or $16,633.51 represents the delinquent principal that must be met besides the accrued interest if the financial integrity of the city is to be maintained. There is no other source than the delinquent Lien Debtors from which the necessary funds can be secured to meet this liability. It is therefore imperatively necessary that the delinquent Lien Debtors awake to that fact and come forward at once with the balance due on his or her assessments in accordance with notice thereof recently received by them.

The Common Council has noted also the amount of delinquencies existing on other paving units, including the first installments on the more recent street improvements and it causes the council to hesitate in ordering new improvements petitioned for until these latter delinquencies are approximately paid up.

By order of the Common Council.
Dated April 11th, 1921, A. L. LEAVITT,
14-16 Police Judge.
