

REPORTS SHOW VALUE OF COW TESTING ASSN'S

Numerous examples of the valuable work being done by cow testing associations are contained in reports of testers of these organizations sent to the western office of the Dairy Division of the United States Department of Agriculture.

According to the reports, marked progress has been made in replacing inferior bulls with high-class purebred animals. Six of the testing associations—of which three are in Idaho, two in Colorado, and one in Washington—have reached the 100 per cent purebred bull mark, having eliminated all scrub sires from their herds. Another 100 per cent association was added to the list in January, and several others are getting near this mark.

The Petaluma (Calif.) association has only two scrub bulls left. The dairy department of the local bureau of the county in which this association is located has a plan for an annual purebred bull sale, the first of which was held several months ago. Young bulls out of 400-pound dams and older proved bulls are consigned to this sale by breeders and by dairymen wishing to dispose of bulls which they have used as long as they can in their own herds. The sale was the means of introducing 25 purebred bulls into the county, and the association hopes by this means to eliminate all scrub bulls from the county and to keep the dairymen supplied with good bulls in the future. Through these sales it also hopes to open a market for proved bulls, and so keep these bulls in service in the county for many years.

The testers of the Skagit Valley, Wash., association reports that the last scrub bull has been "discharged from service." He says also that one farmer increased his production by 12 pounds of fat per cow on 25 cows from November to December by better care and feeding, and adds that this is an easy way of getting 200 pounds of fat more a month without milking any more cows.

The head tester for the Los Angeles, Calif., association reports an increased production by the 3,000 cows in the association for December, 1920 as compared with December 1919, which, he says, means an increase of more than $30,000 a month.

One herd of 30 cows in the Orange County Calif., association increased its production from 19 pounds of fat per cow in September to 36 pounds in December, largely as a result of advice on feeding given by the tester of the association. This increase of 510 pounds of fat a month is more than some 30-cow herds are giving at this season, he reports. Another herd in this association increased from an average of 27 pounds per cow to 41 pounds in six months. One dairymen in the association culled 13 animals from a 45-cow herd, and by so doing decreased his production only 12 gallons a day but saved over $60 a month.

The tester of the Ada association in Idaho reports that every cow in the organization has been tested for tuberculosis. Every herd in this association is headed by a purebred bull and 25 per cent of all the cows are purebred.

ENGLISH AS SHE IS SPOKEN

A well known San Francisco essayist, recently addressing a body of high school students, advised them that if they wished to write well they should write as they speak. But it is supposed in the first place that we all speak "good English"; which we do not! Newspaper English is generally discredited, but the average cut-reporter writes much simpler English than the average man and woman speaks.

If the high school students were an "oh," asked for an essay on "American and European Entanglements," it would probably read something like this, if they set it down in everyday language:

"As for me, I'm aginst any of these mixings up with those old guys in Yurup. Whyinell should we carry those guys along. We've got enough troubles of our own, right here at home, aint we? I'll say we have, ho. You said a mouthful that time. Me for the good old U. S. laying off these here 'tangling alliances. Wilson may have been right, and then agsin, maybe, Woody was wrnk. You can't tell, now can you? I'll say you can't. We should worry about Yurup. We went over and licked the Germans for 'em, and now what do we get out of it? We get the bee put on us to let their loans go in the discard, don't we? I'll say so, Pauline. Let 'em hop to it and collect offen Germany themselves. Them guys make me sick. Now don't they you? You said a good one that time, kid. Why should we bother our beans about their scalps? Would we ask 'em to come over here and help us? No sirree! Wotinnell would we want 'em here for anyway. The only time they come over to your Uncle Sam is when they want to marry off some saphead to one of our millionaire daughters! No sir, not for me. I'm off o' these entangling alliances. Yurup is in a good place, on the other side of the water, let 'em stay there. Them's my sentiments. What do you say, bo? Youbetcher, an' I'm with you!"

Chaplin to Marry Again?

This is May Collins, movie actress, who is reported to be engaged to wed Charlie Chaplin (inset). May refers inquirers to Charlie and Charlie tells 'em he doesn't care to discuss the subject.

At the Theaters

THE STAR

A cast of clever artists, playing the various supporting roles, is one of the reasons for the brilliant reports of "A City Sparrow," the new Ethel Clayton starring vehicle for Paramount which will be shown at the Star Theatre tonight.

Ethel Clayton, the star, stands in the front rank of film stars and has a most enthusiastic following.

The principal male lead is portrayed by Clyde Fillmore, who appears as a noble-hearted countryman who falls in love with Milly West, a dancing girl and persuades her to go to the country, where their love romance develops. Walter Hiers, the fat comedian, is funnier than ever, in the role of Tim Ennis, a disappointed lover.

William Boyd, a new screen discovery, does attractive work as Hughie Ray, the star's dancing partner. Bartine Burkett has a delightful ingenue role. Robert Brower, Lillian Leighton and Sylvia Ashton play the character roles and Rose Cade also appears in an unique part.

THE LIBERTY

In a story of the western country that is said to furnish him splendid opportunities for his best work, Buck Jones, the sensational Fox star, will be seen on the screen of the Liberty Theatre tonight in "Just Pals."

This story is from the pen of John McDermott, and judging from advance reports the star has a real surprise in store for his many followers. Pierce action and stirring romance lead up to a climax that should be a "corner" on the screen.

No crime has ever been committed no matter how cleverly planned and ingeniously executed, that it did not leave a clue of some sort to be picked up and followed by the gifted sleuth. The disappearance of the vast treasure in "Wanted at Headquarters" baffled all till a tiny drop of paint was discovered on a railroad tie. This is an incident in "Wanted at Headquarters," starring Eva Novak, which is announced for tomorrow at the Liberty Theatre.

Inter-Mountain Rate Complaints Dropped By Interstate Board

WASHINGTON, April 28—Freight rates from points of origin east of the Rocky mountains to Intermountain territory, were found today by the Interstate commerce commission to be not unreasonable and complaints by shippers and others were dismissed.

Complaint was made against the maintenance of approximately the same rates between eastern points and Intermountain territory, as between the east and the Pacific Coast, the complainants seeking to have the rates to mountain points graded according to distance, the rates to the coast as a working basis.
