

HOMELY WOMAN WITH CIRCUS DEFIES WORLD

With the Al. G. Barnes Circus which comes to Klamath Falls Monday, May 2, is the homeliest woman in the world. So certain is this woman of the fact that she occupies this unique position in that she has issued a challenge to all comers with a $5,000 position as the stake.

During the past winter John R. Fowler, manager of the Al. G. Barnes circus side show, decided that the public was rather surfeited with beauty and that a real homely woman might be a good side show feature. So he placed ads in fifty newspapers, offering a salary of $5,000 to a genuine homely woman to travel with the circus for forty weeks. Scores of answers were received, but among them was one that stood out as unique.

It was from Amelia Barr, of Pulaski, Ark., and she was so positive that she was the "homeliest woman in the world" that she volunteered to pay her own expenses to join the circus, and offered to retire from the position in any town where a homelier woman could be produced.

Amelia was engaged without delay, and when she arrived at Barnes Circus City, Mr. Fowler understood why she was so positive that she was the one woman for the job. She is not facially deformed, nor is she ugly in the real sense of the word. But she is just plain homely.

And Amelia is hungering for competition—something that will tend to break the monotony of her circus existence. So that if there are any women in this section who think they have a chance to usurp her place, the $5,000 job will be theirs if they can prove their claims.

Proud of her homely features, Amelia Barr will be one of the attractions with the Barnes circus side show during the engagement here.

It is violating no confidence to say that Amelia is still heart whole and fancy free.

VISITING AT MALIN

MALIN, April 29. — Mrs. L. T. Howell, of Ashland, arrived here yesterday. She will visit friends and relatives for a few weeks.

Mrs. Howell is better known here as Miss Noma Taylor. Until a year ago she lived near here and made many friends who welcome her return.

DORRIS PERSONALS

Enthusiasm is beginning to run high here in anticipation of the circus at Klamath Falls next Monday. Numerous parties are planned for the day by auto and train.

John Brett of the K. K. K. store at Klamath Falls, was in Dorris for a short time yesterday renewing acquaintances.

Roy Taber and Tom Churchill were representatives of the Dorris chamber of commerce at the Klamath Auto Association meeting Wednesday evening for the purpose of boosting the Weed highway.

Herman Bercovich, proprietor of the Dorris Mercantile company, has taken the sulk agency for the Studebaker car and has purchased one of the new models for himself and family.

Mrs. Wm. G. Hagelstein was a passenger on last evening's train for Klamath Falls, where she will visit with friends.

A new fence has been completed around the high school grounds, much improving the appearance of the place. The fence was constructed by volunteer labor.

J. R. Clemmens is still reported ill with a painful attack of inflammatory rheumatism. A special nurse has been secured to care for him.

Doctors A. A. Atkinson and J. P. Bowman are both driving new cars, the former a Ford sedan and the latter a coupe of the same make.

Mills Will All Be Operating Around Dorris In 15 Days

DORRIS, Cal., April 29.—With a crew of 85 men in the woods, Peppers-Cotton Lumber company has started logging operations preparatory to the beginning of sawing at their mill near Mucedol in the near future. A spur railroad track connecting their plant with the Southern Pacific line is almost finished. This railroad will greatly improve the company's ability to handle its product.

Pheneger & Bailey, another lumber concern in the vicinity, will also use the new railroad for the shipment of their lumber. Most of the lumber mills in this section will be in full operation within fifteen days.
