TAX INCREASE ONE-FIFTH FOR STATE IN YEAR

Herald Salem Bureau
 SALEM, Ore., May 10.—Oregon's total tax for this year is an increase of more than 20 per cent over last year. Records of the state tax commission show that the total tax for the year, which is the assessment on the rolls of 1920, is $41,117,367.71, while the total for last year, the levy on the rolls of 1919, was $32,596,695.03. The increase is $8,520,672.68.

In addition to the regular total is an addition of $66,582.61 for fire patrol in many counties.

An assessment for this service is levied on those timber land owners who do not provide patrols for their lands. The assessments made by the county court on the basis of data furnished by the state department of forestry.

Government Wants Names of Disabled Who Need Treatment

Mrs. William Ganong has received request from division headquarters of the Red Cross for the names of all disabled service men in this territory who are in need of hospital treatment. The government is establishing hospitals for disabled veterans of the World War and the division manager urges the importance of securing a full list of all who are entitled to treatment.

Mrs. Ganong said she considered it probable there were men in Klamath county who needed the hospital treatment, and were entitled to it, who have never reported to the Red Cross and asks any one knowing of such cases to notify her.

The division headquarters is anxious to have the information at once, so any information should be placed with the Red Cross immediately.

THE STAR

Love letters of another man, stolen jewels and a bride of a day who is heartbroken because her hubby presumably has deceived her, and other amusing developments contribute to make Bryant Washburn's latest Paramount photocomedy, "A Full House," which shows at the Star theatre tonight, a delightful entertainment for any audience.

Mr. Washburn is irresistible as George Howell, a newly-wed. He gets in and out of trouble in a manner that makes the laughs continuous while he is on the screen. Lois Wilson is charming as the young bride whose heart is broken when she discovers that her husband of a day apparently is a thief.

Practically all of the action takes place in the five rooms of the Fleming home. "Rapid fire" would be the term—especially when the police take a hand with an Irish cop at the door who says "You can come in but you can't go out!"

In minor characters Guy Milhan, Hazel Howell, Vera Lewis, Catherine Wallace, Lottie Williams, John Wild, X. Wall Covington and Frank Jonasson do work that splendidly supplements the laugh-making efforts of the star. The picture was finely directed by James Cruze.

MONDALE THEATRE

One of the best combination picture and vaudeville shows ever seen in Klamath Falls will open at the Mondale theatre tonight. There will be five big features, three feature vaudeville acts and two feature pictures; also a Mack Sennett comedy. Feature No. 1 is Miss Edith Snyder, the whistling song bird, in songs and whistling. Miss Snyder is considered America's greatest woman whistler and is also a beautiful singer. Feature No. 2 is Lawrence and Harvey, the Australian duo, who are now on their last lap around the world. They have appeared in every large and small city of the world and sail from San Francisco in June for their home in Australia. They do a wonderful novelty singing and dancing act, their dancing being above anything ever seen here. Their hard shoe and soft shoe dancing, and also dancing on pedestals 12 feet high, is something new and original. Feature No. 3 is Dean and Davis in a comedy skit, called a debate on women, which is a scream. Mr. Davis' character as the Rube is side splitting and the act is a riot. Picture feature No. 1 is the idol of the screen, Charles Ray in "The Clodhopper," a study of homespun, calico and Broadway. This picture is Mr. Ray's best picture. Feature No. 2 is the world's greatest comedians, Weber and Field, in "Worst of Friends," and you will laugh until your sides ache. With the Mack Sennett comedy it will be hard to beat this show, so don't miss it.

THE LIBERTY

She had never mixed a cocktail. Never tasted one. And then one night Jack went to the lodge—at least he said he did—and Blanny found somebody else's cellarette, and—but see the whole play, "Fair and Warmer," at the Liberty Theatre tonight. May Allison is the star; and it's Avery Hopwood's funniest farce.

Like a romance from the tales of the Arabian Nights is the story of Marsinah, the daughter of a beggar who lived in a remote corner of the city of Bagdad. Through the magic of the fates, she met with the Caliph, who ruled supreme, and who promised that she should become his bride. Then through the chicanery of a number of plotters she was cast into a harem there to spend the balance of her life.

Lost to the world and at the mercy of the wickedest man in the Orient she would have been swept into oblivion had it not been for what the poets call "Kismet." There in her blackest hour—but the motion picture can tell the story better than cold type, and the story of the maid as told in "Kismet," the Robertson-Cole super-special picture at the Liberty Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, with Otis Skinner in the leading role, will live long in the memory of all who see the screen version of the celebrated play.

LONE PINE NEWS

The entertainment at the school house April 30th was a great success. The boxes and other things sold brought a total of $82.35, which will be used to send delegates from the boys and girls clubs to Corvallis to summer school. The prizes were two boxes of candy and were won by Mr. Geertson and Charlotte Geertson. Mrs. Buessing and Miss Dolan kept the ice cream stand.
