

Popular Music and Ragtime

Piano Playing Taught
From Sheet Music
In 12 Lessons

This course is for YOU, beginner or advanced player. Beginners are taught to play all popular songs with full harmony bass in 12 lessons. Medium or advanced pupils are taught to convert popular songs into different styles of ragtime. I teach 67 styles of bass and 180 treble syncopated effects. Learn the styles of playing used by professionals, sheet music demonstrators, cabaret and theatre pianists. You are taught to READ NOTES.

I use the "Waterman Method;" over 600 schools today in the U. S., taught since 1901. The Klamath Falls school is a branch of the Eugene, Roseburg and Medford schools. You memorize 39 chords, the chords serve as the bass, you play the melody in octaves and double-fill the octaves, then you are taught to rag the right hand. No pupils accepted under 12 years of age, practice one hour a day, take one lesson a week. Temporarily, lessons will be given at your home. Phone for full demonstration giving your name and address.

REFERENCES—Read what Geo. T. Collins, manager of Mason-Ehrman Grocery Co. of Medford and Klamath Falls says:

"I am familiar with the Waterman system of piano instruction as taught by Mr. Roy White and his associates and can highly recommend same," other references upon request. Don't put it off, enroll now. I can only handle a limited number of students.

SELLS THREE MORE BUICKS
Louis Hoagland reports the sale of three more Buicks to the following buyers: George D. Whitney, the baker at the Sixth Street bakery; C. E. Hibbert, superintendent of the Pelican Bay mill; L. Holdischar, cashier of the Malin State bank. All three machines were five-passengers. This cleans up the last carload which was received Friday. Mr. Hoagland states that he has placed orders for another carload.

It is stated that Nicaragua has begun negotiations to resign her membership in the League of Nations because of the expense attached to the membership.
The Council of Six Nations Indians has decided to appeal to King George of Great Britain against the proposed enfranchisement of Indians in Canada. It desires to retain its tribal form of government and is appealing on grounds of "sacred agreement" between King George III and Joseph Brant.
More than two years after the armistice, nearly 200 bodies of American soldiers have been discovered hidden in recesses of the Argonne Forest according to cable advice from Paris. Hundreds of searchers are still beating out-of-the-way sections of the old front hunting for bodies.
For no apparent reason two women of moderate means locked themselves in a suite of three rooms in Hoboken, New Jersey, hotel and lived there for more than three years. They lived entirely on canned goods ordered by mail. Rent payments were made by checks thrust under the door. The accumulation of empty cans on the fire escape led to investigation by the health authorities.

Thieves recently plundered the Weimar museum in Germany, taking Rembrandt's portrait of himself and other pictures by famous Dutch painters, valued at millions of marks.
The government has accepted a fireproof cover for the gasoline tanks of airplanes designed by aeronautical experts. The cover is not only fireproof but leak-proof and crash-proof as well. It consists of a sheet of soft, tough rubber laid on high-grade cotton fabric.
Forest Service laboratory workers at Madison, Wisconsin, have discovered the kiln-dried timber is fatal to some if not all the wood-boring grubs. This fact is of special importance to users of hickory, ash and certain other woods which are subject to attacks from these insects.
