LACEY IS FREED ON AUTO THEFT CHARGE

Jack Lacey, who was arrested on a charge of stealing an automobile belonging to Fred Duke, was freed yesterday afternoon by Justice of the Peace Gaghagen. Duke charged that Lacey took the machine to Chilo and failed to return it. Lacey claimed that he was hired to drive his passenger to Alturas and further, if he desired to go, and under these conditions he went to Chilo.

GRANTED DIVORCE

T. J. McCarvel was granted a divorce from his wife, Edith May McCarvel, by Judge Kuykendall yesterday, the costs of the case being assessed to the plaintiff.

DORRIS PERSONALS

DORRIS, Cal., May 18.—Chas. Messick, one of Macdoel's leading merchants, was a business visitor in town yesterday.

Wm. G. Hagelstein and J. D. Walts motored into the country yesterday morning to transact business with some of the farmers.

Mr. and Mrs. Carol Chase are visiting with relatives in Dorris after spending a few weeks at the I. E. Kesterson logging camp near Ivan.

A. Marvin, farmer from the Technor vicinity drove to Dorris yesterday to attend to business matters.

Precipitation during the past 24 hours in the form of snow interspersed with rain has greatly increased the crop possibilities in this valley.

Fall sown crops are far advanced and spring plantings are progressing nicely. Precluding June frosts, crops in this valley will be unprecedented this season.

John Stewart, a farmer from the Technor community, spent yesterday in town on business.

At the Theaters

THE STAR

A desperate struggle staged in "Silk Hosiery," Enid Bennett's latest starring vehicle which will be shown at the Star Theatre tonight, is no man-to-man combat, but a contest of angry women, with hairpins flying, and a gleaming dagger flashing in the dim light.

Miss Bennett, as Marjorie Bowen, a modiste's model, finds a jewel and a letter that she has been sent to obtain, in the possession of an unscrupulous woman, and she battles effectively for their recovery.

Her antagonist, Marie Paris, well-known emotional actress, is Miss Bennett's equal in size and strength, so that both nursed scratches and bruises for several days afterwards. Their gowns were badly torn, and there were enormous casualties in hairpins.

Director Nible sighed in relief when the scene was completed. "You never can tell what a woman will do with a dagger," he remarked wisely, but from the resultant wounds it would appear that fingernails did more damage than the flashing steel.

The picture is a delightful one and presents Enid Bennett in an unusual novel role. It is thrilling and there is much enjoyable comedy.

THE MONDALE

Charles Ray will again be seen at the Mondale Theatre tonight when "The Hick," a comedy-drama of college life, will hold the boards. Miss Beaulieu Barricade heads an excellent supporting cast.

"The Hick" is adapted from "Plain Jane," by C. Gardner Sullivan, author of that famous Triangle play, "The Flame of the Yukon."

It concerns the adventure of a slavey in a small New England college town, her innocent flirtation with one of the "college dudes," impersonated by Ray, her winning of a beauty prize and her eventual capitulation to the wiles of Dan Cupid. Throughout the piece is abundant with the atmosphere of the campus, which affords a fitting background for the many amusing situations of the story.

Ray is cast in the part of John "Sophomore" Adams, the serious-

Director Nible sighed in relief when the scene was completed. "You never can tell what a woman will do with a dagger," he remarked wisely, but from the resultant wounds it would appear that fingernails did more damage than the flashing steel. The picture is a delightful one and presents Enid Bennett in an unusual novel role. It is thrilling and there is much enjoyable comedy.

Patrons of the Mondale Theatre will be pleased with "A Wild-Goose Chase," a five-part Triangle production, which comes to this theatre on Friday.

It features Hazel Daly, who is supported by Matt Moore and Sydney Ainsworth, and was directed by Harry Beaumont.

Dedicated "To the Men Long Missing in the Arctic Circle," it is quite an original picture, and the details of life in the Arctic regions, with all the hardships experienced by those accustomed to the luxuries of civilization, have been presented with consistent realism.

The story is rich in heart-appeal, for it is a love romance in which the heroine must make an unusual sacrifice to save the life of her lover.

It is likewise rich in scenic beauty, and with many episodes of thrilling adventure, as the searchers, stranded from their ship in the far reaches of the North, must struggle for the bare necessities of existence.
