

The Office Cat

BY JUNIUS

Another Slice of the Old Man
(Vincennes, Ind., Commercial)

A thirteen pound son was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Hersbell Hamm. The mother was Mary B. Frund. The father is a well known meat cutter and has a smile that takes as he hands out the cigars. Mother and babe are doing fine.

It won't do you much good to take a "memory course" if you haven't any mind, and if you have you don't need a "memory course."

B. S. Grigsby says in the spring the average man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of loafing.

Judge Leavitt says the neighbors' chickens are heartily in favor of open gardens openly arrived at.

Miss Bernardine Hannon and Miss Madge Dixon handed this to the Cat as their opinion:

If a grocer sells you a dozen eggs and two of 'em are bad you can take 'em back and get good eggs in their stead. If a department store sells you an umbrella that splits the first time you open it the loss will be made good promptly. If a shoe dealer sells you a pair of shoes that rip open the first time you put them on you may have your money back for the asking. This is the principle on which business is founded. If the goods do not come up to the specifications, back they go and this is as it should be.

But if a girl marries a young man who doesn't come up to specifications she is stung. He may have told her that he had a house and lot, money that he has in the bank, a good salary and no bad habits, and he may turn out to have been a wall eyed liar on each and every count. It makes no difference, she can't return him to his folks.

Many a girl has married what appeared to be a nice, upstanding youth, a good stock model, so to speak, and finds too late that he was a confirmed coughdrop chews, or that he wore hand-embroidered suspenders or played a piccolo. Her only recourse is the expense and annoyance of the divorce courts. And every marriage license should read, in plain type, something like this: "It is understood and agreed that if the said husband aforesaid named in this here document, should prove a flivver, a glass crash and a false alarm, not to say a lemon and a whiz, the wife aforesaid has the right to kick him out the back door with the rest of the rubbish."

You can't make 'em believe it, but dishwater will make the hands just as soft as these patent creams.

George Stevens says that in his opinion, marriage has become just a short excursion trip, rather than a life voyage on the sea of matrimony.

A New Alibi

Since that Hammon (Ind.) man was robbed of $3,600 while praying in church, it will be harder than ever to induce the men folk to go to church. Incidentally his name was Cash.

Local Lore

Ed. Geary appeared on our streets yesterday in a set of new summer scenery. Look out, girls!

The editor of the Weekly Hiccough who was cited for contempt of court by Squire McSpadden a while back, informs a scribe he wasn't responsible for the piece of question. His wife, who helps him get out the paper, don't like the squire's wife, he says, and when she set the type for the McSpadden piece she let her feelings get the best of her. Since he never reads the Hiccough himself he says he didn't know anything about it till his attention was called to same a few days ago.

Since hair cuts has went up to 50c a copy, many of our citizens are thinking of taking up fiddling.

Joe Richter wants to know why a photograph salesman will call around at your house and try to sell you a talking machine when he knows darn well you've married and have a parrot?

Will Seek Union of All Presbyterian Churches

ST. LOUIS, May 20.—A plan of union of all Presbyterian churches is set forth in a proposal to be made to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (Southern), which opened here today.

The proposal is the result of "three years of conferences between committees of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, and committees of other Presbyterian and Reformed Churches."

The proposition is titled the "Constitution of the Presbyterian Reformed Churches in America." Under it each constituent church would retain its autonomy in creed, government and worship, but would act "to further the redemption work of Christ" through "The United Assembly of the Presbyterian Reformed Churches in America."

The proposition will be considered at the respective general assemblies of the various Presbyterian denominations this year, delegates explain. The work of the United Assembly would include unification of the work of the missionary, educational and benevolent agencies of the various constituent bodies. The proposed Assembly would "constitute a bond of union, peace and correspondence among all congregations and judicatories of the constituent churches," and would "be the declarative, and administration and judicial agency of the united body."

Baseball Gambling Law Very Stringent

PORTLAND, Ore., May 20.—Oregon's new anti-gambling baseball law, recently passed by the state legislature, goes into effect May 25. Violation of any of the four different sections of the bill render the violator liable to imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years or by a fine not exceeding $5,000, or by both.

Section one deals with persons who attempt to bribe players not to use their best efforts to win a game. Section two deals with players who accept bribes and section three is in reference to any persons not to use their best efforts to see that the game is played honestly.

Section four provides a penalty for any umpire, manager or director who does not use his influence and ability to see that the games are played honestly.

Small mines isolated from the outside world are often forced to close down by reason of breakage of machinery and difficulty in getting repairs. In the Sierras airplane service has been used to transport parts and is proving successful for that purpose.
