THE STAR

Civilization is a veneer at the best. There are moments of madness when honor, friendship and love are swept aside, and quite civilized people become creatures of blind impulse and passion. It was such a moment that caught a woman starving for romance and a man infatuated with her beauty. In the warm moonlight of a midsummer midnight, they forgot that they were married—to another man and another woman—and in each others' arms—

All of which goes to show why William De Mille called his latest and greatest picture "Midsummer Madness" and why screen fans who see it are getting the thrill of a lifetime. It will be on view at the Star Theatre tonight.

Pleasant anticipation greets the announcement that "Mamma's Affair," presented by Joseph M. Schene and released by Associated First National, will be seen at the Star Theatre Sunday.

The always engaging Constance Talmadge carries off the stellar honors. It is the screen version of Rachel Barton Butler's Harvard University prize play, which enjoyed a Broadway success last season.

The director, Victor Fleming, has succeeded, it is said, in making it even more pleasing than when presented as a stage play.

THE LIBERTY

Motion picture photography has made it possible for a man to talk and shake hands with himself and do many other things that are always startling to an audience. One of the best examples of double exposure photography ever seen in a motion picture occurs in "The Cheater Repaired," a William Fox production in which William Russell is starred.

Russell plays the parts of twin brothers, one a clergyman, the other a crook. The scene where they are together in the minister's study is said to be so amazingly realistic that it never fails to bring a gasp of surprise from the audience, accustomed as people are to modern miracles in photoplays. The picture will be shown at the Liberty Theatre tonight.

THE MONDALE

By popular demand there will be a return engagement at the Mondale theatre of the world's greatest novel and picture by the world's most beloved writer, Harold Bell Wright, in the big ten-reel master piece "The Shepherd of the Hills." "The Shepherd of the Hills" has been read by over a million people and the picture itself so far has been seen by over two million people. When I had the

SOME STORAGE BATTERY FACTS:

You might as well say that you can buy an automobile for $200 as to say that you can buy a battery for $30. One signifies just as much as the other. Voltage counts for nothing when it comes to the capacity of a battery. The amperes hour capacity is what counts. The larger the battery the greater the amperes hour capacity and necessarily the greater the cost. We could build you a six volt battery for $2 that you could wear for a watch charm, it wouldn't run your car but it would be six volts just the same. Investigate LUTHY it will pay.

picture here in January my house was too small to accommodate all the people who wanted to get in and I turned hundreds away, and as the show runs two hours and thirty minutes, I have arranged to run four shows on Sunday, starting at 1:30, 3:30, 5:30 and 8:30 o'clock sharp. Be there early and you will see a screen hit extraordinary. There will also be Episode 13 of the "Purple Riders." This episode is the most exciting and thrilling episode shown yet, showing a fight with giant devil fish, which nearly cost Joe Ryan his life.

Emmitt and Johnson Families Home Again

Last night Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Emmitt accompanied by their son-in-law, W. P. Johnson and family, arrived home from an extended auto trip which covered the best part of the United States.

Mr. Johnson and family left Klamath Falls June 6, 1920, for Seattle, Wn. and from there covered the northern states to New York and thence south along the coast to St. Petersburg, Florida, being joined there by Mr. Emmitt and family who toured the middle sections to Kansas City, thence east to Indiana and from there to Florida. Both families returned by the southern route.

A Series of Human Interest Talks on Insurance

How Much Insurance Should a Farmer Carry?

The farmer of today is as much of a business man as any other and figures things out from that standpoint.

Suppose he owns a 160-acre farm valued at $100 per acre and this farm is mortgaged for $8,000.

The liquidation of that mortgage besides making a living for the family depends on him. If he lives he will carry out his contract.

Death may overtake him before he completes the contract. A $10,000 policy payable to his estate would clear the indebtedness besides leaving ready cash for funeral and administration expenses.

Indebtedness not so protected by insurance generally causes the disposal of the farm—often at a sacrifice in order to raise cash.

Additional insurance should also be carried payable to the wife. Cash value can be used to provide additional comforts for old age if the farmer lives.

Premiums on an Oregon Life policy stay here to be loaned on farms.

barbecue will be the attraction. There will be a plentiful supply of "eats" to feed free every visitor and person present.

The afternoon will start off with a ball game and the committee is negotiating now from good teams in the nearby cities. After that the program will be varied sports; band music and contests for the women and children, while most of the men will attend the boxing contest that is being arranged.

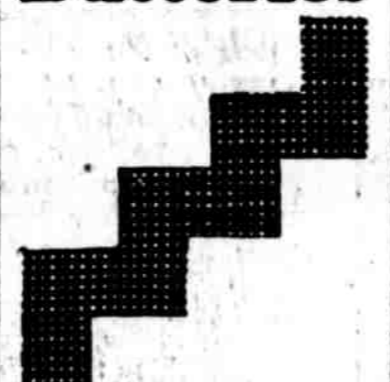

The evening program will start at 7 o'clock with a band concert and the masked carnival follows.

Tuesday's program will start with a salute at sunrise, then at 9 o'clock, the phoney fire, in which a contest will take place between volunteer firemen with hose carts. A distinct novelty will be the "walk against the stream with a plank," a scream from start to finish. And then the water fight, free for all, another feature that is funny at all periods. An old fashioned tug of war on the slippery pavement follows, while the children will indulge in athletic contests.

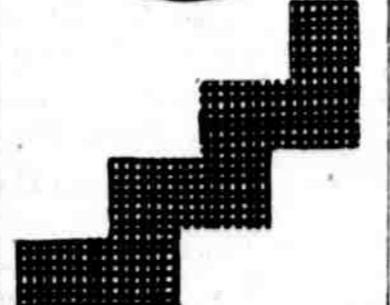

The afternoon will start with a ball game and water carnival will begin on Lake Ewauna, consisting of a varied and interesting program such as diving, swimming, boating, aqua-planeing, motor boat speed races, etc.

The evening will have the original feature of the funny section.

Brass Tacks about Threaded Rubber Insulation

The Willard Threaded Rubber Battery is the only battery with Threaded Rubber Insulation between the plates.

The Thread-Rubber Trade-Mark on the battery case is your insurance against all the bothersome, expensive wood-separator troubles.

Threaded Rubber Insulation outlasts the battery plates. It will not check, warp, crack or carbonize. It permits "bone-dry" shipment and stocking of batteries so that the battery reaches you in brand new condition.

the introduction of the "Horrible" and after that comes the masked carnival and street dance.

The tentative program will be enlarged. One of the boosters, Ted White, leaves Monday for San Francisco to book free attractions and amusements, also percentage shows. Mr. White is an experienced artist in this particular and the shows he selects will be winners.

The labor council has taken charge of all the arrangements for the parade and this feature will be handled directly by them.

department will manage all the first department events and his collection assures the visiting people of a splendid exhibition. He knows that part of the entertainment thoroughly.

The two days are so arranged that every person who comes to this celebration will find something doing all the time and the finished program will be announced later on, complete in all details. Business men and interests here are enthusiastic over the coming events, as it is the first local celebration in five years.
