SINNOTT WINS FIGHT FOR WAR RISK CHANGES

Herald Washington Bureau WASHINGTON, June 15.—Congressman Nicholas J. Sinnott, of Oregon, won one of his biggest battles on the floor when in a five-minute speech, during which he quoted from Joaquin Miller some lines on the real battlefield, the Oregonian completely revolutionized the war risk practice of dealing with lapsed insurance of soldiers who die with compensation due to them.

Amendment Wins This gave the advocates of the amendment a lead of one, 79 to 78, but when they got into the house the amendment won, 168 to 60, although the committee in charge of the bill was opposed to the amendment.

"I feel that the amendment offered by the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. Elliott) is a most meritorious one, and should be adopted by the house. It merely provides, in case an insurance policy has lapsed where a soldier has died who was entitled to draw compensation from the government, and where he has not drawn that compensation, and has not claimed it, that the compensation shall be applied upon the insurance policy and the insurance policy shall be reinstated."

Duty Should Guide "It will inure to the benefit of the mother or wife of the soldier. We should be guided in these measures, not by the failure or the default of the soldier in these measures, not by the failure or the default of the soldier to take advantage of the technicalities of the law, but we should be guided by our duty and by our moral obligation to the soldier's mother, to the soldier's widow—a soldier who, forsooth, through ignorance or inadvertence, has permitted his policy to lapse.

"I have the case of a soldier who was discharged in February of 1919, Harold J. Taylor, of Lakeview, Ore. He died in December, 1919, of tuberculosis. He was found by the bureau of war risk insurance to have been a temporary total disability from the time of his discharge. A month after he was discharged he endeavored to work, but immediately fainted. He was sent to the hospital in San Francisco and died in December, 1919.

Made No Claim "Every doctor who considered his case found that the tuberculosis was of service origin, that from the day of his discharge he was unable to work. He did not even put in an application for his compensation. Had he done so he would have been entitled to $90 a month from the date of his discharge. Yet he defaulted on that and defaulted upon his insurance, allowed it to lapse either through ignorance or through some inadvertence.

"And now his wife is denied the insurance that the others receive. It seems to me that the gentleman's amendment is a most meritorious one. Oh, the bravest battle that ever was fought— Shall I tell you where and when? On the map of the world you'll find it not. 'Twas fought by the mothers of men. 'Twas not with cannon or battleshot,

With sword or noble pen, 'Twas not with eloquent word or thought From the lips of wonderful men. But deep in a welled-up woman's heart, A woman who would not yield, But bravely, silently, bore her part, Lo, there is that battlefield. "It is for that woman, that mother, that wife, bravely, silently bearing her part, that I am appealing. I hope this amendment will give them some little benefit, the same benefit that the mothers and wives of the other boys are getting. I do not think this boy's mother or his wife should be penalized for a boy who was a total disability—merely because his insurance policy through his ignorance or inadvertence had lapsed. I sincerely hope that this house will give to that mother and to that wife an opportunity to reinstata that policy."

M'Arthur Succeeds In Move for Caucus

Herald Washington Bureau WASHINGTON, June 15.—Reapportionment will be considered this week by a Republican conference of Congressmen McArthur of Oregon and Barbour of California have made a call for such a conference and have filed it with Congressman Green, who has stated he will call the conference before the end of the week.

There has been a tremendous effort on the part of senators and congressmen from states which would lose representation under the proposed reapportionment to prevent any reapportionment, but the men from the Western states are determined to get prompt action and therefore will force the committee action through the caucus.

American Ships May Get Free Canal Tolls

Herald Washington Bureau WASHINGTON, June 15.—Free tolls for all coastwise ships through the Panama canal are certain and the Borah bill reported favorably by the senate interoceanic canals committee may be amended either on the floor or the senate or in the house to include all American vessels using the canal.

There is apparently no opposition to the coastwise waiver of tolls and it is believed here there will be little practical opposition to relieving all American ships of tolls of international complications can be avoided. The free tolls legislation will be pushed to an early vote in both houses.

Senator McNary Aids Fight on Pine Beetle

Herald Washington Bureau WASHINGTON, June 15.—Senator McNary has put into the record the resolution of the Oregon State board of forestry on the need for a federal assistant to fight the pine beetle and will introduce an amendment to one of the appropriation bills or a separate bill to provide the necessary money. He had a conference today with Chief Entomologist Howard of the department of agriculture on the subject.

Lumbermen Have Not Asked Special Tariff

Herald Washington Bureau WASHINGTON, June 15.—Lumber interests of the United States have not requested, and a majority do not desire, passage of the proposed 25 per cent ad valorem duty on finished lumber, adopted by the house ways and means committee, Donald D. Conn, representative of the Northwestern Pine Interests, declared here. Mr. Conn said the Southern Pine association, which produces 45 per cent of all lumber and 75 per cent of the pine cut in the United States; the Western Pine Manufacturers' association, of Portland, Ore., the greatest pine producing association in the North, and the Northern Pine association with its more than a score of miles in Wisconsin and Minnesota, have not asked the committee for a protective tariff on finished lumber.

Moose Delegate Off Tomorrow to Grand Convention in East

W. T. Lee leaves here in the morning for a trip to the east which will cover about three weeks time and nearly 4,000 miles. Mr. Lee is the national delegate from Moose Lodge 1106, Klamath Falls, and will represent the lodge at the thirty-third annual supreme convention of the world, which takes place at Toledo, Ohio, June 27 to July 1.

At Toledo the delegates will be taken by special train to Mooseheart to participate in the graduation exercises held on July 2-3, and after that Mr. Lee will return to Chicago and then leave for a brief visit in Nashville, Tenn. A visit with relatives in "the old home town" follows at Columbia, Tenn., the first visit since 1829. The return home will be made by the southern route from New Orleans and across to Los Angeles, thence home.

While on this trip, Mr. Lee will visit the Nash automobile plant at Kenosha, Wisconsin, for a general educational visit and to learn all about the automobile situation.

Negotiations Twixt U. S. and Japan Start

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Direct negotiations have been begun between the United States and Japan for the settlement of pending questions, including Yap, immigration, alien land ownership and the return of Shantung to China by Japan.

The negotiations will be conducted by Ambassador Shidehara and Secretary of State Hughes.

It was time to wake up, all right

MY BRAIN was busy, BUILDING AIR castles, FOR I wasn't sleepy, FINALLY I dozed off, AND PROMPTLY dreamed, THAT I was awake, BUT WOKE right up, AND FOUND I was asleep, THEN I got thinking, OF A wonderful formula, FOR MAKING cigarettes, I PLANNED it all out, SO MUCH Turkish tobacco, BLENDED JUST so with Burley, AND OTHER Domestic leaf, AND I knew that blend, WOULD MAKE a hit, I COULD just see, CROWDS OF happy people, THRONGING INTO stores.

TO BUY that cigarette, THEN LIGHTING up, SMACKING THEIR lips, AND SAYING, "Oh, Boy, IT'S THE exact copy, OF THAT 'Satisfy' blend," AND THEN I came to, AND SAID to myself, "THIS TIME you're dreaming, FOR SURE, WAKE UP, you darn fool, WHY, THAT 'Satisfy' blend, SIMPLY CAN'T be copied."

THAT'S a fact—the "Satisfy blend" can't be copied. It's our own secret—putting those good tobaccos together in a way that gives you every last ounce of their fragrance. You'll smack your lips over Chesterfields. And remember—you can't get "Satisfy" anywhere else.

Thinks Klamath Girls Have Prettiest Feet; He Ought to Know

(From the American Legion Department in Portland Telegram) Sergeant Floyd Meadows writes back to the ole hum town that the people of Klamath Falls have the prettiest feet of any folks he has seen. Floyd is now selling brogans in the Pelican city and says the job beats the soft one he used to have in Centres, when he was one of the stars of B company, 162d. When the war started Floyd and his brother, Lee, were among the first to volunteer to fight the Hun.

They tickled Captain West out of a year's growth by signing up with B in a little hillside somewhere in France. Lee Meadows is sleeping, having fallen in one of the great offensives put on by the American army, one of the attacks that brought the war to a close. During his months overseas Sergeant Floyd Meadows spent a great deal of time lookin' 'em over and never saw one that suited his heart's fancy. But soon after he returned he jazzed up the altar with the sweet girl of his dreams. After working in a shoe emporium here for a while he took the measure and beat it for Klamath Falls. He's now buying boots and selling a few at the handsome shoe parlor of J. Enders & Co. He also writes the ads for that store.

PORTLAND WOMAN AND MUSIC TEACHER HELD IN SLAYING

PORTLAND, June 15.—Mrs. Louisa Agoo, widow of Harry Agoo, and J. H. Klecker, music teacher, are ordered held as material witnesses in the alleged murder of Agoo here Friday night. John Doe warrants charging first degree murder have been issued. Agoo's throat was slashed. The first theory was that the slaying was done by burglars, but the police later questioned this.
