JOHNNY KILBANE'S SIZE-UP OF CARPENTIER

BY JOHNNY KILBANE, Featherweight Champion

(Copyrighted 1921 by Newspaper Enterprise.)

KILBANE AND CARPENTIER

MANHASSET, L. I., June 16.—I've just made a close-up of Georges Carpentier, the French challenger.

I called at his barricaded training camp on one of his non-visiting days, for I wanted to see him work when he wasn't performing for public consumption.

I talked with him afterward for more than an hour on the flower-bordered front porch of the old farmhouse in which he is quartered.

Georges is the fastest heavyweight I ever have seen.

Although he has been using his right hand mainly in public sparring with Jeannette, Journee (who's a double for Al Palzer) and his other partners, the challenger has a wonderful left that is lightning fast on jabs and hooks. It was with his left hand that he jabbed his way with Joe Beckett to an opening that put the Englishman's chin in line for the right-handed knockout blow in the first round.

His right cross is a dandy and he has a "flying punch" that he seldom uncorks and which I never have seen used before. It may be that he's holding it out for July 2nd. When an opening to the chin occurs Georges, who is always on his toes, veritably throws himself through the air at his opponent, with his right arm straight out before him. Every ounce of steam and strength is behind his blow, and if it lands, it's a 10 to 1 shot that a kayo will result. Burly Joe Beckett crumpled like paper when it collided with his chin.

There's been a lot of talk about Carpentier's "waltz punch." It's nothing much more, as I see it, than a series of rapid-fire left jabs to the face, the Frenchman meanwhile dancing in and out and circling his opponent to make his turn.

Carpentier is training differently than Dempsey. The champ is working for strength, endurance and hitting ability; Georges is centering his efforts on increasing his already amazing speed. Dempsey plans a give-and-take fight; the challenger's campaign calls for him to do most of the giving and very little receiving. For it's generally admitted in the Carpentier camp that should the "man killer" get in one of his famous "socks" there would be little hope for Georges.

Descamps figures Carpentier has an excellent chance if he sticks to long-range fighting, for the challenger packs a wicked wallop himself, and is capable of delivering it while traveling at high speed.

The Frenchman's plan will be to go into high gear in the first round and stay out of a mix with the champ at all cost. He'll try to keep off Dempsey's bull-like rushes with his stinging jabs, watching always for an opening for his "flying punch."

Both the indoor and outdoor rings at Manhasset are 12-footers, Georges is training in these for speed. He'll go into the big bout accustomed to working in a small area and the 20-foot ring at Jersey will give him acres of room to dance away from the champ. In the smaller ring, working with Big Journee and Jeannette, Carpentier gets accustomed also to working on the ropes, and if Dempsey does crowd him into a corner on July 2nd, the challenger will be in better shape to fight his way out than if he had not been training for it.

eager to show their prowess. If Manager McDonald will allow it, there will be a ringfull of "smokes" as eight are eager to be signed up.

Returning

Miss Ethelda Bleibtrey, crack New York swimmer, is coming back from Honolulu to compete in the national championships at Pasadena, Cal. Miss Bleibtrey holds five world's records. While in Honolulu she lowered her own world's record of 1 minute 51.5 seconds for 100 yards to 1 minute 22.4 seconds.

want to be lifted out of yourself and thrilled to the core, make sure that you see "The Return of Tarzan."

Plenty of real jungle atmosphere is shown. The tall, waving trees, the dense underbrush, the wild animals—nothing is missing. The cast, headed by Gene Pollar as "Tarzan" and Karla Schramm, is augmented by such well-known animal actors as the L. K. lions, including four cubs who make their screen debut, the famous gorilla, Joe Martin; the big elephant Charley, fifty white horses, two camels, several other apes and gorillas, and five old mules. Joe Martin is seen in many dramatic and humorous scenes with Tarzan, while Charley not only has big footage in the story, but played an important role in the producing of the feature, having acted as moving van for much of the scenery.

THE LIBERTY

"Two Weeks With Pay," the newest Bebe Daniels picture, which plays tonight at the Liberty Theatre, is the sprightly tale of a working girl's vacation. Miss Daniels is seen in a dual role, that of the little salesgirl and a famous film actress for whom she is mistaken. But it is in the adventures of Pansy, the salesgirl, that the audience is interested.

It would be awfully hard on the store keepers and office executives of the land if all vacations ended so triumphantly for the girls and so badly for business as did Pansy's little old two weeks. But from Pansy's standpoint, her vacation was a huge success, even though it started rather inauspiciously in a mud puddle.

THE MONDALE

"Ewing and Ewing" in a blackface singing, talking and dancing act and Harry Hehner, "The Human Mocking Bird," have two headline acts in the vaudeville world. These clever entertainers appear at the Mondale Theatre Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings.

The film offering for Friday night is "Ashes of Hope," a big western picture, starring Jack Livingston and a good comedy.

Tonight (Thursday) Bill Hart in "Between Men," will furnish a series of thrills in each succeeding reel, besides two sparkling comedies, one of them featuring Ben Turpin.

How we all hate a quitter! He always stops just before we get a chance to bump him.

Dorris Anticipates Warm Game Sunday

DORRIS, Cal., June 16.—Local fans and enthusiasts of the National Pastime are looking forward with no little anticipation and anxiety to the game to be played on the home lot Sunday when the Ewaunas of Klamath Falls will invade Dorris and endeavor to take back the scalps of the Butte Valley Idols.

Manager J. F. Ethridge of the Dorris aggregation is lining his men up for a hot contest and promises to give fans their money's worth. Dorris has played four games this season, winning one. Arrangements are under way by which the local tossers will appear in games at Klamath Falls on July 3, 4 and 5, during the celebration there.

At the Theaters

THE STAR

"The Return of Tarzan," at The Star Theatre tonight, the latest development of the Tarzan epic, is presented in a plot that simply tingles with thrills. It is easily the most exciting picture you will ever have the pleasure of seeing—hand-to-hand fights between Tarzan and two full-grown, blood-thirsty lions, a spectacular shipwreck, stirring scenes in the underworld of Paris, of wild animals in their native haunts, adventure and a love story that threads the plot like a vein of gold. If you

JOSH WISE ON THE BIG FIGHT

BY JACK RAPER

A WORD FROM JOSH WISE

A fighter can't have both a paunch and a punch.

A Paris cable says a fortune teller there has predicted Carpentier will be defeated. Strange the French should call for a fortune teller. She talks more like a misfortune teller.

Dempsey says he doesn't know whether it was his right or his left that he used the first time he knocked Willard down. We'll wager Willard doesn't know, either.

All the sport eds who have watched Carpentier work out say he is a marvel at sidestepping. George should settle in this country and run for office.

Both Dempsey and Carpentier go through a little wrestling stunt every day or two and somehow or other each man always throws his opponent. And while they are throwing their opponents, their managers throw the bull.

Dempsey added only four pound to his weight in his layoff, but it caused more talk than if Great Britania had added a hundred billion pounds to her national debt.

Nearly every newspaper story from the training camps talk about the speed of the two men. Say, what's this thing to be—a race?

Millionaires and society folk on Long Island have been showering Carp with invitations to dine with them, but he has declined them all. And quite properly. Georges is in the business of advertising himself, not millionaires.

Dempsey uses pillows when he boxes with his sparring partners. When Jess Willard trained at Toledo he used cushions.

Whether Dempsey will use straight arm blows or swings, of course we haven't the slightest idea. But if we were to guess we'd say he'd try to catch Carp with a hook.

TEAM IS DOING DAILY PRACTICE FOR NEXT GAME

The winners of the game that will take place here Sunday are practicing this afternoon at Modoc Park and if you doubt the authenticity of this statement, hop into your car or walk out to the diamond and see them in action, the Klamath Falls city team! While the fans know that Weed will fall before the determined attack of the locals, still it will put heart and vim into the boys if a bunch of rooters will step out in the afternoon for an hour or so, after four o'clock, and "rag 'em" a little about what Weed did to them last Sunday. It might cause some of them to whirl a horseshoe or a bat in the direction of the taunting fan, but it will do them good.

It sure is news that the Klamath Falls team are out doing the necessary training for the exciting game that comes off here Sunday. Isn't it? It means that the boys are out with blood in their eyes and determination to carry off that victory and redeem themselves in the esteem of the local fans, doesn't it? A little vicious slaming of the pill around the circuit, the batting of flies out to the fielders and the warming up of "glass arms" before the day when they will shine in the eyes of fandom.

The team for the coming contest will be under the sole direction of L. P. Montgomery, who was chosen last night at a conference to take over the management and the selection of the players. Montgomery is an old Southern league player and has had much experience in the handling of clubs—and Montgomery announces without any boasting or trace of conceit that he intends to be "captain and boss absolute" up to Sunday's game, also that he will give them a course in teamwork, tricks, signals and big league headwork that will unite them into a fast, all around one-man team. Montgomery wants snap, action and punch from the boys and will either get it—or find a substitute who will produce.

Montgomery states that he will be satisfied with no less than a winner Sunday and to this result, will be glad to devote his time after four o'clock to the building up of a fast, clever, quick-thinking and unit-acting machine—but the players must turn out! The fans are invited to come out too, and assist in the "workouts." All together, three cheers for Montgomery!

Loses $3000

Being a holdout has cost Helene Groh, third baseman for the Cincinnati Reds, $3000.00. Seven weeks' delay in signing up has brought her $10,000 salary down that much, says Garry Herrmann, president of the Reds.

Fan Gossip

"Hit the ball," is Montgomery's new slogan for Sunday.

Practice is what makes a winner in the baseball world, and Klamath Falls is scheduled to head the bush leaguers in this state. Any contestants?

The players committee at their recent meeting surrounded their authority without protest that Sunday, the fans would see Klamath Falls carry off the game, under the leadership of "Cap." Monty. Its up to Monty to make good.

Moody and McGee are in Ashland today talking their friend Barham into coming over here to pitch for the locals Sunday against Weed. Barham was considered for the Fourth of July contests here but received no invitation and signed up with the Ashland Elks to play against the Medford Antlers on that date. Moody says that he may swing Barham over yet.

J. N. Alnutt states that the Medford Elks and the Ashland Elks are very strong teams this year and that the series of games that are being played now are snappy contests. Alnutt just returned from Medford and Ashland Tuesday.

The boxing commission will soon pass on the list of attractions that Manager "Blackie" McDonald has in store for them: From all unconfirmed reports, the main event on the Fourth card will be a match between "Baby" Blue, a chocolate dewdrop, and some vanilla flavored gumdrop. "Baby" Blue has the reputation of being a fast artist with his mitts.

The first attraction on the boxing program will be a real old fashioned "battle royal" between all the "clouds" in this city and they are

Japs' "Babe"

Here is the Babe Ruth of Japan. He's Kato Tanaka, star slugger of the Waseda University team which is touring the United States. But he hasn't hit a homer here yet.
