

JOSH WISE ON THE BIG FIGHT

BY JACK RAPER

A WORD FROM JOSH WISE:

Purses meant nothin' t' old John L. He was ready at th' drop o' th' hat t' fight one round er to drink ten.

A Massachusetts congressman has introduced a resolution calling for the postponement of the fight. But if it should be postponed how would all the senators and representatives pass away the time on July 2?

It had to be. Give 'em time and they all say it. The sport eds have sent in dispatches saying Dempsey is as brown as a berry. What kind of a berry? Raspberry?

Carpenter is said to be a splendid judge of distance. Mobby he used to be a surveyor.

If everybody were as certain of the result as the two big fighters claim to be, you could put all the spectators at Jersey City in one Sney.

Any time a prizefighter is broke it's easy enough for him to raise money, even if he hasn't a watch or diamonds to pawn. He can put up his hands.

Dempsey keeps his left hand taped and covered with billiard table felt when he spars or punches the bag. And then when he lands with his right it's always felt.

A Manhattan dispatch says Carpenter caught a rabbit, but it does not explain just how he did it. To catch a squirrel you make a noise like a nut, and mobby to catch a rabbit you make a noise like a cabbage.

Dempsey's cats have been cut down to two meals a day. What has become of the old-fashioned prizefighter who never let training interfere with his eating?

The ex-pugs and the ex-perts who watched Carp, say he isn't easily excited and doesn't lose his head. All of which may be true, but he was up in the air a lot during the war.

Dempsey swings heavily on his sparring partners whenever he has an opportunity. In fact, his right hand swing is famous, Jess Willard's favorite was the porch swing.

Carp is something of a gymnast, and Deschamps says he can tumble as well as any man in France. This may turn out to be a rough and tumble scrap.

LAST NOTICE TO THE HONOR ROLL SUBSCRIBERS

The latest and final shipment of Honor Rolls is here and those who ordered copies are asked to call for them. Many of the books have been paid for and should be in the hands of their owners.

We also have a number of photographs used in illustrating the book. The pictures were obtained with instructions to forward them, in many cases, to mail addresses. These instructions have been followed but a number of the envelopes have been returned by the postal service, marked "Address Unknown." Evidently the owners have moved without leaving a forwarding address.

We desire to clean up the entire matter, and this is the last notice that will be given. One more effort will be made to distribute the books and pictures. Where it is not possible to locate the persons entitled to them, they will be filed at the owners' risks. The Herald will take no further responsibility.

The Klamath County Honor Roll is a complete roster of Klamath county's service men and the war workers who put the home campaigns over. It is handsomely and durably bound, printed on the best paper obtainable and will be increasingly valuable as a war record as the years pass.

Call and get your copy, if you know that you subscribed to its publication, or send your address and 12 cents for postage. Photographs will be mailed on receipt of address and six cents for postage.

Golf Tourney Under Way in Portland

PORTLAND, June 21.—One hundred and fourteen golf players teed off today on "Waverly links" while almost as many started on the Portland golf club links in the qualifying rounds at the 21st annual championship tournament of the Pacific Northwest association. Players from many states were entered in the contests.

At the Theaters

THE STAR

There never was a Tourneur picture yet that wasn't packed with tense dramatic moments. Here are some of the thrilling scenes from "The Bolt," showing at the Star tonight.

Bennett Barton, the master crook, frames up a collision between a police patrol wagon and a vegetable cart so that he may rescue Joan from the patrol during the excitement.

At the Solles Bergere, the famous Parisian theatre, a performing lion on the stage suddenly escapes from its cage and bounds into the box where Joan and Barton are sitting. Joan is rescued from its claws by John Warren, a millionaire.

John Garson, a reformed gambler, and Barton fight a thrilling battle with bare fists in the garret of an east side tenement for the paper that will take Joan out of Barton's power. A lamp upsets, setting fire to the place. Garson escapes, leaving Barton behind to be burned alive.

Joan, taking the chance of losing Warren forever, tells the story of her past. He takes her into his arms. Sounds pretty interesting, doesn't it? It isn't half all.

THE LIBERTY

William Farnum the popular star, is coming to the Liberty theatre tonight in one of the most stirring roles of his career. It is that of Francois Villon, the famous vagabond in Justin Huntly McCarthy's book and play "If I Were King"—a role made famous on the stage by E. H. Sothern.

Mr. Farnum has given to the screen many of the most important pictures shown in the last few years. His dual role in "A Tale of Two Cities," Charles Dickens' famous story, is still being shown throughout the United States and Great Britain and on the continent. It is indeed a classic in motion picture
