

WORLD PRESS TO MEET, OCTOBER, IN HONOLULU

HONOLULU, Territory of Hawaii, June 22.—An effort is being made by interested Honoluluans to have brought to this city for exhibition during the Press Congress of the World, to be held here from October 11 to 25, an ancient Ramage press now in the historical museum at Portland, Oregon. It was upon this press that the first printing west of the Rocky mountains was done shortly after the arrival of the first New England missionaries in the Hawaiian Islands in 1820.

The press was brought around Cape Horn from Boston, Mass., to Hawaii in the brig Thaddeus, which landed the first missionaries near Lahaina, island of Maui, more than 160 years ago, and the old coral building in which it was used by Eliza Loomis, a printer who accompanied the first mission workers, is still standing, and will be one of the interesting places visited by the delegates to the press congress.

One of the greatest tasks which confronted the missionaries was the reduction of the Hawaiian language to a written form, and when this had been accomplished the little hand press served as invaluable purpose by turning out educational and religious matter which the New Englanders desired to promulgate among the natives. Later the Bible was translated and printed in the Hawaiian language.

The building in which the press stood was the first wooden structure of any kind to be erected in the Hawaiian Islands, the lumber having been brought around the Horn in a sailing ship from Boston. It is now a sort of museum and contains many interesting relics of the early missionary days. The business sessions of the press congress will be held in the Hawaiian palace, a few steps from this ancient building.

Rabbit, Unafraid, Wanders in Street

Patrolman McDonald, who has the night patrol, could scarcely believe his eyes when at 2 o'clock yesterday morning at Sixth and Main streets, he observed a full grown jackrabbit on a tour of inspection of this city.

McDonald says this is an evidence that Klamath folks are peaceful and respectable citizens, retiring at the time when all good people should, and this city is then safe enough for the smaller animals to come into town. Jackrabbit evidenced no fear when the officer approached, and was described as being one whose ears would do credit to a Missouri mule.

It Took All the Grit Mason Had To Stick It Out

"Every time I go out on a run now, I feel thankful to Tanlac for I'm convinced it kept me on the job," said William W. Mason, 1924 McClellan St., Philadelphia, for the past nine years a motorman for the Rapid Transit Co.

"I had stomach trouble in a bad form for three years and was going down hill fast. Nothing I ate agreed with me and after every meal I was sure to have heartburn, dizziness and sometimes awful cramps. I got in such a nervous condition my hand shook like a man with the palsy and at nights my sleep was broken and restless. In the mornings I felt so miserable I used to dread the time to come for me to take out my car, and it took every ounce of grit to stick until quitting time. Finally I got so weak and was so discouraged I was ready to give up.

"This was my condition when I started taking Tanlac and I owe all my present good health to this wonderful medicine and to nothing else. The first thing it did for me was to whet my appetite and I soon found I could eat anything without fear of bad after-effects. It's a fact, four bottles made a new man out of me. My nerves are quiet, I sleep like a log and wake up in the morning feeling fine. Then I eat a big breakfast and go to work whistling like I used to long ago. If people knew Tanlac like I do the clerks in the drug stores couldn't wrap it up fast enough to supply the demand. It's great."

Law of Supply and Demand Sending Up Local Booze Prices

There is much complaint registered by patrons who like their "mornings' morning" over the recent raise in the price of bootleg whiskey, which is said to have been carried into this city through an unknown "underground route." For some time past, the ones who wanted to imbibe in "squirrel" and other brands of home brewed liquors felt that they could afford to pay a price of from $7 to $10 a quart but now that the price has soared to $15 and upward, it is too much and there is said to be a marked decline in the bootleggers' sales.

Chief Wilson has tried faithfully to check the sales and has been in large measure successful. There are now no local operators, the chief says, who are getting by with their illicit trade. His orders to patrolmen are to see that city is kept free from that class of merchants and the police have tried to follow orders closely.

In commenting upon the situation, one of the men who was familiar with the situation just after prohibition went into effect stated that nearly all the bootleggers had left here, receiving "tips" from the police here. Since then, only small amounts have been smuggled in and the price has now soared too high to permit of much indulgence.

The largest sum ever spent in improving one street was $14,300,000, laid out on the Rue de Rivoli in Paris.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisons before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ash, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.
If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.
Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.
A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanse, purify and freshen the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.
Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should just try this for a week and notice results.
