KILBANE SAYS GIBBONS NEXT TO MEET JACK

BY JOHNNY KILBANE
 JERSEY CITY, N. J. July 8.—The next logical opponent for Champion Jack Dempsey is Tommy Gibbons. Gibbons would have put up a better fight against Dempsey than Georges Carpentier did. Dempsey won in the round I predicted in my N. E. A. articles and the blows that put Carpentier out were the blows I forecasted. Carpentier was knocked out because he didn't use those famous brains of his; because he failed to stay out of the clinches. Boxing was the method by which Georges could have won. He was advertised as a better and more skillful boxer than Dempsey, and he proved this superiority beyond the shadow of a doubt. Georges was a fool not to stand up and box all the time. Whenever he boxed he easily beat Dempsey. Dempsey had more weight, more strength and more stamina. This overcame Carpentier's greater speed and boxing skill. Why Carp Lost Carpentier lost because he let himself get into clinches where Dempsey, with his 20 pounds of excess weight, could lay that weight against him and wear him out and weaken him with short jabs. In spite of Carpentier's handicap of choosing the wrong method of fighting, he fought an even fight up to the fatal fourth round. It was plain to me that Dempsey was beating him in the first round in the clinches by using short uppercuts, mostly lefts. I give Dempsey the first round, but the second round unquestionably belonged to Carpentier. He was boxing in this round and he was too fast for Dempsey. Jack was missing and Carpentier was landing worth-while punches. I judged the third round a draw with Carpentier landing more blows, but with Dempsey averaging things up with his superior strength. Carp Hit More Blows Taking the fight as a whole, Carpentier landed more clean blows than Dempsey did, just as I forecasted. If Carpentier had boxed all the time and danced his way out of those deadly clinches as he did so admirably in the second round, he might have won. Carpentier didn't do the things he could do better than Dempsey and he tried to do the things that Dempsey could do better than he could. That was Carpentier's fatal mistake. The Frenchman surprised many by the splendid fight he put up. He had Dempsey groggy in the second round. And he did this in spite of the fact that he was weakened by the punishment he received in the clinches during the first round. I predicted Dempsey would win in the fourth round with a left hook to the jaw, and this actually was the beginning of the end. It put Carpentier down for the count of nine and Dempsey followed up with a shift of the same blows. A left to the body and crossing with a right to the jaw. That was the knockout. Dempsey hasn't slowed up since he met Willard. Liking he should fight every three months to keep that championship and his first opponent should be Tommy Gibbons. HEALTH CRUSADE INSTITUTE PLANNED FOR JULY 27-29

Of interest to teachers and to the 33,000 Oregon school children enrolled in the Modern Health Crusade last year, is the institute for crusade workers to be held in Portland, July 27 to 29, by Miss Grace Osborne, of the National Tuberculosis association. The crusade, which supplied free by the Oregon Tuberculosis association, is a system for forming health habits in children through daily health "chores." The three-day institute, open to teachers, county and school nurses, and superintendents, will comprise an intensive study of the most successful methods for conducting the crusade. Miss Elisabeth Hopper, crusade director, 1010 Sealing Building, Portland, may be consulted for enrollment.

Blue-Gordon Return Bout Now Interests

Since the announcement made by Babe Blue, Tuesday, that he challenged Sammy Gordon for another ten round go, the challenge has been made the subject of conversation in the many places where devotees of the boxing game congregate. The fact that a challenge has been made both openly and by letter to the "Fighting Jew" in Portland for this return match before Klamath county sportsmen has met with a satisfaction that usually does not accompany like announcements. There is in this challenge a note of sincerity that carries both weight and conviction and as both men have demonstrated that they really "deliver the goods" the promoters can be assured in advance that a crowded arena will greet the pair, should Gordon accept and the bout be arranged. Babe Blue has stated that every time that he has been matched to meet Gordon, and the two tangle, the result has been nearly always a draw. Gordon however receiving a decision over him once last year. Since then two draws have been fought by the men and should another bout be arranged, Blue feels that training out here sufficiently ahead of the time and securing some "stiff" trainers who can battle hard with him in his daily workouts will make him a victor over his recent opponent. Sammy Gordon remarked just before he left that the clean method of handling boxing events here, and the "plain unvarnished instructions" from the boxing commission in regard to what was expected of the boxers, made it enjoyable for him to appear before the local populace for he was unhampered by any "strings" and could battle in the way that he likes to—with fire and enthusiasm every round. Asked if he would care to meet Blue again, Gordon stated that should the chance be afforded him again to meet him, he would demonstrate his ability to decisively. Another question put to Gordon and Blue was whether either one would care to meet Georgie Lee, the Chinese revelation. Both declared that this part Spanish and Chinese lad was a worthy foe and as both men have met him once, both securing draws, Georgie would be a prime choice with them. Both declare this San Francisco pugilist a "hard nut to stop" and that his reputation from Los Angeles to Portland made him a target for all the ambitious ones to want to meet. With most of the spectators present Monday, the consensus of opinion is that Blue and Gordon should be matched again and that both should arrive on the local training grounds at least three weeks ahead of time and get acclimated. Everyone seems to be strongly in favor of the bout and all that remains to be done is match them and secure permission for the match. Co-operation with the United States is sought by President Zayas of Cuba, just as though we had not done all the co-operating every time a muss started down there.

BLOOD ON THE MOON IN LOCAL LEAGUE CIRCLES

Truce has been declared "off" again in the city league. The red flag of battle has been raised and baseball bats have been dug out of hidden places by the blood thirsty warriors of the Coppo, Ewaunas, Jewel and Plumbob teams. To a bystander, this mixed up mess of baseball players have a close resemblance to the term used in boxing, "battle royal" but in a battle royal when a dusky warrior touches, the floor with any portion of his body, he is eliminated by the rules laid down in the beginning but not so with this bunch of wild eyed devotees to baseball—no such mercy or luck. When one of those teams get in the eliminated class, all of them quit battling each other and jump onto the "down-and-outer"—in plain language, they are simply wild men. While visitors were present in the city during the Fourth of July the baseball clubs were on their good behavior—and were so polite—but "company" was here and no one wanted to act naughty. Now the visitors are away and a genuine old fashioned home row and scandal can be indulged in, with no one about to interfere. Pet baseball used by Jake Welmer, Alexander, "Pop" Ausley, Babe Ruth and a number of other baseball heroes have been produced and the history related about them. "What happened when he went to the bat in the ninth inning two down, three balls and two strikes"—just such stories are the foundation for what the members of the teams in the Sunday mixup say "will happen when I go to bat." Since the humbling of the haughty Jewels by the Coppo, there has been little or any conversation between those members and it is true in the case of the Plumbobs, they fail to recognize the Coppo when the latter are in their street costume. The Ewaunas likewise are "in bad" with the Plumbobs, and what agreement has been signed for a love feast between the Jewels and Plumbobs? Such is war, baseball war. A cruel unmerciful, unrelenting campaign for a fight to the finish, with the "calked boots" as a dessert to the eliminated teams in a contest, from now on. It seems that those wicked players actually have forgotten the axiom. "If thy neighbor hit thee with a stone, cast not, but smile and return good for evil," from what the sporting writer heard the wretches have changed the meaning to "If thy opposing team slams out with a bat, run not, but grab thy trusty willow and slug out a six bagger"—boys, oh boys, what a wicked lot. Chief of Police Wilson certainly will be called out Sunday with his reserves when those teams meet for two seven inning games Sunday at Modoc Park. The undertakers state they will be on hand with ambulances and arnica and everything to take care of the wounded.

ANGLER URGES RE-STOCKING SPRING CREEK

Seventeen seasons of fishing on Spring Creek, and this is the first year the stream has disappointed J. B. Coleman, San Francisco realty man, who left for home this morning after ten days' stay at Spink's camp. Mr. Coleman couldn't figure it out, and he is a piscatorial expert, rated as one of the best fly fishermen in the United States. He wouldn't leave Spring Creek without at least taking one fish, so yesterday afternoon, using all his skill, he landed one 3 1/4-pounder, but that's poor foundation for the stories he expected to tell his friends, stories they would naturally expect after the sixteen preceding seasons' experience. "It is a pity that some effort is not made to keep Spring Creek stocked," said Mr. Coleman. "I've fished in many streams, but it is, in my estimation, the greatest of them all. In Spring Creek Klamath county has a lure that will draw anglers from the four corners of the earth. "Here, where eggs and young stock are being shipped out to stock all the streams in Oregon, it seems strange that fifty thousand trout could not be planted yearly in the finest stream in the state. Yet I am told by Mr. Spink that he has been unable to secure fish for restocking." Mr. Coleman said that the fishing was good in the Williamson river, much as one would say: "Oh, yes, sunflowers are gorgeous, and doubtless attractive to those who like sunflowers, but the rose that I cherished has dropped all of its petals." In other words, he was interested in the fishing in Spring Creek. Every year Mr. Coleman brings from half a dozen to a dozen friends with him on his fishing excursion. He makes two trips into Oregon yearly, one to Spring Creek and one to the Rogue. In his party at Spring Creek this year were Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Burnham of Martinez, California; Major

William H. Gerstle, San Francisco; Mr. Lyon, of Chanslor & Lyon, San Francisco, and Major H. L. A. Swan, Headington, England. Major Swan is a British army officer. He served four years in France, and is now taking an extended vacation. He was recommended to try Klamath county fishing at the Morgan & Co. office, when he sought directions in New York.

BONANZA NEWS

Mrs. Ada Parsons entertained at cards last Wednesday evening, June 29, complimentary to her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Porter of Los Angeles, who are on an extended camping trip to Montana. Other guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Bell of this place formerly of Knoxville, Tenn. After the game refreshments were served. Miss Myrtle Bunn, who has been sick with typhoid for a few weeks, is still improving. Her friends will be very glad indeed to know she is able to be out again. Many of the Bonanza citizens and families attended the Bly Roundup July 2, 3 and 4. Closing exercises of the Brown school, of which Mrs. Chaney of Bonanza is teacher, were held Friday July 1. An enjoyable program was given by the pupils of the school, followed by a picnic dinner on the grounds. After the dinner a meeting was held by the parent-teachers association to close all business for the past school term. A classified Ad will sell it.

FOREMAN WAS ABOUT TO QUIT

PORTLAND MAN WAS ABOUT ALL IN WHEN HE FOUND RELIEF IN TANLAC
 "I'm now going on seventy years of age, but there's not a man on the yards who feels better at the end of a day's work than I do," said Samuel S. Apple, well known yard foreman for the New Mexico Lumber Co., residing at 464 West Clay street, Portland, Oregon, while relating his experience with Tanlac recently. "For the past three years, that is until I got Tanlac, my stomach has given me a great deal of trouble. I got to where practically everything I ate seemed to collect in a lump like lead right in the pit of my stomach, gas would form and bloat me up as tight as a drum, and cramping pains would nearly double me up. My back hurt so bad I just could drag through the day, and then when I got home I couldn't eat a bite of supper, and had to crawl right into bed. "Well, I thought I would have to give up work, but I heard so much about Tanlac I got a bottle, and it's simply made a new man out of me. I've taken five bottles of this medicine, and am eating big meals of substantial food like I used to eat years ago, and never have a bit of trouble afterwards. I'm rid of all those aches and pains, have gained ten pounds in weight, and all my old-time strength and energy have come back to me. In fact, I feel fully ten years younger, and I hope my statement may cause others to take Tanlac, for I believe it will help them just like it did me."—Ad.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Adv.

Well, Look Who's Here!
 This is the first picture of Babe Ruth in more than 24 hours! Since the big prize fight is on Babe doesn't loom up in the public eye as he used to. However, that hasn't kept him from being several weeks ahead of his best year's home-run record. Here he is with a silver loving cup presented by the amateur ball players of New York. Babe is using the hat seen as he starts his trot around the bases.
