BOXING MUST BE CLEAN OR SPORT STOPS

The council last night placed itself on record as being alive to the need of clean sport in this city and is more than willing to do its part providing the boxing commission will scan carefully the record and the status of each boxer who appears here, and, under all circumstances, protect the public from being imposed upon by crooked promoters.

The commission appointed for two days, July 4-5th inclusive, consisting of Fred Soule, Fred Houston, O. M. Hector, Dr. Stewart and K. Sugarman rendered satisfactory service during the life of their appointment and saw to it that the two day card given here on those days was up to the standard required, and this fact was most important when presented last night to the city "dads." The actual "doing" and "living" strictly up to the instructions" given them by the council was carried out to the letter and the council knew that should the life of the commission be made permanent, they would act as in the first instance.

The council made one provision however to safeguard themselves in the future. Each member of the commission was asked to place his resignation in the hands of the council before the permanency of the commission was granted, with the understanding that should any unwise move be made by that body, the council could withdraw the commission and immediately counteract the error.

The members of the commission readily assented to this action and following this, the council voted unanimously for the commission. With a commission composed of Hector, Houston, Soule, K. Sugarman and Dr. Stewart, both the public and council can be assured in advance that the boxing game will receive a healthy growth in southern Oregon and Klamath Falls will lead in the production of classy clean boxing bouts.

The public can assist too, by lending a hand, by making suggestions and supplying information relative to any card which may be scheduled for this city.

Redmond Saw Good
Boxing on Fourth

The Klamath Falls sports can thank their local boxing commission for giving them a very creditable card on the Fourth of July and one that was completely satisfactory to the assembled fans.

Over in the neighboring city of Bend, the fans were given a fairly good card at the same time and the Redmond Spokesman sport writer describes the events as follows:

"Duffy Knorr won over Billy Ryan at Bend Monday night when he met the well known Portland boxer in the semi-windup on the Fourth of July card. He scored a technical knockout when Ryan's seconds threw in a towel at the end of the sixth round.

"Ryan fought a cool, heady battle in the early bout but the fifth round began to weaken under Knorr's attack. In the sixth he was unable to maintain any defense, his arms at his side while Knorr hit him at will. It was evident that the next round would see a knock-out.

"Kid Taylor of Bend and Bert Hughes of Vancouver, B. C., met in the main event which went ten rounds to a draw, it having been agreed that this should be the decision if both men were in the ring at the end of the bout.

"Speck Woods of Bend outpointed Willie Mack in a six-round preliminary.

"LeClair and Gene Rose, both of Bend, met in the curtain raiser. LeClair won the decision in this four-round go.

FRUIT GROWERS PLAN
GENERAL ORGANIZATION

PORTLAND, July 12.—The Northwestern fruit growers and marketing experts in session here were today working on a plan for the affiliation of all local co-operative organizations in the territory with a central organization.

Elimination of local sales managers was discussed. It has been decided that an annual fruit marketing conference of the northwest be held.

Not a Chance in The K. F. League

Judging from the attendance at the city league games, there is little chance of the charge, contained in the following clipping being filed.

"D. Simonsen, secretary of the Portland Inter-City Baseball league during the 1920 season, was arrested today in South Bend, Wash., on a charge of larceny by embezzlement of the league's funds, totaling $100. Simonsen was indicted on a secret indictment July 1. He will be returned to Portland to face trial.

EMPLOYMENT IN HARVEST FIELDS
CALLING MANY

Harvest season, calling an average of 250 men daily from Portland, is furnishing relief for the local unemployment situation.

This was the combined opinion of employment agents as given in the Portland Telegram.

Wages, they said, are from 25 to 50 per cent lower than at the corresponding time last year, but the men are generally accepting them.

Further relief is in sight, they declared, by the prospect that lower water will allow many mills to reopen upon settlement of the marine workers' strike.

Highway and railroad work is calling a few men, according to the employment agency managers, but the majority of those leaving town are headed for harvest fields in Oregon and Washington.

G. A. Hurley, of the Pioneer Employment company, which handles much farm labor, is optimistic. He claims that he is unable to meet the demand although he is sending men out at the rate of 20 to 25 a day. He feels that there will be a continued demand for farm labor based on an increase in the price of farm produce. Wages for farm labor have decreased from 25 to 50 per cent since last year, according to Hurley.

He quotes the following as the going wages for Oregon and Washington: Haying, $2; cook, restabout, driver, straw hauler, truck driver, grain hauler, $3; head puncher, hoe down, box loaders, $3.50; sack jig, $4; sack sewers, combine drivers, $5; separator tenders, $5 to $10 per day, and picking up sacks in the field, 2½ cents per sack. Any job paying less than $2 per day goes begging, he says.

According to W. J. Haycocks, of the Oregon labor agency, and J. S. Skinner, of the Skinner & White labor agency, the big lumber operators are waiting to see what the other fellow is going to do.

While he admits that the situation has him guessing large mills, employing several hundred men, are preparing to resume operations as soon as the high water goes down. The seamen's strike has much to do with the present quietness in the lumber industry, he says.

He declares there is much building going on in Portland at present; that the United States is behind with its building, and that the middle west is expected to begin to build as soon as freight rates come down.

BLY NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Walker, who came to Bly for the Rodeo, are spending the week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Givan.

Mrs. N. Smith and mother, Mrs. R. R. Tuttle, were Bly visitors on Friday.

Mrs. J. A. Parker of Bly is spending the week with Mrs. Jas. Driscoll of Klamath Falls. Mrs. Parker has had ill health for the past week and will be under the doctors care while in Klamath Falls.

Mrs. C. W. Warren, son Scott, and Mrs. Jas. Givan are spending the week camping on the north fork of Sprague River. They report fine fishing.

Miss Letha Driscoll of Salem is spending her vacation visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. T. Givan.

BEND HATCHERY TO BE LARGER

The recent visit of the fish and game commission to this city after an inspection of the Crooked Creek hatchery—where over 9,000,000 fingerlings are hatched yearly, and all taken to other portions of the state for distribution—it might be well for the local Crooked Creek hatchery enthusiasts, the Klamath Sportsmen's Association to press the commission for an answer similar to the one given to the Rod and Gun club at Bend recently. The Bulletin writes of the commissioners' visit there like this:

"Enlargement of the Tumalo fish hatchery to a capacity of 5,000,000 eggs is planned, it was stated last night by members of the fish and game commission, who were banqueted by the Rod and Gun club. Thirty sportsmen attended the meeting, which was presided over by H. J. Overturf.

"Central Oregon is recognized as the fishing ground of the entire state and should have the best equipment for perpetuating the supply of trout, it was said. The commission would not promise anything definite, but agreed to do anything in its power to further fishing here as a sport. Funds are lacking, as doubling the license fee did not increase the receipts, it was declared.

"A visit to Suttles and Blue lakes was part of the program of the commission yesterday. They could not throw their flies into the water fast enough to pull out all the fish that wanted to bite, they reported.

At the Theaters
THE STAR

Wallace Reid has become a teacher of charm in a young ladies school! The pupils are taught how to make themselves charming, the course comprising lessons in Grecian and modern dancing, swimming, d'elarte and beauty culture.

But before Mr. Reid is swamped with letters of inquiry from admiring screen fans, it should be said that this is only a part of the star's latest Paramount picture, "The Charm School" which will be shown at the Star Theatre tonight.

According to the story, Mr. Reid, as Austin Bevans, inherits the girls school from his aunt. Believing that women should devote more time to making themselves charming he converts the institution into a "charm" school and changes all the methods of instruction. There is a wealth of Romance, a breezy plot and many other delightful features.

THE LIBERTY

"The Scarab Ring" is the title of the Alice Joyce production which will be shown at the Liberty Theater tonight. It was made under the direction of Edward Jose, one-time director for Sarah Bernhardt, and is based upon a popular novel published under the name of "A Desperate Heritage." This novel was written by Harriet Gaylord, and has found ready sale with lovers of detective fiction. It is a strong society play which offers Miss Joyce what is said to be the most emotional role she has undertaken in her screen career. The star will have added laurels, after this film picture has been shown, throughout the country for it proves that in this new type of role Miss Joyce is excelling anything she has done in the past.

Beautiful scenic backgrounds, exquisite sets, costumes that are sure to please the women, the last word in fashions, elements of love, suspense and mystery cleverly interwoven in a story that holds the attention from the first flash, are the things of which "The Scarab Ring" boasts and which will make for it an enviable place in the hall of fame.

THE STRAND

"A corking baseball play" is the way Bozeman Bulger, baseball expert of the New York World, describes "The Pinch Hitter," a Triangle picture produced under the personal supervision of Thomas H. Ince and starring Charles Ray, which will be exhibited at the Strand theater tonight.

But the baseball game is not the only exciting situation in this comedy. It sparkles with humorous episodes which the author, C. Gardner Sullivan, has drawn from actual happenings of college life.

"This picture is one that every red blooded American will enjoy," says

John K. Tener, president of the national league of professional Baseball Clubs, who witnessed "The Pinch Hitter," at a private showing. "It is fascinating because of its human force, the naturalness of its character in situation and its perfection of baseball technique."

Sylvia Breamer, an Australian beauty makes her debut on the screen as leading woman for the star. Other members of the cast are Joseph J. Dowling, Jerome Storm, Darrel Foss and Louis Durham. The production was directed by Victor L. Schertzinger and photographed by Paul Eagler, with art direction by Robert Brunton.

"During the past three years we tried out several standard makes of tires with the idea of adopting the tire giving the most mileage for the money. We equipped some of our cars with Diamond Tires and we are getting from 6,000 to 10,500 miles by actual speedometer test.

"Diamond tires gave us just the same mileage when on the rear as other standard makes that were on in front. Henceforth, we will equip with nothing but Diamond Tires."
