SAYS COLORADO MAN

LA JUNTA, Colo., July 5.—Not all in the path of the recent flood waters of the Arkansas River were victims, according to Kenneth Woods, ranchman of this section, who declared recently he was about $1,000 ahead because of the flood.

The flood waters deposited several inches of rich soil on his large beet field and the water did not damage the beets. Then the tricky Arkansas washed a five-room modern bungalow onto Wood's farm. The house is completely furnished and Woods has been unable to find the owner.

NAVAJOS FEEL THE PINCH OF DEPRESSION

RAMAH, N. M., July 14.—Navajo blankets are going to be cheaper in the near future, because of an economic pinch among the Navajo Indians, according to present indications, the low price of sheep and wool being hard on the Indians who subsist chiefly on sheep. With the market for wool weak, the Indians are converting their wool into blankets, creating an abnormal supply, which is driving the price down. The situation is expected to ease up in the fall, when the pinon nut crop is harvested.

The first use of the word "strike," as applied to labor troubles, occurred in a London newspaper in 1765. In September of that year are numerous references to a great stoppage of labor in the coal fields, and the workers are stated to have "struck out" for higher wages.
