COUNTY NEEDS STOCK TO EAT BIG HAY CROP

"Klamath county farmers are faced with one of the most peculiar situations in their history this year," stated C. W. Eberlein today. "They have the greatest hay crop coming on that has been known in years and they have no stock to feed it to. Another proposition which they are facing—is a mammoth grain crop, already maturing in the fields, yet their granaries are stored up with last year's yield and no market for it. In simple language, they are up against it with no relief in sight.

"I have watched the crops in this county come and go for over 17 years and never have conditions been so promising nor the yield so good in all farming lines as it is right now," he continued, "but immediate relief is needed to take care of the crops coming on. Stock is needed to eat up this hay. The stockman is not getting any price for his cattle and while the market quotation on wheat in San Francisco is two cents today—the average farmer who has a supply on hands would be more than delighted to get that amount. Even at 75 cents a bushel, that ready money now would enable them to take care of their projects in mighty fine shape."

"While the states of California, Nevada and Arizona are experiencing their dry season now, Klamath county has not suffered in the least and is raising enormous crops, during that depressing period in the neighboring states. Nevada has no crop for feeding sheep, and only parts of Arizona are producing. California will be in need of hay, too, before long.

"If some of those sheep and cattle men in the neighboring states could get their stock here to feed them all winter, it would be great but the freight rates are prohibitive and it would cost too much to drive them here. However, if news of this enormous hay crop could reach the ears of the sheepmen and cattle men of Nevada, the stock could be brought in, as it has in the past. With this enormous crop and no market, the average farmer in this county feels that he is a victim of hard luck in an era of great promise."

chicken yard. Chittenden was unaware that Crawford had been hit until two hours later.

SAN FRANCISCO.—The small claims or "poor man's court" provided by the last legislature opened and listed among its first cases the claim that R. Meinek, who sold J. Colynson a horse for $32, which according to an appraisal by the purchaser, "was not worth 20 cents.

VALLEJO.—Jennie Budzelko arrived at her home here shortly before 6 o'clock in the morning and attacked her husband, who was asleep. She struck him on the head with a flatiron, cut him with a knife, cut a gash in his head with an ax and shot him three times. Budzelko arose from his bed, seized the revolver and shot his wife through the heart, killing her instantly.

THE STAR

"Godless Men," a Reginald Barker production, with a Goldwyn all-star cast, is a story where men meet their souls face to face and sneer themselves on to acts of horror; where they grapple life with ruthless, destructive hands. It will be shown at the Star theatre for 2 days, commencing tonight. Russell Simpson portrays the leading character, "Black Pawl." As "Black Pawl" he defies God and for years sails the sea a terror to every man before the mast. The history of those sinister sea captains who ruled by spilt blood and fear is all combined in the life of "Black Pawl."

THE LIBERTY

A classic of colloquial American literature has been given life on the screen in "Desperate Youth," which will be the principal attraction at the Liberty Theatre tonight with Gladys Walton in the starring role.

The story was filmed at Universal City from "A Kentucky Cinderella," by F. Hopkinson Smith. Harry B. Harris directed it, using a popular cast in the star's support.

With delightful humor, good drama and fidelity to Smith's popular story, "Desperate Youth" is said to serve Miss Walton as one of her best Universal starring vehicles.

THE STRAND

Several of the screen's most prominent players are featured in the all-star cast of the screen drama, "The Gift Supreme," which will head the program at the Strand Sunday. No one of the players is starred but each has been selected to portray the part he or she is best fitted for. The picture is in every way, it is claimed, an example of the highest type of screen drama. It is said to be one of the best examples of the new thought in picture production—which is to feature the story as much as the player.
