

STANDARD OIL GIVES KLAMATH WIDE PUBLICITY

If it were possible to secure the printing of a number of pictures of noted scenes in Klamath county in a publication that reaches every newspaper, every hotel, hundreds of thousands of people of means, who are constantly on the watch for new places to visit, wouldn't it be an accomplishment of great value to this city and county? And if that were done without costing the people of this county a penny, shouldn't it be appreciated at its full value?

Well, that is just what has happened. Through the persistence and energy of the local representatives of the Standard Oil company, Klamath county occupies a pre-eminent position in the Standard Oil Bulletin for June, copies of which have just reached this city. Out of twenty-three views of places "Where Motorists Go", taken in Oregon, California and Nevada, five of them are from Klamath county. These views show:

"Crater Lake, near Klamath Falls and Medford in Southern Oregon, annually attracts countless motorists. Noted for its sapphire-blue coloring and gorgeous setting."

"Sheep grazing by the thousands lend to the pastoral picturesqueness of the Klamath Basin."

"The sleeping beauty of Oregon."

"Hunting in Klamath county is a sport royal."

"Klamath lake, Oregon, rendezvous of nature-lovers and sportsmen. Fish and game abound."

The Bulletin goes to the stockholders, employes and patrons of the company, hotels, newspapers and an extensive list of people not classed among these, resulting in placing the information about Klamath county in the hands of people that it is particularly desirable to reach.

This effort upon the part of the Standard Oil company to bring this section of the coast to the attention of the motoring public is particularly valuable from a purely advertising standpoint and would have cost several thousand dollars had it been undertaken by local enterprise. It will undoubtedly be appreciated at its full value and will be reciprocated as opportunity arises.

California Town Sets Example in Drawing Attention

Patterson California, situated in Stanislaus county is one peppy little city of two thousand souls who believe in doing things right and boosting their city at all times especially now when business conditions are dissimilar to last year, according to the statements made by Ben H. Nelson of that place who recently moved here.

"That little place, not a county seat, mind you, in the years of 1919 and 1920 raised $15,000 each year to put on a monster fair and each time, made it pay, and better than that, left nearly $50,000 in tourist money in that city," said Nelson. "Immediately following that, all the nearby towns began doing the same thing and this year intense rivalry exists as to which one can put on the biggest blowout to draw outside money in during the slack home business season and everyone of these towns will make good and give their business men a chance to keep their noses above water until the normalcy period begins."

"Modesto, the county seat of Stanislaus county, watched with interest the smaller towns near it put on these shows and this year came out of the rut and decided to put on a $100,000 program—and the business men can see that it will be their salvation. All of them are hard at work on the proposition and are forgetting that "Bill Jones" is going to get more returns than his neighbor, and are allowing the selfish end of the proposition to go into the discard. Those California towns will make good, I'm certain," added Nelson, after describing details of the plan.

CAR SUDDENLY TAKES FIRE, ENTIRELY DESTROYED

A seven passenger Chandler, owned by Max Weiss, took fire last night, while Weiss' partner, Sam Rosenthal was using it on a trip to Fort Klamath, and burned to the ground. Weiss purchased the car from Fred Garlach a couple of months ago.

Americanization: By Hays

Col. George Harvey had a valet that he didn't want to take to England with him. So he "willed" him to Postmaster General Hays. Hays doesn't use a valet so he is making a stenographer of the young man. He is Andrew Louchou, a Greek who speaks several languages.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre At Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold. Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two its natural color is restored, and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Adv.

At the Theaters

THE STAR

Alec B. Francis, who plays the "parson" in Reginald Barker's wonderful film portrayal, "Godless Men," has a role far more difficult than that of the usual motion picture parson who comes in to marry the lovers in the final scene.

"Godless Men" is an entirely different story of the high seas. There has never been a picture containing the same unexpected happenings and absorbing plot, which will be recognized by motion picture fans when they see it at the Star Theatre, where it will be presented again tonight.

THE LIBERTY

Woman is the glory of man. From his soul she spins the heart strings of his life and weaves them into the fabric of his future. "Man and His Woman," the J. Stuart Blackton-Pathé feature starring Herbert Rawlinson at the Liberty Theatre tonight, shows how two women wove the life fabric of a man.

In a play that took more than two months to film, Tom Mix, famous delineator of breezy western characters, will star tomorrow at the Liberty Theatre. "Hands Off" is a thrilling western drama by William McLeod Raine and produced by William Fox. Mix has the role of a Texas ranger, and from all accounts he has enough to do in the swift action to keep two or three ordinary stars busy.

What with fights, mob scenes, attempted lynchings, and bank robberies, to say nothing of frequent gun play and hard riding, as well as a stampede of wild horses, Mix manages to keep fairly active.

THE STRAND

The story of "The Gift Supreme," which is to be shown at the Strand theatre Sunday, is one of those rare stories which is fascinating to rich and poor alike.

In this Republic release some of the screen's most capable players are shown in leading parts. Such players as Lon Chaney, Seena Owen, Melbourne MacDowell, Bernard Durning, Jack Curtis, and many others of equal prominence add to the attractiveness of the production.

Portlanders Learn Link River's Vagaries

When the wind blows high from the south for a couple of days it is possible to walk across Link river dry-shod. At such times Link river is as dry as the Los Angeles river. On other occasions Link river is some stream, flowing "20,000 second feet," as engineers describe it. Link river connects Upper Klamath lake and Lake Ewauna; it is a mile and a half in length, but in that distance it drops 67 feet, so that Link river is just a mass of rapids for its full distance. Klamath river really has its origin in Upper Klamath lake and Link river and Lake Ewauna is nothing but a spreading out of a stream. Link river is not far from Klamath Falls and in early days the town was called Linkville because of its nearness to that stream. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Smith of Klamath Falls are registered at the Imperial. Mr. Smith is in the real estate business and people who do not know what his initials stand for refer to him as Mr. Real Estate Smith, and they get by with it. Just at present Klamath Falls is somewhat quiet.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, or others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should just try this for a week and notice results.
