The Office Cat

Game of Life

Weddings and rice, old maids and advice,
And the world rocks on just the same.
You may win the pot, and again you may not,
But remember, it's all in the game.

Friend of mine drank a little home brew the other night, remarks J. A. Gordon, and thought he saw a blue mouse. Later he admitted he didn't—it was a red one.

Keep your temper—Nobody wants it.

Old Lady—"I see you advertise wired hose twelve cents a foot.

Shopman—"Yes, Ma'am, best in the market.

Old Lady—"I want to get some for these boys. They're dreadfully hard on their socks."

Bill McNeally says when a woman asks the floor-walker to direct her to the silk counter she always speaks in a louder tone than when she asks where the calico remnants are kept;

Whoa!

"I just love animals," she cried.
"And they are very dear to me!"
"Pet me a little more" the young man sighed,
"I'm a little hoarse-" said he.

On these hot days we often wonder what a girl's ear would give for a vacation in the open.

Harry Poole says there may be a bootlegger trust, but he never heard of one he would trust.

The Middleman

Wife—Now, dear, here's the doctor to see you.

Merchant Prince (irascibly)—Send him away and fetch the undertaker! You know I never deal with middlemen!

Ladies who kill their lovers, husbands, et al., have a way with jurors, it seems.

Atta Boy?

Flipp—"You seem to be doing a flourishing business, I suppose you advertise well?"

Flapp—"I don't spend much money on printer's ink; I just tell everything to my wife.

Hey! Andy Volstead!

Oh, joy. One astronomical enthusiast announces that the tail of the comet is "composed of intoxicating gas."

Some Job

Lazy Mike—I have a new position with the railroad company.

Weary Rhodes—What ja gona do?

Lazy Mike—You know the fellow that goes alongside the train and taps the axles to see if everything's all right? Well, I help him listen.

The best girl in the world is the one that remembers that her mother is a human being and sometimes gets tired.

After all, it's the way you "show-up" at the "show-down" that really counts, according to Joe Carnahan.

When the young couple get to talking "at" instead of "to" each other, the honeymoon is the last quarter.

Another fellow who has a swell time at little or no expense, is the chap who has acquired the mumps.

SHOTGUN WINS POLICE FAVOR

CHICAGO, July 25.—Substitution of the shot-gun for the rifle is the latest development in man-hunting by the Chicago police. The time-honored rifle squad has given way to the pump-gun squad.

The reason for the change was thus outlined by Michael Hughes, chief of detectives:

"In close-range fighting the pump gun is much the more efficient weapon, for within 90 feet of the objective it has a spread of four feet. Each shot carries nine rounds of lead, corresponding in size to that in a 38 revolver bullet."

"In street-fighting, also, the chances of hitting the innocent bystander are greatly minimized by the use of the shot-gun, because the effective range is so short."

"The other day we discovered a new use for the shot-gun. During a race after bandits in an automobile, one of our men emptied his gun thru the rear curtain of the speeding machine ahead. The hail of bullets stopped that car as no rifle shot would ever have done."

"The gun we use has the shortest stock. Everyone of the detective cars carries these guns as regular equipment."

Another innovation in the detective bureau's equipment is a steel shield ,as high as a man's head, from which the operatives can direct, in comparative safety, their fire at bandits barricaded in a building. This portable armor is mounted on rollers, and is light enough, so that one man can operate it. Port holes, through which to fire, and a heavy glass peep hole are appurtenances.

Bombing, which is now a recognized part of police tactics in Chicago, can be carried on with great impunity from the shelter of this shield, said Chief Hughes.

LELAND L. SMITH ASSIGNED

Smith, of Portland, Or., who has been assigned as consul to Saigon, China, was one of the nineteen consuls received by Secretary Hughes yesterday, just before leaving for their homes. IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally If You Eat Meat Regularly

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stiumulate them to activity ,also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complication.—Adv.
