Renewed Loyalty Pledged by K. of C.

Knights' anti-tuberculosis campaign. Besides which, a committee of nationally known educators was present, he said, to lay before the convention plans for the immediate launching of the largest correspondence school in America to be conducted by the K. of C. for the benefit of former service men desiring technical training.

"Let us organize throughout the land an army of Catholic women to co-operate with us, to remind the nation that the war is not over so long as there is a healable scar on the body or in the mind of any veteran," he said. "By this work we are not only fulfilling the terms of the stewardship we accepted at the hands of the American public when Catholic and non-Catholic committed $40,000,000 to our care, but we are doing the simple duty of active citizens and paying the debt of practical gratitude we owe to our defenders."

Supreme Knight Flaherty made public an appeal received from Pope Benedict for the K. of C. to introduce American welfare work into Italy, to stimulate friendship between the two countries and to protect the faith of Italian youth. He announced that the Knights would raise at least $1,000,000 among themselves to inaugurate this work in Rome. "Deluded Americans who contribute to barren malicious attempts to rob Italian youth of its faith may misunderstand our motives. But even Italian Protestants have asked us, the Catholic men of America, to save them from uplifters maintained by American dollars that might be better expended in relieving misfortune at home or succoring the starving abroad.

"Our duty is plain. It is the first direct assignment that any body of laymen has ever received from the head of the church. We have already directed K. of C. Commissioner Edward L. Hearn of New York to proceed to Rome to advise His Holiness on the introduction of the work. In Italy we shall not only carry on American welfare work for Italians, but also for the benefit of Americans visiting Italy, and especially in behalf of Italians contemplating emigration to America."

Mr. Flaherty announced that Marshal Foch had definitely accepted the invitation of the Knights of Columbus to be their guest at a great patriotic demonstration in Chicago on November 6. He also announced that the K. of C. had undertaken the publication of a national monthly magazine, Columbia, to be dedicated exclusively to Americanization history, literature and social service. The magazine, which had President Harding's endorsement, has a circulation of 750,000 with its first issue, he added.

He stated that the K. of C. had definitely declined to introduce its organization into Europe, although Spain, France, England, Denmark and Austria had appealed for K. of C. councils.

Archbishop Edward Hanna of San Francisco celebrated the solemn mass with which the convention opened at the old Dolores mission, after which Mayor James Rolph Jr., heading a delegation of 300 prominent San Franciscans presented Supreme Knight with the keys of the city at a public reception in the Civic Center, attended by delegations of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Spanish-American War Veterans, G. A. R. and many women's organizations. More than 20,000 K. of C. delegates and visitors are in San Francisco for the convention.
