

HARD SCRAP IS COMING SUNDAY

It was evident that the Plumbobbs are out to win Sunday in the game to be played with the Jewels, for three practices this week were set for the team at Modoc Park. At the same time, the Jewel team has taken two flings on the diamond this week and from reports, the team is playing together better than it has in any time this season.

The fans can become their own dopsters and figure out what this means. According to one follower, the Plumbobbs have been congregating about the window of Glovers' jewelry shop casting envious eyes upon that handsome silver loving cup which Bert McDonald and Glover have hung up as a prize this year. And many day dreams are said to hang about each of those players who desire to win it this year and then do the same thing again next year and have it adorn the Plumbob stronghold in future years as a permanent prize. Manager Swanson likewise indulges in these same dreams and has undoubtedly prodded the boys to just "do that little stunt."

Manager Popiell has been seen near this trophy inspecting it from all angles and has figured that while 1932 is a long way off, still he will have a carpenter ready to build a stand for it in his place of business. As the dopster said, "Joe has touched the pride of his bunch of youngsters and they look upon this prize as one fitting for them to win."

The league leaders, the Copros, are out for the prize as well and from the peppy, scrappy manner which they are now using in their games, feel that this prize will be allotted to them this year.

Junior Daggett, manager of the Ewagnas, has a few unplayed tricks up his sleeve and will have a word to say before the season is over. His team is working better now than ever before. The race for the prize is on!

HUNTING BLUE GOOSE'S EGGS

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 4.—A hunt for the egg of the blue goose will be one of the odd errands of the Donald B. McMillan expedition to Baffin land this year if the hopes of ornithologists are realized. The adult blue goose, a variety with a grayish brown body that gets its name from the blue-gray of its wing coverts, is not uncommon in the United States but its breeding haunts have been a subject of much speculation among bird lovers and its nest and eggs have never been observed.

An announcement by Dr. McMillan that on his last trip to the Arctic he had noticed fledglings of these geese aroused the interest of students of bird life with the result that one of the scientists who will accompany the present expedition will be commissioned to be on the lookout especially for blue goose eggs in connection with his other field work.

The price that one of these eggs, hitherto unseen by civilized men, would command, has not been quoted but judging from the enthusiasm displayed in natural history societies over the subject, the goose that laid the golden egg will have nothing on this bird.

Baffin land is believed to be the greatest breeding place of bird life in the far north. In its 150,000 square miles of interior unexplored by white men are taken which the Eskimos describe as six days' sledge journey in length, (at least 100 miles) and abounding in wild fowl.

The McMillan expedition will leave here in July in the Schooner Bowdoin specially built for the purpose and will spend probably 14 months in a study of Baffin land along various scientific lines.

Interest in County Fair Awakening

With the appointment of the county fair board, interest seems to have been renewed in the prospects of the county fair for this fall. It is too early to make any definite announcements but a number of suggestions are being considered:

The fair must be high class in every respect.

Horse racing will be eliminated.

A queen of the fair is considered, possibly each community putting up its most popular maiden, and some of those not "winning out" for the highest honor to be made "maids of honor."

Amusements, and possibly a dance have also been discussed, the concessions to be the best obtainable and refreshments in charge of competent caterers.

Possibly there will be a parade of decorated vehicles, to open the fair and properly escort the queen, and in this the co-operation of the Automobile Association will be asked.

Another possibility is a "stunt night," in which the local lodges may be asked to contribute.

Farmers, don't forget your part. Save the best to show what Klamath can do. Who has the biggest sunflower; or the biggest pumpkin; or the best sheaf of wheat or alfalfa?

LEAGUE DANCE TO PAY DEBTS

On August 16th, there will be a dance at the Scandinavian hall given by the city league management to raise money for the indebtedness contracted by the league during the Fourth of July games played here. Not one outside game was a financial success and as the teams were all brought from quite a distance, debts were contracted and funds must be raised in some legitimate manner to offset the loss.

The plan adopted at the beginning of the year has been adhered to strictly, the rule of soliciting no contributions from the merchants nor from any other source. The league started out on an independent basis and desires to still remain so. As nearly all the players trip the light fantastic toe, this dance will delight all and at the same time, wipe out the league deficiency.

At a meeting of the league management, the price was fixed for this entertainment at $1 a couple, 90 cents admission, 10 cents war tax. The players are to be requested to sell tickets and have a record breaking crowd on hand that night to enjoy this "baseball dancing party." The players and all their friends are to be invited to the only baseball dance which will be given this season under the auspices of the city league.
