

The Office Cat

BY JUNIUM

No Hum Hazy

On a swinging bough sat a little bird
And he twittered away in glee, And as I listened the thought occurred What a lucky bird was he-

His gladsome song thrilled me through and through But I thought to myself, "By Jing, Who wouldn't be happy if he'd nothing to do.
But sit on a limb and sing?"

A correspondent demands to know why so many of our remarkable paragraphs, jingles and things are directed at girls short skirts. Well, our shots don't hurt the girls, to speak of and they all help us to fill our col. Was there anything else in our department today, sir?

Human nature is a peculiar proposition. We condemn the other fellow for doing the things we sometimes do ourselves, and the chances are that we would resent the calling down he gets if we ourselves got it.

When you want a hole dug—dig it yourselves!

R. E. Bradbury says there are three big questions connected with taxes—how to reduce them, how to pay them and how to dodge them.
But the greatest of these is the second.

While there's yeast, there's hope.

You can't get three men together when you sound a call for a meeting for uplift and civic betterment. But there are never enough seats to go around when you sound a call for a poker game.

"Paris woman has no stomach" says a new item. It at least saves her from having to eat parsnips.

According to our personal prediction, it should get cooler tonight.
Gosh, we hope we ain't a liar.

Many things that don't look right appear so because you cannot see right.

A grouch is a man who is honest enough to admit that he doesn't like the weather, according to Emmitt Magee.

Smile

(By Hattie Lanning)

I know it's hard to smile, dear, When everything goes wrong,
But a smile cheers us on our way,
Like the words of a beautiful song.
So let's try and smile today,
For tomorrow may never come, Let's greet our friends with a smile, dear,
Each and every one.

Arthur Collins says when a girl gets a tip that she has a real voice it is hard to keep her from eating bird seed for breakfast.

Life is too short for most of the long speeches.

The copy books have always told us that there is no excellence without labor, and that early to bed and early to rise is the proper whoeze, and that the fellow who doesn't work will end up in the poor house, and so on and such, but we never knew a really successful man who had ever worked very hard. We have known dozens of unsuccessful men who would cheerfully talk about how hard they worked, but none who ever did it. Think over all of the successful men you know. Did any of 'em ever work? Not!

Will Remedy Perils of Alaska Coast

JUNEAN, Alaska, Aug. 11.—Many marine dangers, hidden in ocean "graveyards" along Alaska's coasts are to be removed by eight naval radio compass stations which will be built during the next four years.
From the stations ships at sea can get their bearings, and in fog and storms can proceed safely along the coasts.

One station being built this summer is at Soapstone Point, Yakobi Island, where ships from southwestern Alaska enter the inside passage southbound to Seattle. In the past ships have lost many days waiting for thick weather to clear so they could get past Soapstone Point and into Cross Sound. When the station is in operation they will be able to pick up the entrance to Cross Sound by wireless.

Another station now under con-are made with ships at sea. The Cape Hinchinbrook station will be completed later.

Care is being taken in construction of living quarters for the men at the stations, for the points are isolated, and the government is trying to offset some of the disadvantages by attractive housing. There will be a dormitory, baths, electric lights and other facilities. Both stations are located in parts of Alaska noted for hunting and fishing.

Two stations are to be built each year until the eight are completed.

Twice as rich as ordinary milk for Frozen Puddings

Recipe

Two large cans Carnation Milk, 2 cups water, 4 eggs, 2 cups sugar, 2 teaspoonfuls vanilla, 1/4 teaspoonful salt.
Heat one can of Carnation Milk and the water in a double boiler. Beat eggs and sugar, and pour into heated milk; mix well, and cook in double boiler, stirring constantly, until the mixture thickens on a spoon like cream. Remove from fire, cool add vanilla, and another can of Carnation Milk. Put in freezer and freeze. This will make about two quarts.
