NEWS FROM THE STATE CAPITAL

Governor Olcott has appointed the following newspapermen to represent Oregon at the world press congress to be held at Honolulu October 4 to 14: W. J. Hofmann, Oregonian; C. E. Ingalls, Corvallis, editor Corvallis Gazette-Times; E. E. Brodie, editor, Oregon City Enterprise and president of the National Editorial association; S. C. Morton, editor St. Helens Mist; L. R. Wheeler, Portland, associate editor The Portland Telegram.

Bids for the improvement of about ninety-four miles of highways and for the construction of a number of bridges will be opened by the state highway commission at a meeting in Portland, August 30.

In a letter to J. E. Forges of Springfield, Governor Olcott expresses the opinion that the sound sense of the people of Oregon will forestall any extended activity of the Ku Klux Klan in this state. The letter is in reply to a communication from the people of Springfield asking the governor to take steps to curb the Klan in Oregon.

To solve the problem of disposing of their alfalfa hay for which there is no market this year, settlers of the Ochoco Irrigation district in Crook county will buy 100 head of registered Jersey cattle from the Willamette valley, and expect to move them to Crook county about September 1.
