OREGON BREVITIES

BEND—Demanding that a reason be given for the summary discharge of Earl B. Houston as district game warden, a resolution to the state game commission was authorized at a meeting of Percy A. Stevens post No. 4.

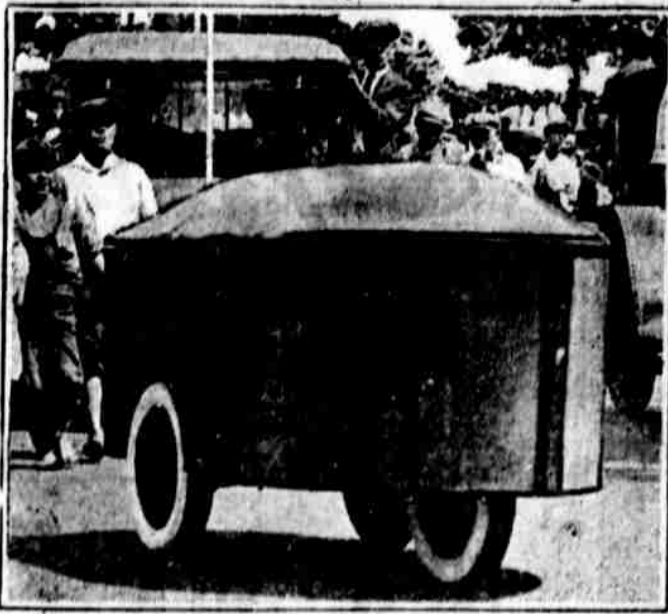

The removal of Houston was characterized as "petty politics" by legion men. The reason given by M. A. Lynch, Redmond member of the commission, that Houston is too well known was declared "fishy" by C. A. Adams of Redmond has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

SHERIDAN—C. H. Frank and S. W. Smith of Gopher valley, both have bear stories to tell locally as a result of personal encounters with bruins near their homes last week. Frank came upon a large black bear in some timber. The bear is said to have measured three feet across the back. Frack, being unarmed, made no attack upon the animal, which did not molest him. Smith also encountered a bear and her cub in the Beaver Dam district last week.

LA GRANDE—More than $900 in cash and five gold watches made up the loot taken by hold-ups from a crew of workmen on the O. W. R. & N. railroad at Hlgard, nine miles west of La Grande. No trace of the outlaws has been reported, although officers in Umatilla and Union counties are keeping a sharp lookout.

This Will Worry Traffic Cops

This car rambled through the streets of Dayton, O., without a driver. But it halted when the traffic cops held up their hands. And it started and turned corners when ordered. It was controlled by radio. Captain R. E. Vaughn of the army radio service directed it from the auto in the rear. Such a car controlled by radio and loaded with explosive could be sent across No Man's Land and timed to explode at the enemy's trench.

county, one mile north of here. Thursday, overlooked the kitchen range and the dining room table. Otherwise they made a clean sweep. Not another article was left. Clothing, dishes, cooking utensils and furniture were all included in the haul, according to reports made to the Salem police. The enterprising burglars had a truck, tire tracks reveal.

PORTLAND—Last year prunes averaged 50 to the pound. This year the average size will be 40 to the pound, announces Earl Pearey, field representative of the Oregon Growers association. The formation of sugar in the fruit promises to be good, and the weight of the fruit is influenced a great deal by this factor. Last year's crop of prunes dried out at about 15 to 17 pounds a bushel, due to the small quantity of sugar formed in the fruit, but from this year's crop will be heavier.

PORTLAND—Paved highways of Oregon were not constructed to withstand the heavy strain of auto truck loads and speed to which they are subjected and will rapidly deteriorate unless heavy auto trucking is prohibited, declared John B. Yeom, Oregon state highway commissioner, in an address before the city club Friday. He stated that the wear and tear from this source of traffic was more than that from all other traffic combined.

PORTLAND—A choice bottle of port wine eight years old, $15 in cash, a revolver and several other articles of minor value were stolen from the home of Frank Deuster, 271 East Ninth street north, early in the week. Deuster returned home after several days' absence.

ROSEBURG—Representatives of the Co-operative Grain association just arrived in Roseburg and are going to give farmers an opportunity to market wheat through the selling agencies in Idaho, Washington and Oregon this year," says County Agent H. A. Haslett, in a statement issued today, directed to farmers.

CITY GROWING MORE SANITARY

Sanitary Officer Brandenburg has been very active the past two weeks correcting sanitation mistakes by people in this city and states that he finds them quite willing to rectify their errors when notified how to dispose of their sewage.

The piling of tin cans and garbage together has been one fault which most people had and when the people learned that segregation of cans from the slop caused the refuse to be hauled away at a lower figure, many complied with the separation instructions.

In the Mills addition, the people were requested not to throw the refuse from their kitchen in the street gutters and to try to keep the ditches free from pollution by not dumping refuse in them. The health officer also reports that his request that dishwater be not thrown in the backyard to dry up is being met cheerfully.
