KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON, MONDAY, AUGUST 29, 1931

PRICE FIVE CENTS

PARKING GUM ON BOTTOM OF CHAIR BARRED

Sanitary Officer Brandenburg has announced that he intends to start a crusade on the persons, if he can apprehend them, who make it a practice of sticking chewing gum under seats in theatres, restaurants, and other public places. Also the practice of throwing gum on the sidewalks and in business house entrances.

The practice of throwing tin cans on lots and in gutters has been another source of grief in Officer Brandenburg's life. Try as much as he can, he cannot, he says, impress upon the people enough of civic pride to prevent dirty cans littering the city lots and gutters. Any person caught in the act of scattering such litter will fare badly if haled into court, Brandenburg says.

One of the sanitary matters which a rigid enforcement will be instituted at once will be the anti-expectoration ordinance. Of late, people have been spitting freely upon the sidewalks and spreading disease germs. The city ordinance is very strict on this subject Mr. Brandenburg states and an offender will be picked up at once on this violation. "Spit outside the street curbing if it is necessary but not on the sidewalk. A person will not spit in the house on the floors—and the same anti-spitting rule applies in the churches and moving picture houses."

Valentine who with Mrs. Valentine and two sons, has just returned from a two week's trip as far north as Castle Rock, Washington, where they visited his sister, Mrs. W. G. Watkins. Many blowouts are occurring along the highway where the hot asphalt is being laid, said Mr. Valentine. The hot stuff is hard on tire fabric.

Should Have Had A Medal, But Got A. S. P. C. A. Lecture

"Our best motives are so often misunderstood," said W. H. McPherson today. "Mac" played bodyguard to Carl Schubert yesterday when Carl was in a position where "a feller needs a friend."

Carl was stopped at Barclay Springs mending a carburetor valve. He stooped in inverted U shape above the mechanism on the ground and offered a fair target to a crippled bull that was loitering around the stream. The bull charged and struck Carl hard astern, scoring a knock-down. Mac rushed to the rescue and shooed the bull away and just at that time, along came a party of Mac's friends and some ladies gave him hall Columbia for pestering the poor, crippled animal.

It was said that the S. P. train had run into a band of cattle near Barclay Springs, killing a couple and injuring some, but the local office today said there was no report of such accident. "Mac" knows, however, that the bull was on the job and on the peck and that he got a scolding where he should have gotten praise.

MACDOEL MILL IN DIFFICULTY

DORRIS, Cal., Aug. 29.—Advice from the San Francisco Board of Trade have been received by numerous local creditors of the Peppers-Cotton Lumber Company stating that on Tuesday, August 26, a meeting will be called at their offices in San Francisco for the purpose of hearing claims.

The Peppers-Cotton Lumber Company, owned by C. E. Peppers and T. H. Cotton, has operated for the past several years fourteen miles southwest of Dorris and this spring completed nine miles of railroad from Macdoel to their mill.

Action of the San Francisco Board of Trade is interpreted locally as involuntary bankruptcy. Reports from men in a position to speak authoritatively place the company's liabilities at $250,000 without assets to offset. Since July fifteenth practically no payroll has been met, it is stated, and those who have received checks have not been able to realize on them.

Besides the payroll bills are owed by the company to merchants and others here and in Macdoel as well as wholesale houses in Sacramento and San Francisco, it is alleged.

Reports from Macdoel state that practically every article of property possessed by the company has been attached. Nine miles of railroad built under contract by Willis & Burr last spring connecting the Southern Pacific lines at Macdoel with the mill and yards has not been paid for it is said, and is being held by the builders.

What the outcome of the present situation will be will not be known until after the Board of Trade session on Tuesday. It is probable that a receiver will be appointed to operate the mill. This is thought to be practically the only solution for the present difficulty unless the owners liquidate the company's liabilities.

Peppers-Cotton was one of the largest lumber concerns in this section and the financial crisis coming at this period is seriously felt in this locality.

UNEMPLOYMENT CONFERENCE TO MEET IN SEPT.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Plans for President Harding's national conference on unemployment will probably be completed in time to permit the delegates to gather here by the middle of September, said Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, today.

Hoover said it was hoped to limit the conference to from 15 to 25 persons, representing the country geographically. He said that small number was necessary to permit of constructive work and avoid a "debating society."

The conference, he said, would avoid controversial questions such as the closed shop, wages or conditions of labor. Its aim is the formulation of a definite program for action by representatives of industry and of community interests to relieve the unemployment situation.

Strahorn Road is Prompt in Cleanup

Chief Engineer Bond of the Strahorn railroad has had all the section men at work the last two days cleaning off the mass of high weeds which have covered the terminal site between Seventh and Eighth streets on Walnut.

In the course of the anti-weed campaign conducted by Fire Chief Ambrose, notice was given the Strahorn road to clean off their terminals and a written reply said it would be done. Instructions given to the section men at work were: "Not only cut the weeds, but grub out as many as you can so the ground will be bare of both weeds and grass." Chief Ambrose states in just such manner is the work being done. Also that should a grass fire start in that section, this bare spot will be a fine fire guard.

YONNA VALLEY OIL SHOWING IS ENCOURAGING

A meeting of the directors of the Yonna Valley Oil and Gas company was held yesterday at Dalry for the purpose of discussing the recent development at the well and also to make preparation for a continuation of the drilling operations.

According to Secretary W. S. Wiley who was present from this city, the directors were much encouraged by the recent showings made at the well. A report was read showing that the drill now was at the 1130 foot depth. A strata of sand 250 feet in thickness was penetrated in the lowest drilling.

Investigation was made of the oil which is being brought up and Secretary Wiley states that it undoubtedly comes from above the point where the drill is now working. A sample was brought in for analysis by Ross Sutton.

The directors yesterday voted to purchase 1200 feet of 8 inch pipe and the order was sent off at once to San Francisco. While the sand strata does not show any signs of weakening at present, it was thought best to prepare for emergencies.

Secretary Wiley adds that the directors feel that they have faith in their drilling and that they will find the oil flow in this well. All expressed themselves as willing to keep on going until this objective is attained.

Admits Licking and Can't Fathom Court's Lack of Interest

Justice Gaghagen was much surprised this morning to have T. L. Cleveland, sometimes known as "Tom" Cleveland alias James Sumpter say, "Judge, I was in a fight this morning with John Irwin and I got the worst of it. I want to plead guilty and pay my fine."

"There is no complaint filed against you so I can do nothing for you," Judge Gaghagen replied.

"But your honor, I was fighting, disturbing the peace and I want to plead guilty, pay my fine and end the trouble," the man continued.

Repeated assertions that he could do nothing for him availed the justice no relief and District Attorney Brower was called in. Cleveland alias Sumpter was informed that the justice court had no jurisdiction in the matter and as no complaint was made, no action could be taken. After this explanation, he departed saying, "It's funny they cannot do something when I fought, got licked and want to pay my fine like a man."

It appears that Cleveland had recently been beaten in litigation, in which John Irwin, local attorney, represented the other side. According to Mr. Irwin, Cleveland got the worst of the fistie altercation which took place when Cleveland opened hostilities upon the lawyer when they met on the street near the courthouse this morning.

HOOPER, HALL, FAIR CONFEREES

E. B. Hall has been appointed by Governor Olcott as the representative of Klamath county at the 1925 Atlantic-Pacific Highways exposition conference at Portland, September 8. Mayor C. E. Gates of Medford represents Jackson county, C. S. Hudson of Bend, Deschutes county, and F. M. Miller of Lakeview, Lake county. With few exceptions the county delegates are the former county chairmen of the Liberty Loan organization.

The county delegates and three delegates from the state at large—Marshall Hooper of Klamath Falls, Leslie Butler of Hood River and E. E. Brodie of Oregon City—appointed last week by Charles Hall, president of the state chamber of commerce, will meet with the exposition directors to discuss plans of finance and administration.

At this conference the question will be practically decided whether the exposition will cost $6,000,000 or $7,000,000, whether the state will be asked to support the fair by a millage tax for the next four years and whether the public spirited citizens of this state will be asked to subscribe directly to the stock of the exposition company.

New York Modistes Give Gowns Names

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Designating gowns with names as bizarre as those given racehorses is the latest trade device of fashionable New York dressmakers.

This was revealed when a large firm brought suit for $11,306 against a wealthy man for raiment purchased by his wife but alleged to be still unpaid for.

"Lady Fair," "I'll Say She Does," and "Patches" were the way three gowns were itemized. A snappy little dress went down on the list as "Country Mouse," while two street suits were charged up as "Bobby" and "Reggie."

By way of paradox, an evening gown was christened "Morning Glory."

MANY GATHERING HUCKLEBERRIES

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd DeLap, Miss Ruth DeLap and Charles F. DeLap returned home Sunday night from Huckleberry mountain after a week's vacation. The party gathered nearly 50 gallons of berries and report that the fruit arrived here in fine condition.

On the trail leading up to the patch, a party of Klamath Indians was ascending when the DeLap party were coming down and four fine buck deer were strapped to the pack horse's back, the result of one day's hunt in Jackson county. The deer were to be used in a feast by the Indians, held annually in the berry patches, huckleberries and deer forming the chief dishes. Lloyd DeLap stated that about 300 Indians were in the patches.

At the bottom of the mountain, the DeLap party counted nearly 300 cars parked. Dances are held about three night's a week. After darkness has set in, Huckleberry mountain resembles a small city, brilliant with lights from tents and bonfires.

Persons who complained, having refused to appear against the prisoner booked at the city hall as alias J. H. Uhrine, he was released by Police Chief Wilson this morning.
