The Shme. Wearily I clamber To the dizzy height Of the leather settee; Not a word Is spoken

Hands that grasp too much hold but little, says J. F. Ward.

The Demon Make-Up Man. From the Warren, Ill., Sentinel Herald. Harry Crouse, residing north of Warren, was overcome by the heat a few days ago.

Such Amenity. At one of the special events, a lady had responded beautifully to several encores. Another woman sitting on the side turned to a friend sitting near her and remarked: "She has quite a repertoire, hasn't she?"

Home Brew Foolishness. I loah my li' walrus I'm 'fraid he got in jail. He got too gay and saasy And flipped his li' tail.

He twirled his rogulsh whiskers, And flapped his flipper fin And yet so sweet and guileless, How could they run him in?

Have you sheen my li' walrus, You'd know him by his gait, A sinuous rolling motion, A wrigling hesitiate.

I know some cop did spy him And thought his dance too crude, And took him to the bushgow Now wouldn't that be rude?

And Now! want my walrus, I've loah my li' pet, Jus' one drink or maybe two, 'Twas that made me forget

Sho if you shee my walrus, Jus' bring him back to me, I'll be waiting for him, moistly, With my arms around thish tree.

Will Again Conduct Local Play School

Miss Mary E. Ball will reopen the play school which was successfully conducted last fall and early winter. The splendid support given was greatly appreciated and has made this second term possible, says Miss Ball.

The same modern methods practiced at San Jose state teacher's college and University of California play school are used in developing the child three fold—mentally, morally, and physically.

Like many school today the cry for true democracy is trying to be answered in the socialization of the child, teaching him adaptability and respect of others' rights and property.

The day's activities consists of rhythms, handwork, songs, nature study and games. Things both beautiful and useful are learned by interested children.

The present location of the Mary Ball Play School is in the base-

APPLICATIONS FOR SOLDIERS' LOANS READY

SALEM, Oregon, September 2.—Fifty thousand application blanks for making application for the Oregon state loan and bonus which was voted to Oregon's ex-service men by the people last June, are now being distributed to every part of the state.

This action was taken by the state bonus commission in order to save considerable time in getting the bonus and loans into the hands of the ex-service men. The initial bond issue of $5,000,000, already is being floated. Bids are to be opened October 10th and the commission expects to have money ready by November 1st.

The administrative force to handle this big task of passing upon applications has already been created in the U. S. National Bank Bldg. at Salem, headed by Harry C. Brumbaugh, an overseas veteran.

The necessary funds for an energetic administration of the law have also been provided. Commissioners say that the loan feature, which appeals to a majority of the ex-service men, necessarily will be a slower process but that the commission will continue to follow its past policy of avoiding any and all avoidable delays.

Only an unexpected suit to test the constitutionality of the law will now prevent payment of several thousand claims in November. Such a suit has not been launched by the commissioners because of their belief in the constitutionality of the law and failure of the bonds to sell alone might make such a suit necessary.

Make that idle dollar work! Put it in the bank.

Peculiarities of Stature.

Stature depends a good deal on climate. The Bushmen live in the great Kalahari desert, the tall Polynesians on the Pacific islands, and enjoy all the advantages nature can bestow.

On the higher ground the people are usually shorter, so that the Swiss and central Europeans generally are stocky rather than tall. Sometimes stature varies with the class of men. Early emigrants to America before things were made easy by the steamship companies, were always taller than the races from which they had sprung.
