

The Evening Herald

J. MURRAY Editor
FRED SOULS City Editor

Published daily except Sunday, by The Herald Publishing Company of Klamath Falls, at 119 Eighth Street.

Entered at the postoffice at Klamath Falls, Ore. for transmission through the mails as second-class matter.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it, or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1921.

MOST TEACHERS' PLACES FILLED

Following is a list of teachers for Klamath county this year, compiled by Mrs. L. B. Hague, secretary of the county fair board...

Bonanza, J. B. Hatch, principal. James Luebke, assistant, high school, Mrs. Audie S. Chaney, Miss Nellie Dryden and Alice Hadley, grades; Topsey, Helen Briscoe; Chase, Miss Robertson; Olene, Mrs. Nora F. Bondy; Dairy, Annie J. Young; Gale, Gladys Metsker; Ft. Klamath, Elsie Howell, high school, Mrs. M. E. Miller, Ella Trimbauer and Ruth Price grades; Keno, Marguerite Crank; Bly, Mrs. Ona Wallace; Pine Grove, Augusta Puckett, Lorella, Mrs. Geneva A. Burroughs; Hildebrand, J. G. Wight and Ruth Lull; Upper Langell's valley, Francis Hensik; Plevna, Mrs. Kay Greene; Lone Pine, Marie Dolan; Worden, Joy Hamrick; Malin, R. K. Hannon, Mrs. Eva Kivette, Maunie Giacomini and Mrs. Thomas Siegel; Lower Swan, Margaret Smith; Spring Lake, Mable Crosby; Round Lake and Orinda, Katherine Ess; Klamath Agency, Rosemary Conway; Merrill, Fred Peterson and Julia Young, high school, Alma Wilson and Mrs. Minnie Dillard, grades; Crescent, Rayburn S. Potter; Summers, Mary Z. Williams; Chelsea, Mrs. Charles Darnell; White Lake, Lena Provost; Shasta View, Merrill P. O. Florence Dillard, Shasta View, Malin P. O. Wm. B. Freer; Henley, Mr. Lang and Grace Lytle; Midland, Emma Knapp; Swan, Margaret Elliott; Mt. Laki, Mrs. Belle McClellan; Fairview, Olive Kirk; Algoma, Mrs. Nellie Wall; Miller Hill, C. D. Corpenning; Bryant Mountain, Winfred McCormick and Mrs. Mattie McFall; Horton, Elvina Flury; Libby, Beasie Walker; Howard, Josephine Elliott; Modoc Point, Winnie Grizzle and Hazel Shaver; Chiloquin, Blanche Goodner and Vivian Carr; Yainax, Alice Walker; Union high school, Malin, Oregon, Mr. Smith.

Teachers are still to be appointed for Dodd Hollow, Langell's valley, Lower Poe Valley and Upper Poe Valley.

Ft. Klamath Hunters Slay Large Bear

One of the largest bears killed recently in the Ft. Klamath regions was slain Wednesday last by Roy Noah and a party of seven people from the fort near the Huckleberry mountain.

Marion, Benny, Roy and Charles Noah, Ed and Jack Briscoe, Ida Briscoe and Monica Pomeroy comprised the party which set out to hunt bear early Wednesday morning and after a vain hunt in the vicinity of the huckleberry patch, a grouse drumming in the top of a tree attracted Roy Noah and Ed Briscoe's attention.

While circling the tree in which the grouse was sitting, the boys happened to look over about a 100 yards and saw a big black bear

WHY CHANGE THE OLD NAMES THAT PIONEERS BESTOWED ASKS OLD TIMER

Editor of Herald: "Kings have come and gone, and generations have come and gone. And there is a new map from which old names have been dropped."

There is an indefinable something rampant in my make-up, irresistibly impelling me to take issue with recent advocates of the necessity and advisability of changing pioneer names of prominent mountains, rivers, points, roads and scenic spots throughout the state.

To my mind it is a deliberate attempt of the effete the mollycoddle, the idealist and the sentimentalist to cast a reflection upon the pioneer for his want of or lack of appreciation of the eternal fitness of and recognition of nature's handiwork in selecting names.

To me there is nothing that so tugs at the heart strings, in moments of retrospection, as memory links events, fast growing misty with time's incessant and irresistible approach and world-wide reputation today is indication complete of the early pathfinder's selection.

It is at such times that the hardihood, the simple unalloyed wisdom of the early pioneer, selecting his names for prominent natural objects along the tortuous lonely trails and wagon-ways, appeals to the red-blooded American.

It is going far a-field to imagine the pioneer any less mindful of the beauty of the scene unfolded to his view from Rattlesnake Point than is the modern tourist comfortably reclining against the latest in the upholsterer's and viewing the same scene from an automobile traversing leisurely over the same "point" upon a modern highway. Why not leave to the pioneer, the little something that tends to contrast his situation, with that of the modern tourist as he slowly and laboriously rounded the "Point" and viewed the splendid panorama spread before him?

He named it the name he did for a reason that admitted of no controversy. The pioneer, on foot or on horseback, was not deterred by the presence of a reptile, from viewing the scene before him; he had met, and was to meet, probably, a thousand and one more terrifying obstacles in the untrod wilds of the state he was invading, and in exploring and naming the other scenic attractions along the coast and in the interior.

One is loath to believe that it is the progeny or the descendants of the progeny of Oregon's pioneers, who are attempting this vandalism, this wiping out of an historic name, the bestowal of which was unquestionably justified by the facts.

Will its retention detract one iota from the magnificent sweep of densely timbered shore-line bordering the lake on the west and north-west with snow-capped mount Pitt and massive old Pelican rising majestically in the distance? Rattlesnake Point is not a part of the scenic panorama but a vantage point from which it may be viewed to advantage.

Changing the name to any one of those suggested amounts to appropriating a name used in a hundred different portions of the country for a like reason, and carries no suggestion of individuality, distinctiveness or historic relativity. There is every bit as cogent a reason for insisting on changing the name of Adams Point, of Topsy grade, Huckleberry mountain, Capt. Jack's stronghold or Rocky Point or Pelican Bay or Yamsey mountain to conform to some tenderfoot's idea of the eternal fitness of things.

OLD TIMER.

Advertising pays. Try it and see.

WHY CHANGE THE OLD NAMES THAT PIONEERS BESTOWED ASKS OLD TIMER

Editor of Herald: "Kings have come and gone, and generations have come and gone. And there is a new map from which old names have been dropped."

There is an indefinable something rampant in my make-up, irresistibly impelling me to take issue with recent advocates of the necessity and advisability of changing pioneer names of prominent mountains, rivers, points, roads and scenic spots throughout the state.

To my mind it is a deliberate attempt of the effete the mollycoddle, the idealist and the sentimentalist to cast a reflection upon the pioneer for his want of or lack of appreciation of the eternal fitness of and recognition of nature's handiwork in selecting names.

To me there is nothing that so tugs at the heart strings, in moments of retrospection, as memory links events, fast growing misty with time's incessant and irresistible approach and world-wide reputation today is indication complete of the early pathfinder's selection.

It is at such times that the hardihood, the simple unalloyed wisdom of the early pioneer, selecting his names for prominent natural objects along the tortuous lonely trails and wagon-ways, appeals to the red-blooded American.

It is going far a-field to imagine the pioneer any less mindful of the beauty of the scene unfolded to his view from Rattlesnake Point than is the modern tourist comfortably reclining against the latest in the upholsterer's and viewing the same scene from an automobile traversing leisurely over the same "point" upon a modern highway. Why not leave to the pioneer, the little something that tends to contrast his situation, with that of the modern tourist as he slowly and laboriously rounded the "Point" and viewed the splendid panorama spread before him?

He named it the name he did for a reason that admitted of no controversy. The pioneer, on foot or on horseback, was not deterred by the presence of a reptile, from viewing the scene before him; he had met, and was to meet, probably, a thousand and one more terrifying obstacles in the untrod wilds of the state he was invading, and in exploring and naming the other scenic attractions along the coast and in the interior.

One is loath to believe that it is the progeny or the descendants of the progeny of Oregon's pioneers, who are attempting this vandalism, this wiping out of an historic name, the bestowal of which was unquestionably justified by the facts.

Will its retention detract one iota from the magnificent sweep of densely timbered shore-line bordering the lake on the west and north-west with snow-capped mount Pitt and massive old Pelican rising majestically in the distance? Rattlesnake Point is not a part of the scenic panorama but a vantage point from which it may be viewed to advantage.

Changing the name to any one of those suggested amounts to appropriating a name used in a hundred different portions of the country for a like reason, and carries no suggestion of individuality, distinctiveness or historic relativity. There is every bit as cogent a reason for insisting on changing the name of Adams Point, of Topsy grade, Huckleberry mountain, Capt. Jack's stronghold or Rocky Point or Pelican Bay or Yamsey mountain to conform to some tenderfoot's idea of the eternal fitness of things.

OLD TIMER.

Advertising pays. Try it and see.

Pendleton Taking on Appearance of Old Frontier Cow Town

PENDELTON, Sept. 6.—Pendleton is ready once again to stage that great out-door drama, the Round-Up, September 22, 23 and 24. The atmosphere of the "biggest little city in the world" is permeated with Round-Up spirit. Dignified citizens have donned the broad-brimmed hat of the cowboy and those, with the brilliant shirts, long haired chaps and riding boots worn by horsemen, give a festive air to the "Let 'er Buck" city.

Each year the show eclipses that of the year before and there is no doubt that the 1921 presentation will break all records. A galaxy of star performers, including the famous Charles Irwin family of 20 cowboys and cowgirls, as well as individual performers, among them Yak and Katy Canutt, Frank McCarrill, Prairie Rose and Johnny Judd, will be here. Tom Mix, daredevil cowboy screen hero, and his company, will compete in events of track and arena. Snappy steers, fant relay strings and hot tempered buckers are ready for the three big days. Thirty-five of the Round-Up's own string of horses are here and with the try-out next week, some real snarls will fly.

Among the buckers is "Hotblood Sam," a new horse from Idaho, who has unceremoniously dispatched 10 consecutive would-be riders from his ever-moving hurricane deck and who will battle for supremacy with cowboy riders this year. Prizes in the various events are the greatest ever offered.

Let's Talk Pismo with Earl Sheppard.

Gertrude's Millinery 527 MAIN ST. Blouses Petticoats. WEDNESDAY SPECIAL! TAILORED HATS $3.95-$4.95

"LET George Do It!" School Opened Today. You'll need a pocket-knife to keep your pencil as sharp as your teachers expect your wits to be. For leisure hours see our Toddie Tops. GEO. L. METZ, Jeweler 622 Main St. Phone 72

KODAK WORK Leave Your Films Before 9 O'clock-Your A.M. Pictures are ready at 5 P.M. Underwood's Pharmacy KLAMATH FALLS OREGON WHERE PARTICULAR PEOPLE BUY THEIR DRUGS

"NOW-A-DAYS" says the Good Judge. A man can get a heap more satisfaction from a small chew of this class of tobacco, than he ever could get from a big chew of the old kind. He finds it costs less, too. The good tobacco taste lasts so much longer he doesn't need to have a fresh chew nearly as often. Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that. Put up in two styles

W-B CUT is a long fine-cut tobacco RIGHT CUT is a short-cut tobacco

LAST CALL -FOR- Block Wood. Prices on blockwood are low at present but will advance as fall weather comes. Our stock of blockwood is not large but we are filling orders promptly with BIG BLOCKS. Buy now! for fall weather means higher prices. GREEN SLAB-WOOD. Phone in your order for ten cords of green slab at $35.00 for a year's supply of wood—the cheapest wood available. O. Peyton & Co. "WOOD TO BURN" 419 Main St. Phone 558

Make that idle dollar work! Put it in the bank.

ASPIRIN Name "Bayer" on Genuine. BAYER logo.

Beware! Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for twenty-one years and proved safe by millions. Take Aspirin only as told in the Bayer package for Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago, and for Pain. Handy tin boxes of twelve Bayer Tablets of Aspirin cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.—adv.

The Rev. and Mrs. S. W. Hall, the Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Daniel and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Lytle and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Scott and family, Heber James, and Miss Nellie Dayden.

The Rev. and Mrs. G. G. Hall who were in Bonanza for the wedding of Miss Margaret Daniel and Robert Lytle left Friday morning for their home in Salem.

Miss Nellie Dryden who is to have charge of the Intermediate grades at the Bonanza school arrived Tuesday morning.

GET CLOSE TO RATTLER

Mr. and Mrs. George Reed and family yesterday had an exciting experience in the vicinity of the old Redfield ranch east of this city. The party had just left the car and were walking down the road when the angry whirr of a rattler's buttons was heard. Within four feet of Mrs. Reed, a coiled rattler lay. The snake was killed and found to have six buttons.

Pretty Ceremony Unites Bonanza Folk in Wedlock

BONANZA, Sept. 6.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. H. M. Daniel on Thursday evening at eight o'clock, when Miss Margaret Daniel became the wife of Mr. Robert R. Lytle. Both of the contracting parties are members of very highly respected families of the Bonanza section.

The decorations were exceedingly tasteful, the color scheme used being pink and white. The bride was charming in a gown of cream satin and georgette and she carried a magnificent bouquet of fern and white asters.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. W. Hall, for years the pastor and friend of the families.

Bountiful refreshments were served at the conclusion of the ceremony.

The presents were numerous, and while useful, were very beautiful. Those present at the wedding were