Bend Now Against Diamond Lake Add'n.

As the annexation stands now among the communities interested Bend and Roseburg oppose annexation, Eugene, Klamath Falls and Medford endorse it, if the actions of their respective chambers of commerce express the community sentiment.

However, there has been change of sentiment as further facts have been disclosed by discussion. As appears from the foregoing dispatches Bend has done a complete right about face, opposing the annexation plan where it formerly supported it.

Medford, too, it is said is only nominally a supporter of the inclusion of Diamond lake in Crater lake park. Some of Medford's citizens have awakened to the fact that if the annexation bill goes through the long standing expectation of a competing railway will be swept into the discard.

The railway project contemplates connection of the branch from Medford to Butte Falls with the Northern Pacific at Bend. The only feasible connection is through the pass that would be barred if the annexation bill goes through. For one of the iron clad regulations of the national park service forbids railway lines across the public playgrounds.

The Butte Falls-Medford branch is 30 miles long. It for years appeared, and probably still does, on the map of the Hill lines as a part of the system. It is Medford's one best bet for obtaining a competing line and some of the more forward looking citizens have sensed the danger in the Diamond lake annexation project and Medford is not unlikely to follow Bend's example and reverse its original stand for annexation.

Klamath Falls is recorded, following investigation by a chamber of commerce committee, as favoring annexation. The report, dated February 9, is signed by W. A. Wiest, Fred A. Baker, L. C. Sisco, Arthur Wilson and George Ulrich. The report, The Herald has found, does not represent the sentiment of quite a few timber operators and business men, who claim that 100 million feet of timber, tributary to Klamath Falls, will be lost to commerce if the McNary annexation bill passes. The grazing question will probably be considered by the county wool growers' association tonight.

Although Secretary Fall has been quoted as being in favor of the annexation, he has never so expressed himself. Secretary Stanley, of the local chamber of commerce, was quoted as saying that Secretary Fall would urge the annexation. Secretary Fall in the Portland press denied that he had made any definite statement. Mr. Stanley told a Herald representative last evening that while Secretary Fall had not said that he would urge the annexation Mr. Stanley was certain from his demeanor that he favored it.

EUGENE, Or., Sept. 10.—All commercial bodies of Oregon will be called upon to support the Senator McNary bill providing for the extension of Crater lake park to include Diamond lake by the Eugene chamber of commerce.

The board of directors of the chamber decided upon this course for the advancement of the bill at a meeting Tuesday night, at which resolutions were adopted indorsing and sponsoring the extending of Crater lake national park.

The including of Diamond lake in the Crater lake park not only will make the park more scenic and attractive for tourists, but will afford a north entrance from the Willamette pass road, declared President L. L. Ray in discussing the matter.

If the park is enlarged to include Diamond lake the government is expected to construct a road from Crater lake to Diamond lake, which will connect with the Willamette highway.

SOCIETY

The social calendar for this past week is practically a blank with the exception of club meetings and one or two dinner parties. The Masonic ball on Labor Day and their banquet at the White Pelican hotel on Wednesday evening were the two big affairs of the week. One hundred and seventy-five couples enjoyed the ball on Monday night at the Scandinavian hall. To the strains of Cochran's orchestra the dance moved on to a perfect close. Several supper parties were held after the dance by various groups all of which were informal.

At the White Pelican hotel Wednesday covers were laid for 100 Masons at their big get-together dinner. First plans were prepared for 75 guests, but the arrival of a larger number of outside members of the order made it imperative to arrange for more. After the dinner which was served at 6:30 o'clock the company adjourned to the lodge rooms where work in the Master Mason degree was given.

Another affair of interest was the dinner given by the members of the Pi Beta Phi woman's national college fraternity, at the White Pelican hotel. The table was decorated in wine carnations and silver blue tulle, colors of the order, and clever little place cards completed the decorations. Covers were laid for ten members and their guests. The members present were: Misses Myler and Clara Calkins, Maybelle Leavitt, Evangeline Foster and Marjorie Deltzell, University of Oregon, Geraldine Watt, Leland Stanford University, and Mrs. Will Hurn, an alumnae member visiting here from Portland. The guests were Elizabeth Manning, Ellen McVeigh and Jean Perry.

Wednesday afternoon the Auction Bridge club met at the home of Mrs. George Watt on Pacific Terrace.

The Krida Club was entertained by Mrs. G. A. Krause. Mrs. Will Hurn was the honor guest upon this occasion. Present were: Mesdames Hurn, Charles I. Roberts, Oscar Shive, William M. Duncan, Rolland Wright, E. T. Ludden, Steve Sabo, Jr., and Burge Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Whitman returned this week from Seaside and Portland where they have been on an extended vacation. They were accompanied home by two guests, Misses Grace Whitman of Woodburn, and Mrs. J. F. Hutchinson of Salem, both of whom will be their house guests for some time.

A ten o'clock breakfast was enjoyed Monday morning at the home of Mrs. adn Mrs. H. H. Jenkins with their three daughters as hostesses. Present on this occasion were: Misses Mable Obenchain, Bessie Tull, Ruth Lindsey, Mary, Eva and Inez Jenkins.

Announcements have been received in this city of the marriage of Alexander Martin, Jr., and Miss Laura Bilyeu of Lakewood, New Jersey, which took place recently. Mr. Martin was raised in Klamath Falls, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Martin, who resided here for many years, the family moving to Eugene several years ago and later to Portland where they now reside. At the outbreak of the war, "Jerry," as he was familiarly known among his friends, enlisted in the U. S. Navy and after his discharge engaged in business in Portland. He has since returned to the navy, however, and holds the rank of first lieutenant in the service.

One of the interesting affairs given for Mrs. Will Hurn during her stay here on the way to her home in Portland from San Francisco, was the party Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Leslie Terwilliger. A number of Mrs. Hurn's old friends attended and a delightful afternoon was passed at cards. Those present were: Mesdames Oscar Shive, Charles I. Roberts, John Euders, Mrs. Murphy of Ashland, William Duncan, Hardin Carter, Jennie Hurn, F. U. Patrick, G. A. Krause, Charles Moore, Berge Mason, Charles Martin, Mrs. Will Hurn and the hostess.

Mrs. T. C. Campbell was hostess at a most delightful affair Tuesday afternoon when she entertained at her charming new home on Pine street for the Leisure Hour bridge club, one of the oldest organizations of the kind in the city. Bowls of lavender and white cosmos created an artistic setting for the affair and a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess. The first prize went to Mrs. E. B. Hall and Mrs. Brockenbrough was given the guest prize. The guest list follows: Mesdames M. C. West, Fred Dunbar, E. D. Lamb, Charles Collier, J. S. Elliott, Guy Manning, H. N. Moe, E. B. Hall, John C. Brockenbrough, Charles Martin, Kip Van Riper, Fred Baker, C. Brookins, William Ganong, Leslie Terwilliger, C. S. Moore, Charles Moore, Mrs. Williams and Miss Mildred Oleson.

The Art Needle Work club was delightfully entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Allen Sloan, 331 North 10th. The house was beautifully decorated with nasturtiums and delicious refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon. This was the first meeting since the vacation period and was spent as a combined business and social meeting. The club discussed the books to be read during the season at the same time occupying themselves with needle work. Those present were: Mesdames S. E. Martin, A. W. Pief, R. H. Dunbar, H. S. Phillips, A. M. Melby, Arthur Fylling, Leslie Rogers, Robert Sloan, Amanda Hanaker, Don Zumwalt, John Houston, J. F. Goeller, R. E. Wattenburg, K. G. Cummings, Rufus Moore, J. H. Carnahan and the Misses Restora French, and Elizabeth McCurdy. Visiting guests were Mrs. Leland Haines of Yakima, Washington, and Dr. Bertha Sawyer of Ashland.

Lot's wife evidently passed some other woman and looked back to see what she had on.
