

ENTRY RULES ARE ANNOUNCED BY FAIR BOARD

The premium lists for the Klamath County Annual Fair to be held October 5, 6 and 7, inclusive are now out and are being distributed to the farming centers as rapidly as possible. The premiums are well distributed over a wide range of products. Rules are provided to cover entrance, also special notice to exhibitors of livestock so that no misunderstanding can arise at any time during the course of the fair.

Altamont ranch has been undergoing a grooming preparatory to the coming display of livestock and farm exhibits and particular attention has been paid to sanitation matters so that no infection of any kind of animal disease can be transmitted to the livestock exhibited there. Mr. Bradley has taken this matter in hand and stated that no precaution will be lacking for the safeguarding of the animals exhibited.

Breeders of fine stock can find in the premium list special premiums and material which will cause them to exhibit their prize beef or dairy stock. The greater the number of exhibitors in this particular, the greater the interest will be on this subject during the coming year. Every effort is being made to turn Klamath county into one of the greatest dairy sections in the west. Hay and splendid range are available at all times of the year. Frank Sexton, county club leader, is one of the greatest advocates of this dairy feature and is bending every effort to bring it about. Sexton's work in dairying with the younger generation is said to be accomplishing this purpose in a far-reaching way.

The county fair board calls particular attention to the following rules and regulations governing the fair:

Exhibits sent to the Secretary must be accompanied by a letter whenever an exhibit is forwarded to the Secretary to insure proper entry.

The County Fair Board has complete charge of all details connected with the fair. Marshals have full authority to enforce order in and about the grounds.

Every entry must be made in the name of the bonafide owner, maker or producer, whose number must be shown on entry card.

Anyone who shall make a false statement as to ownership, or who shall purchase stock, produce, fancy work, etc., and exhibit same in his or her own name, as of his or her own production, shall forfeit all claim as an exhibitor.

So far as practicable expert judges will be employed. No unworthy exhibit shall be awarded any premium. Where there is no competition, the judge shall award such premium as he deems proper, and in such case the same shall carry with it only 25 per cent of the cash prize offered with such ribbon, except club members' exhibits. Duplicate entries by one exhibitor shall not be considered as establishing any competition.

The right to protest is guaranteed every exhibitor. Errors of entry shall be subject to correction prior to judging.

Livestock must be entered on or before September 26, 1921, and must be at the Fair Grounds not later than 10 o'clock the first morning of the fair. All other entries must be at the Fair Grounds not later than 10 o'clock the first morning of the fair, but a correct entry and classification cannot be guaranteed entries unless they arrive during the day preceding the fair.

Judging will begin promptly at 1 p. m., the first day of the fair, and will be continued until completed.

Late Entries will be placed in a "Too Late to Classify" department, and will not be eligible for competition for awards.

The Fair Board will have a guard and marshal at the grounds, but requires that exhibitors shall at all times give personal attention to their exhibits.

The Fair Board reserves the right

English Premier Refuses Audience With Delegates

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Premier Lloyd George today cancelled all arrangements for the conference with Sinn Fein delegates and himself and the cabinet at Inverness on September 20th. This action followed the receipt of a De Valera note insisting that delegates be received as representatives of a sovereign state.

This action indicates, it is said, that England will in no way grant any concession or step which would give recognition to the proposed separation from the empire.

Lloyd George in reply to De Valera said "If we accepted conference with your delegates on the formal statement of claim which you have reaffirmed it would constitute an official recognition by his majesty's government of severance of Ireland from the empire and of its existence as an independent republic."

WORK STARTS ON HART BUILDING

Surveyors were busy today fixing the boundaries of the lot at the corner of Seventh and Main streets on which Hart Brothers are going to erect their new building. In the meantime the architect is putting the finishing touches on the plans. These call for a full basement with a foundation and walls capable of carrying five stories. It is the present intention of Mr. Hart to erect only two stories, but additional stories will be added if the demand for them arises.

The structure will be of reinforced concrete, with terra cotta finish and will be class A construction throughout. Work will start October 1, and it is the present expectation that the building will be completed by Christmas.

Mr. Hart left for Sacramento this morning to make arrangements to return here and remain until the structure is finished.

WEATHER REPORT. OREGON—Friday fair.

Personal Mention

J. R. O. Haynes, a homesteader in the Malin country, came into town about noon today and attracted considerable attention to himself as he went along Main street, because of a big bunch of grasses which he carried. Mr. Haynes had a bunch of alfalfa which was as high as a man could reach and the rye was far, far taller than a man. The sweet clover too, was record breaking.

Wallace McClellan is spending today in town from his home on the Merrill road. Mr. McClellan has been home only a short time having spent the greater part of the summer in Palo Alto after the close of Leland Stanford university.

W. W. McNeally left this afternoon on a duck hunting expedition which is to last until sometime tomorrow.

To interpret all rules herein, and in the absence of any printed rule, will be governed by the rules of the Oregon State Fair. The ruling of the Fair Board shall be final.

Colors denoting awards shall be as follows: First, blue; second, red; third, white; fourth, yellow; fifth, green. Championships, purple.

A special notice to exhibitors of livestock is that all exhibitors must comply with the Oregon State law pertaining to livestock exhibits at fairs; Look over poultry carefully to avoid exhibiting fowl with scaly leg, etc; To compete as a "grade," the animal must be at least half breed, but not full breed; Animals entered in pens, trice, pairs, etc., may also compete for single awards; The fair board will furnish hay for livestock, but owners desiring grain fed to their stock will be asked to give personal attention to this detail; Livestock exhibitors will be provided with one admission ticket for the purpose of caring for livestock on exhibition; Bulls over one year of age must be ringed.

JITNEY DRIVERS PROTEST RATES TO CRATER LAKE

A portion of the jitney drivers of this city are making a strong, concerted protest against the ruling whereby all cars for hire, except those authorized by an exclusive permit from the concessionaire at Medford, are allowed the privilege of Crater Lake National Park.

The storm center seems to be located in this city, and the jitney drivers, who have been refused admission, say that their prices are much lower and cover much more territory than do the regular stages that make daily trips. It develops that the fare for the round trip is $16.50 a person and the trip consumes two days, necessitating a night stop-over in the park at a cost of $6. The jitney men claim that they can take four passengers in a car for a round trip journey in one day at a total cost of $30 for the four, permitting stopovers at Harriman Lodge, Rocky Point and Cherry creek, then to the lake, on to Huckleberry mountain and back to Klamath Falls by a different upper lake route. This fare is open to tourists or to local people. The distance to Huckleberry mountain is 68 miles, to the lake 62 miles and the trip can easily be made in one day, eliminating the night stop-over somewhere on the route at additional expense.

A number of jitney men, headed by Fred Duke, had a meeting with W. T. Lee of this city, who has the concession from the Medford concessionaire for entrance to the park from the south on Monday last in the office of Attorney William Marx, and he is said to have stated that he had sub-let the hauling concession to the Western Transfer and City Transfer companies of this city. This summer, Duke says, Grimes of the City Transfer issued orders to certain jitney drivers not to go through the park even to Huckleberry mountain and that cars for hire could not even go through the park. Duke and Frank Upp, who operates jitneys, took parties up there this season and were arrested when they entered the park as they had no permits from the concessionaire to go through.

Mr. Lee at this conference called up Supt. Alex Sparrow at Crater lake, and after a conversation with him made this alleged proposition to jitney men of this city, according to Duke. The jitney men could go through the park by taking their passengers to the Western Transfer have them pay $16.50 each to the agent for the round trip. No matter who the passenger or passengers were, all tickets must be bought at the stage office. On a party of four the total of $66 must be paid in advance. After the trip was made, Mr. Lee stated that the jitney man would receive $40 for his trouble, the balance $26 to go to the Western Transfer and City Transfer subsidiaries.

The jitney men say that a passenger or passengers may as well go on the stage as to submit to these prices as it is entirely too high in view of the fact that all four can make the same trip, with additional privileges, for a total expenditure of $30. The reason for the protest, Duke says is that as the park is national property it should be open to all on an equal footing.

LESTER EXTENDS TERRITORY M. S. Lester has taken over the agency for the entire Klamath and Lake counties distribution for the Kelly-Springfield tires and tubes.

RUTH BREAKS RECORD NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—"Babe" Ruth today made his 56th home run, breaking last year's record of 54.

CARLSTROM IS ELECTED HEAD OF SPANISH WAR VETERANS MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 15.—Oscar E. Carlstrom, of Illinois, was elected National Commander-in-Chief of the United Spanish War Veterans.

MORE PRODUCTS ARE NEEDED FOR PUBLIC MARKET

The growing interest manifested in the public market indicates that there will be a considerable increase in the number of farmers bringing in products next Saturday. So far there has not been half enough stuff offered, notwithstanding that the sales for the two Saturdays went over the thousand dollar mark for each day. The demand for the market is evidenced by the large crowds attending and the fact that everything was sold before noon.

Under the direction of Market-master Cramblitt, who will have direct supervision from now on, better accommodations may be looked for, though it is going to take a couple of weeks to get things fully under way. In a statement made today, and published herewith, Mr. Cramblitt makes some fine suggestions and if the farmers will cooperate with him it is sure to result very beneficially for them. The first needed is a larger number of farmers attending. The average for the last two Saturdays was something over thirty. At least fifty should attend regularly. Then more produce should be brought in. Eventually the quantity needed will be fixed, but it is better to have a little left over than to fall so far short of the demands, as has happened each Saturday.

This Saturday there will be a cooked food sale, the articles being furnished by the ladies of the Catholic church. This is a feature that will prove very popular and will undoubtedly be a feature of the market.

Mr. Cramblitt's statement follows: "It is a pleasure to note the opportunity there is in Klamath Falls for a Public Market. The farmer has an inducement to do diversified farming, as he had never before in this locality. The public demands lower prices on all farm produce and the farmers are the only ones who are willing to supply produce at lower prices. The farmer not only receives a great deal more for what he can raise and sell on the public market, but he is satisfying a just need of the general public in the community.

"There are many things to be done to make this public market a success. There must be cooperation between the farmer and the Market-master. Each must make suggestions and receive them freely and openly. Correct weights must be given and such weights made on standard scales where the public as well as the producer can see the weight. Cleanliness and sanitary conditions must always exist. Such as having all meats, chickens, and such in glass covered show cases. Home-made cases that are evenly made and painted are as good as factory made. Eggs and vegetables including potatoes must be washed.

Each one of us owe it to the good of the market to talk Public Market to every one we meet and tell them of their opportunity and each farmer must make displays so the public can readily see they are being squarely dealt with. Each farmer is requested to come as often as it is possible for him to do so, and be at the market by seven in order to catch the factory employees who start work at eight.

The Public Market not only brings to the farmer a much greater compensation for his labor and produce but offers a well lighted, heated and a cleaned room and a storage room where he can bring in advance, potatoes, onions, cabbage or any other produce susceptible to frost. The market master will not only assist the farmers while they are in the market but will find a market among sawmills and logging camps to dispose of the entire crop if possible to do so. The market master will also take orders accompanied by cash from all factory employes for all they wish to purchase in the Public Market. Orders will be taken between seven and eight a. m. and be ready for delivery between four and six p. m. There will be a full

Warden Maloney Believes Gardner Is Being Aided

M'NEIL ISLAND, Wash., Sept. 15.—Despite the upsetting of clues indicating that Roy Gardner the escaped prisoner, is still on island, Warden Maloney persists in the belief that prisoner is still here. Maloney suspects some of the islanders are sheltering the fugitive. A posse was sent to Gertrude this afternoon, one of the towns on the island, when two shots were heard near there. Report was that the fugitive was seen and fired upon by searching parties from that place.

Short Farm Suffer $6,000 Fire Loss

Fire broke out from some unknown source in the barn belonging to R. C. Short who lives eight miles southeast of this city this morning at 1:30 o'clock and before being extinguished caused a loss estimated to run near the $6,000 mark. The barn, power house, hog house, granary and a small barn were consumed in the blaze. Nine hogs and a bunch of chickens perished in the flames.

Insurance carried with the J. H. Driscoll agency here amounted to $3,000. Mr. Short stated that he had no idea how the barn caught fire as there have been no tramps or other vagrants in that vicinity for some time. The house occupied by the family was unharmed as neighbors assisted in the saving of this property. The Short farm is located at the junction where the hill road leaves the Merrill road.

Kreigh Trial Will Last All Day

Jack Kreigh, a jitney driver, employed by C. F. Reckard, was given a hearing before Judge Gaghagen today upon the alleged charge of appropriating a car belonging to his employer and taking it to Alturas, without consent first being obtained from Reckard.

Testimony given this morning in the trial by Reckard was to the effect that Kreigh was instructed to "run the car about the city" until familiar with it. Consent Thursday was obtained, Reckard said, to take passengers from this city to Swan lake. The next Reckard knew of either the car or Kreigh was on Saturday morning when a telegram was received by him stating that the car was out of commission. Reckard claims he did not authorize Kreigh to go beyond Swan lake. Kreigh is held on a charge of larceny by bail. The case was still being heard at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Is Here to Urge Concrete Paving

L. E. Burton, representing the Portland Cement Association, has been in the city for a few days interviewing the contractors and people who are interested in the matter of paving, particularly with concrete. Mr. Burton states that 50 per cent of the contracts let during the years of 1919-20 and up to the present time in 1921, have been placed for concrete paving and that this particular kind has given good results in Illinois, Indiana, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and Iowa in the eastern states, while in California, Washington and Arizona, and other points in the west the concrete system is slowly replacing the asphaltic type.

A report made by the engineers selected by the California State Automobile Association and the Automobile Club of southern California arrived at the conclusion that the most satisfactory type of pavement to stand heavy traffic conditions is an adequately and properly built concrete slab, asserted by C. R. Ege, manager of the highways bureau, and approved by W. M. Kinney, manager.

DOES KLAMATH FALLS DESIRE TO KEEP THE BAND?

By persistent effort of the members, who have devoted much of their spare time to practice, the Klamath Falls band has built up a musical organization that would be a credit to any city, but apparently the place has been reached where the public will have to help if the organization is to be maintained.

A. L. Wishard, manager of the band, realizes that the question of keeping up the organization is one of public interest and in the following statement submits the facts to the public:

"We have a band and a good one and the boys want to know if the citizens of this city want to see the organization kept alive.

"The boys have been practicing twice a week for the past three months under the leadership of F. Selak, and they say they would like to give some concerts. Due to requests of other civic organizations the band has not made any attempt to obtain the little support necessary to keep the organization going. However, since it seems certain that no support can be expected from any other source the band has decided to make a direct appeal to the citizens having been urged to do so by a number of citizens.

"Mr. Selak will circulate a subscription list about town and if sufficient support is given Klamath Falls can have a first class band.

The band boys do not want any pay for their services other than on special occasions, but they would like to have the leader receive pay for his services and have enough money to buy the necessary music. If at least a majority of the business, professional and other interested citizens will give about $1 a month we can have a band that any city should be proud of. The membership of the band is composed of local men, which insures its future. Mr. Selak is anxious and willing to instruct beginners and promote them to the band as soon as they are competent."

Brady Refuses Arbuckle Bail

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—Bail for "Fatty" Arbuckle was set today at $5000 cash or $10,000 bonds, after the grand jury indictment charging manslaughter in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, was returned in the superior court. District Attorney Brady said, however, that "Arbuckle will not be admitted to bail until the two murder charges pending against him had been disposed of." The district attorney was to determine after a conference with the chief of police and other authorities as to the exact nature of the charge on which Arbuckle shall be tried.

A special delivery letter sent from Sacramento to the secretary of the grand jury in charge of the investigation, added a new angle to the affair today. The letter was unsigned and contained a threat of violence against the accused actor "If justice was not done" in his case.

The grand jury is at a loss to understand where this letter came from and particularly why it should come from the state capitol city. Had this letter been mailed in this city, it would naturally be inferred that hostile action was being planned against Arbuckle by radicals who were bitter towards the actor, but coming as it does from outside sources, the grand jury is at a loss to explain the mystery. It is said that the letter will in no way affect the jury in its probe on the matter.

MARKET QUOTATIONS PORTLAND, Sept. 15.—Killing cattle weak; choice steers $6 to $6.50; feeders, 50 cents lower, other classes 75 cents lower; prime light, $11.50 to $12; sheep steady; eggs and butter firm.
