Personal Mention

Mrs. Mary Griffith left on the boat this morning for her old home at Eagle Ridge. Mr. and Mrs. Griffith were the proprietors of The Tavern for several years until they moved to San Diego, where they are operating the Keystone Inn.

J. R. Welch was in town this morning from his ranch at Dalry attending to tax matters at the county court house.

Mrs. Alice Patterson came into the city yesterday from her home in Midland to purchase supplies for the thrashing crew on her place.

Mrs. Earl Walker left this morning for Portland where she will visit for several weeks.

Clyde Bradley, a Merrill country rancher was a county seat visitor yesterday afternoon.

Fred Stuckle, another rancher from the Merrill district made a flying business trip into the city yesterday after supplies for the farm.

Miss Lydia Fricke, county health nurse, and Ivan Houston, of the traveler's bureau of the chamber of commerce, left this morning for Merrill on a business trip.

M. and Mrs. A. C. Hatch are rejoicing over the arrival of a little daughter, born September 7, weight 9 1/4 pounds, and named Mary Jane.

R. C. Sheperd and family, of Astoria, arrived here last evening and expect to make this city their home. Mr. Sheperd expect to engage in the fur and taxidermy business.

Mrs. Mary L. Mallett, state resident of the W. C. T. U., of Oregon, will meet the ladies of Klamath Falls Friday at 2:30 p. m. at the M. E. church to talk over some work for this city. Mothers are especially invited.

Esaw Keck, a pioneer in the Poe Valley district, was in town yesterday on one of his infrequent visits after supplies. He reports that everything is looking fine out his way this year.

Oliver Cox of Olene was in the city this morning attending to business affairs at the courthouse.

H. H. Hart left this morning for Sacramento after several days spent here arranging for the erection of his new building at the corner of Seventh and Main streets. Mr. Hart plans on returning with Mrs. Hart about the first of next month and will remain until January, in order to superintend the construction of the building.

Earl Mack, a junior in the Oregon Agricultural college, was a passenger on the morning train bound for Corvallis, where he will enter the college for the coming year.

Miss Mary McComb left this morning for Corvallis where she will enter the college as a senior. Miss McComb is a Klamath county girl who graduated from the high school here. Her home is on one of the fine farms on the Merrill road south of town.

Dr. Hardin Carter, Dr. H. D. Lloyd Stewart and Arthur Whitman, will leave early in the morning for a hunting trip north of town somewhere. One thing they are sure of—there will be no more trips into California after game as far as they are concerned, they said this morning.

Dave Shook, one of the most picturesque figures in the county, having been one of the our early settlers, was in town on business from his ranch at Dalry. Mr. Shook is still looking forward to seeing oil in his part of the county before many more months, he says.

Miss Mary Jenkins has accepted a position with the First National bank.

Mrs. R. E. Smith, who has been spending several weeks in San Francisco, will return tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram F. Murdock were in town yesterday afternoon from their ranch on the Keno road, and they brought in a fine supply of home grown fruit for the local market.

D. M. Smith will leave early in the morning on a hunting trip into the lower Klamath lake region. S. J. Chaney, Dr. G. A. Massey and E. M. Chilcote are others of the men about town who will desert their desks for the more chance occupation of duck shooting on opening day. They will probably leave this evening and pitch camp somewhere in the vicinity of Malone Springs.

A. E. Kruse arrived last night from Portland and is registered at the White Pelican hotel.

Ruby W. Fenwick of Boise is in the city on business for a few days. While here she will be a guest at the White Pelican hotel.

Fred Soule, city editor of The Herald, was absent from his desk today, having been confined to his home because of a slight illness.

R. S. Dixon, a cattleman from the Fort Klamath country, is spending several days in town this week attending to matters of business connected with the buying of cattle.

Ormand Rankin arrived last night from Portland and will be here for several days attending to business affairs.

S. B. Shaw, J. Killridge, Jr., and R. A. Weidman, all connected with the forest service, are registered at the White Pelican hotel today, having arrived in the city yesterday.

A select and experienced group of Klamath Falls hunters are getting ammunition, tents and bed rolls together today in preparation for an early start into the Wood river country this afternoon, where they will be on hand to annihilate the first ducks that dare to fly at dawn tomorrow morning. These busy hunters are W. D. Harlan, G. A. Krause, K. G. Cummings, R. E. Wright, Jack Kimball and William M. Duncan. If their dreams are realized other city hunters are going to be awfully jealous when the above group comes into town tomorrow night with their kill.

M. S. Lester is gathering another group of hunters together and they will leave town late Friday evening for some place not yet decided upon for their shoot.

Mrs. W. C. Elliott returned last night from a two weeks visit at La Grande, Oregon. She was accompanied home by a friend, Mrs. Everett Keagle who will remain as her guest for three weeks.

Mrs. L. B. Hague is ill at her home on the Keno road and was unable to be at her public stenography office in the Willits building.

W. H. Thompson, a rancher in the Swan lake district was in the county seat after supplies yesterday.

A. Kallina, a prominent merchant of Malin, spent yesterday in this city on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hagelstein, are in the city today from Dorris, where Mr. Hagelstein is cashier of the bank.

Dan Driscoll is visiting his daughter, Agnes, this week. Mr. Driscoll operates a ranch near Bly. J. A. Cheyne transacted business here yesterday from his ranch south of town. Arthur Leavitt, who has been ill at his home here for the past week, is reported somewhat improved today.

A phone message this afternoon brought the news that little Lester Wishard had found the puppy, whose loss he felt so keenly when he disappeared the first of the week. The Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church held several meetings in the different parts of town yesterday afternoon, one at Mrs. E. S. Phillips home, another at Mrs. W. R. Boyd's and a third at Mrs. James Grimes' for the purpose of continuing their plans for their bazaar early in December.
