

The Office Cat

BY JUNIUS

Lattice to Let Otis Titus used to notice
That his giddy goddess, Lotus Didn't care to much to gad as Seek the shadows with her Otis.

Then upspoke this Otis Titus:
"Let us build a lattice, Lotus,
Lotus, let us have a lattice—
Where no spying eye could spot us."
Lotus answered: "Let us Let us."

"When the moon had lit us, Lotus In the lattice we could gaze at
And the world would never notice
For the lattice would delete us.

"Clad with leaves as light as lettuce
We would have this lattice, Lotus,
Where the bee would come to loot
us.

And the glow worm light us gratis,
But no leering brute could hoot us,
And no Errutus could get at us,
Lotus, let us have a lattice!"

"Otis, let us," answered Lotus.

What has become of the old-fashioned little girl who, on arriving at the age of the grown-ups, donned long skirts and was quite proud of her change in apparel? Her sartorial shortage is now made shorter.

Magazine Verse
"Do you think Owen Meredith could sell "Lucille" today?"
"He might. But they'd have to run it as a serial."

The New Car
Husband—Now, in driving this car, of course you will have to change gears.
Wife—Why, don't they change them where we bought the car?

Don't pick a quarrel before it is ripe.

The Silent Six
"Oo isn't this a grand day for the picnic? So bright and warm, you know. Are you sure you got the cheese and pickles, dear? I just feel that we've forgotten something.
Oo, don't you wish we could do this everyday, huh? I guess I am an out-of-doors kind of person. I simply love the woods and flowers and things. Dearie, will you please get another bucket of water? And while you're up won't you pass me the salt? That's an old dear. Look out!
Oooh! I thought that hornet was going to sting you sure. Oo, don't you wish we could do this every day?— Isn't this fun? You watch the children, dear, while I pick some nice boughs to sit on. My mother used to always say that I should have been born on a farm. I seem to know instinctively what to do. Look out!
Look out! There's Willie sitting in the mayonnaise again!"

We have trilled to their lairs the people who read "Main Street" and play "Ain't we Got Fun" on the phonograph an' d'foud what they do in their spare time. They name summer cottages. This is written at the lake, and we have among us the following:
Bids A Wee, Sultaus, Peg O' My Heart, O So E-Z, Linger Longer, Blue Bird, Wildmere, Tumble In,
Rest Haven. These are samples.
Some aren't as bad, some are worse.
Point is, if people name their cottages, why not their home? Why not their cars? For example—The Rattler, Ol Squeak Missing Again Any motorist can think up lots of names that will fit.

perience may be the best teacher

her desk.

him with the well directed remark:
"Of all the nerve; get out of here at once."
The burglar complied with her wishes but carried with him $5 found in a purse on the lower floor.
