

The Office Cat

BY JUNIUS

- Don'ts For Would-Be Teachers
- 1—No lipsticks
 - 2—No painted eye-brows.
 - 3—No rolled-down hosiery
 - 4—No jet ear-rings
 - 5—No waap walets
 - 6—No short skirts
 - 7—No bobbed hair.

All of which is for those desiring to teach in the public schools of San Francisco. Right the first time. It's a woman who made the rules, Mrs. Helen P. Canhorn, president of the board of education. Next question, please.

Tenderfoot—"Why is your little brother named Bill?"
First Class Scout—"Because he was born on the first of the month."

A spiritualist (or "spiritist" as some people call 'em) reports that he has already been in communication with the shade of Enrico Caruso, and that Enrico says that the music where he is is beautiful beyond description or human comprehension. Our own control, Princess Wahoo, says that where she is all she hears is jazz. We don't believe that she and Enrico have gone to the same place.

First Flea: "Been on a vacation?"
Second Flea: "No, on a tramp."

Bert McDonald says an ounce of cats is worth a pound of menus.

Safety First
"Before I buy I'll have to get my friend to pass on this bathing suit."
"Is she a designer?"
"No, she's a policewoman."

Fame
The old complaint resounds anew
Our sympathies to touch—
When clothes appear to be so few,
Why should they cost so much.
When the savage red man lived in a wigwam he paid no rent. What was it, then, made him savage?—Providence Tribune.

When ye ed was a boy, if a boy went to the woods on a hike, and went swimming, and fishing, and cooked his meals over his own campfire, and all such he had a wonderful time, and he got a wonderful walloping when he got home. Now they call him a boy scout, and hang a medal on him. Pretty soft, pretty soft.

Correct
School Teacher (to little boy)—
"If a farmer raises 700 bushels of wheat and sells it for $2.50 per bushel, what will he get?"
Little Boy—"An automobile."

Thirst in war; thirst in peace;
thirst in the throats of our countrymen.

What has become of the old-fashioned girl who used to clutch at her skirts when she rounded a windy corner? asks Bill McNealy.

If this bare-knee style keeps up until winter, there's a fortune awaiting the manufacturers of chapped skin remedies.

A fellow is glad he is a man whenever he sees a girl's skirt flapping in the cold drizzling rain around the knee caps.

Temptation is the balance in which character is weighed.

COPPER IN SHELAND
LONDON, Sept. 20.—An important and rich discovery of copper has been made in Sheland. The lodes thus far proved give a high percentage and already half a million tons of copper ore are in sight.
Experts and engineers are laying down a mining plant and its expected operation will commence next month.

KLAMATH ROADS ARE DETRIMENT

What are they saying about Klamath county roads out on the highways, in the auto camps, around service stations and in other places where the tourist foregather and swap tales of the road?

A slight reflection of what they are saying is contained in a letter to a member of the Herald staff from N. C. Briggs, of Hollister, California, son-in-law of Judge Benson and at one time a resident of Klamath while secretary of the original canal company before the government took the project over. Mr. Briggs says:

Much to my regret I did not get a chance to visit beautiful Klamath this year notwithstanding the wonderful propaganda which you so kindly sent me. Instead we journeyed to Oregon to visit the family of Judge Benson and spent two delightful weeks at Salem and other points of interest. By the way, when will Klamath Falls and Klamath County realize that wonderful Crater Lake is their attraction? Everywhere we went in your state we were advised to see it and in asking about the roads were advised that we could not go via Klamath Falls as there were no roads from that point. These we saw who went in by Montague reported the road between Boswick and Topsy grade as miserable, and the road from Klamath Falls to Pelican Bay as quite poor. Some advised us to go by Medford and come out through Bend as a good trip. We were not intending to visit the Lake but I made the inquiries to find what other people were saying about it. It is being boosted everywhere but the old town is not getting the proper publicity from their own attraction.

On our trip we were compelled to make many detours on account of building of highway not only in Oregon but also in California. When the road is finally completed you will not be able to tell what state you are in from the license plates. Oregon's commission is doing fine work and it is a pleasure to drive on their completed highway.

PETITION DENIED
Saturday afternoon, Judge Bunnell after reviewing the motion to squash the writ of review filed in the case of T. L. Cleveland, sometimes known as Tom L. Cleveland, doing business under the name of James Sumpter, denied the motion and the case will be set for hearing before the county court some time this week.

GAMBLERS REFUSED PERMIT
MEXICO CITY, Sept. 20.—Requests by American capitalists for gambling concessions on Coronado Islands, off the coast of Lower California, have been denied by the department of agriculture which stated its policy is against permits of such nature.
