Sheriff Lloyd Low has left no avenue of escape open to the prisoners who participated in the wholesale jail delivery at the police station Wednesday night, and has been tracing down every clue which bears on a possible arrest. One prisoner has been taken, Tom Capener, aged 22 years, arrested on an alleged moonshining charge last week.

Capener yesterday afternoon telephoned to Jailer Mark Howard that he was still in the city, and that he intended to come back and surrender. The reason he was returning, he said, was because he did not want to have his bondsmen, who had signed $750 bonds guaranteeing his appearance in Medford on a moonshining charge, forfeit their bond money on him. Capener was arrested here for an alleged moonshining operation at 79 Main street four months ago, and was at liberty on bonds when re-arrested on the Worden avenue charge.

Capener stated that the outbreak was engineered from inside the jail after a file and hacksaw had been smuggled into the jail early in the week. He refused to reveal who sent in the saw and who did the filing of the lock bolt. He also refused to make any statement where the balance of the prisoners went. Capener denied that any friends of his aided him in breaking out.

Deputy Sheriff Burt Hawkins grilled Capener regarding various details of the outbreak but could glean no facts which would solve the problem. Capener maintained complete innocence of the plot for the delivery.

Questioned where he remained all night, he said, "Oh, with some friends where we had some good liquor. I got all I wanted so I decided to return and not embarrass the good men who trusted me by acting as my bondsmen." It was learned later that Capener spent the night in Shippington.

40 Bushels Spring Wheat Is Threshed on Tule Lake Land

N. H. Martin, who resides on Oak street in this city, reports that his wheat yield on land in the Tule Lake district is running well over 40 bushels to the acre. The land was leased from the government. The wheat is the bluestem variety, spring planting, and the yield is considered unusual for spring wheat.

Mr. Martin also has an oat crop to be harvested. No oats have been threshed yet but it is estimated they will yield from 75 to 100 bushels an acre.

ARBUCKLE ONLY HAD BOOZE KEY

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23.—Only Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle himself had the key to the cellar of his West Adams street residence here, according to Miss Katherine Fitzgerald, housekeeper for Arbuckle, in testimony given to Ralph Camarillo, assistant United States district attorney.

Miss Fitzgerald said, according to Camarillo, that she understood Arbuckle's cellar was "generously stocked" with liquors; that he alone entered it; that she did not know whether he had taken any with him when he started for San Francisco on the trip which resulted in his arrest for the alleged murder of Miss Virginia Rappe, film actress; and that while she arranged for the payment of other household expenses, she never had seen a bill for liquor among them.

Camarillo stated Miss Fitzgerald's statements checked with evidence already in the possession of the federal officials who were investigating the source of the liquor drunk at the Arbuckle party in San Francisco.

Mrs. Delmonte

Mrs. B. M. Delmonte, Miss Rappe's companion at the Arbuckle party, signed the warrant which accuses the comedian of the Rappe girl's murder.

VIOLATORS OF GAME LAWS TO BE PROSECUTED

"Tell the duck and goose hunters two things for me, first to refrain from shooting migratory birds after sunset, and secondly that I intend to start out Saturday to arrest all violators of the law forbidding shooting one half hour before sunrise and after sunset," Henry Stout, game warden said today to a Herald reporter. "I do not wish to act without giving fair warning about the law so a hunter can plead ignorance," he continued, "but tables showing the time of sunset and sunrise have been given to the newspapers for the information of the public and that is surely fair warning. Tell the hunters to cut out the slip and carry it with them."

Mr. Stout assigns the reason for the campaign first because it is legal, secondly for encouraging the game birds to remain in this section as long as possible. "After dark," he said, "when a game bird is seeking a roosting and feeding place, the flash and sound of a gun will cause it to rise sky high and proceed south without feeding, whereas if undisturbed at night the fowl will seek the same spots after dusk where it is assured of a full crop and undisturbed rest. The less it is disturbed, the longer it will remain here and offer a mark for some sportsman. I heartily approve of the appeal sent out by the Sportsmen's Association asking its members to stop shooting at sunset. I wish other hunters would follow suit. Every deputy game warden has been instructed to arrest violators of the law and the campaign begins tomorrow irrespective of persons."

Following is the sunrise and sunset table for the coming week:

	Sunrise	Sunset
Sept. 24	5:51	5:55
Sept. 25	5:52	5:53
Sept. 26	5:53	5:51
Sept. 27	5:55	5:49
Sept. 28	5:56	5:47
Sept. 29	5:57	5:45
Sept. 30	5:58	5:44
Oct. 1	5:59	5:42

Jewels vs. Ewaunas at Park Sunday

A meeting of the managers of the city baseball league was held this forenoon and a decision was made to have the Jewels cross bats with the Ewauna team Sunday at Modoc park. It is said that an effort will be made to have the Klamath band assist in the Sunday program by playing on the streets and also render a concert during the course of the game at the grounds.

The proposition has been submitted to the band and will be considered tonight. The city league offers the band 50 per cent of the net proceeds above expenses. Such an arrangement would help raise the band debt which has been partially paid by the subscription of $100 from the chamber of commerce.

REX RENNER IS MAKING SUCCESS OF MOOSE DANCES

The remarkable success that has already attended the dances given each Wednesday and Saturday evenings in the Moose hall would indicate that this popular hall will regain its place as the mecca of the dancers of the city. Under the direction of Rex Renner, the dances are gaining in popularity, and he states that the same careful personal supervision will be continued through the winter season. The music by the Fils orchestra is fine, and altogether the young folks of the city find keen enjoyment in attending. JEALOUS WOMAN SHOOTS RIVAL AND SLAYS SELF

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Miss Mildred Hanan, said to be the daughter of the late Alfred P. Hanan, wealthy shoe manufacturer, was shot and seriously wounded early today by Mrs. Grace Lawes, who then committed suicide.

The shooting occurred as Miss Hanan and John S. Borland, an exporter, emerged from an apartment house in Brooklyn, where they had been visiting.

Borland attributed the shooting to jealousy, and admitted he had quarreled recently with Mrs. Lawes about Miss Hanan. He said Mrs. Lawes had been concealed in the shadows near the apartment house until she stepped out and began shooting.

After firing three bullets into Miss Hanan's body, Mrs. Lawes shot herself in the head, dying instantly.

Mrs. Lawes left a letter to her mother, who lives in San Francisco, in which she said: "Too much high life; the pace is too fast, and liquor has driven me crazy."

Miss Hanan was 24 years old and Mrs. Lawes was 32. The younger woman had been married and was divorced three years ago.

ROSEBURG, Sept. 23.—Dr. R. M. Brumfield, held on a charge of murdering Dennis Russell, today hurled a chair at Deputy Sheriff Hopkins while the officer was in his cell, according to Hopkins' report.

Brumfield is said to have been angry because his cellmate, Charles Cobb of Reedsport, recently sentenced to three months at hard labor on a moonshining charge, had been made to work in the courthouse yard yesterday.

Hopkins drew his revolver after Brumfield threw the chair and told the prisoner he would be a dead man if he made another move.

Cooked Food Sale at Market Tomorrow; Market Opens at 7

The Episcopal ladies will have a cooked food department at the Grand Central public market tomorrow. The proceeds of the sale will be used for treatment of a disabled ex-service man.

After October 1, Mr. Cramblitt, announces, the market will be open daily.

Mr. Cramblitt has been working all week to get the stalls in shape for this week's market and has made considerable progress. The farmers have also been organized to a greater extent and a record breaking business is expected tomorrow.

The lake was hidden from the view of those on the rim by a cloud blanket but could be seen in all of its splendor half way down the trail. The sight was an unusual one much appreciated by those fortunate enough to have seen it. Father Geis and Mr. Renick returned to Lakeview this morning.
