THE STENO

She has wise and seeing eyes, And has a bunch and tells the bunch Of bores and peels long on requests For him to munch with them at lunch, She knows all his goings and sowings And is wise to his cares and little affairs, She never once knows how much that she knows And the man himself would pay over self To deftly disclose just how much she knows— Just one little know Of the wise steno.

Some smart London restaurants are now providing special crimson-tipped cigarettes for women smokers so that any complexion that may happen to be removed from their lips will not be visible on their cigarettes. Probably the next reform will be white evening dress for men dancers who are becoming a little tired of wearing the "flour" of chivalry upon their expensive dress suits.

Fooling the Medicos

"I don't hear from my girl at the seashore," "Why doesn't she write?" "I suppose some other fellow is holding her hand."

Nels Rounsevell says a pessimist is like a blind man in a dark room, looking for a black hat that isn't there.

As a matter of fact, rolled stockings may not have a thing in the world to do with the early appearance of the augmented mosquito army. What is a thin layer of silk more or less to a mosquito armed for action at three hundred yards? Anyhow, we hope it's true that the rolled stocking is responsible. Maybe it'll keep 'em from singing in a fellow's ears.

POME

What is home without a mother? Dad is mad as fury, He has had no lunch today— Mother's on the jury.

The people of the famine belt of the near east report having seen a serpent 200 feet long in the Black Sea. Those folks may be hungry, but we will bet they aren't thirsty.

This is Too Much

Somebody's always taking the joy out of life. Right on top of when we've almost forgotten the high-ball, comes Helen Sweeney of the New York tribe of dancing masters, with the following enticing directions about the newest popular dance, Culture Walk:—"Keep the body line back and the forward leg straight. Bend the back leg, take a long, stretching slide, and FORGET ABOUT THE BALL OF THE FOOT."

The sheriff has a dog which barks every time he smells a still. When does the poor dog rest?—Philadelphia Record.

When a wise man gets home late he tells the truth and lets his wife wonder where he has been.

THE STRAND

"The Tigress" has slain a tiger. But "The Tigress" is no longer the cruel, bloodthirsty beast of the jungle whose reeking jaws drip strong men's blood. "The Tigress" is now a weak, sweet woman, who has found herself and her soul through the all-redeeming power of love, and she has made her last killing. Buried on Boot Hill, after being trapped by the woman he has betrayed, lies the Tiger, known as "The Gent," and now disclosed as "The Collector," a notorious bandit, victim to the unerring skill of the Gun Woman of Devil's Kitchen, widely known as "The Tigress."

How this marvelous, fascinating Tigress has her claws cut by love and changes into a sweet and gentle lamb is shown in the wonderful Triangle screen drama, "The Gun Woman," with Texas Guinan and an all-star cast. This picture will be shown at the Strand theater for the last time tonight.

SOVIET SEEKS TO REVIVE CITY OF PETROGRAD

REVAL, Estonia, Sept. 23.—The Russian soviet council of labor and defense has taken urgent steps to revive Petrograd, which even the Bolsheviks themselves have recently termed a "dying city."

Thousands of workmen, confronted by starvation, and realizing that Moscow was favored over Petrograd in the matter of food distribution, have recently left the city, with the result that scarcely enough manpower was left to operate what few factories could be provided with fuel.

At a session of the all-Russian central executive committee held in Moscow a few days ago it was decided to give Petrograd preferential privileges in regard to fuel and transport, to place Petrograd in the same situation as Moscow with reference to food supplies, to establish a special district from which food supplies should be drawn solely for the use of Petrograd, and to enjoin all of Russia to come to the aid of Petrograd in the matter of food and fuel supply. A special commission, headed by Premier Lenin and including Eloviev, governor of Petrograd, was named to carry out the work.

It was declared that only one-sixth of the pre-war number of industrial enterprises were in operation in Petrograd. The population is said to number less than 700,000, a little more than a third of the pre-war figures.

The committee also decided to include Petrograd to a greater extent than had been contemplated, in the general electrification scheme.
