

PHILIPPINES PROGRESS MUCH IN 2 DECADES

LONDON, Aug. 30. (By Mail).—Fidel A. Reyes, Director of the Bureau of Commerce and Industry of the Philippine Islands, asserted in an address here the other day that the economic progress of the islands in the last 20 years had been unprecedented. He was speaking at the International Exposition of Rubber and other Tropical Plants.

Mr. Reyes also pointed out the opportunities for the investment of foreign capital in developing the resources of the Philippines. He gave credit to the administration of the United States government in the Philippines, saying:

"By promoting one of the most modern and efficient systems of public education, by placing upon our own shoulders the responsibilities of managing our own domestic affairs, and by assisting us in raising our standard of living, the American people have given to my people as a lasting blessing all that is best in American life and institutions."

As indicative of the enormous growth of the trade of the islands, Mr. Reyes cited figures showing the total value of imports and exports in 1921 to have been only $1,217,078 compared with a total in 1920 of $300,522,138.

Mr. Reyes said great progress had been made in agriculture. This, he stated, included big increases in areas planted to crops, corresponding increases in yield and stupendous advances in value.

Causes contributing to the agricultural development, he said, were the pushing of the food campaign during the war, the loaning to rice and corn farmers of funds appropriated by the Philippine legislature, the introduction of modern agricultural machinery, seed selection, the upgrading of live stock, the formation of Rural Credit Cooperative societies by legislative enactment, laws aiming at the eradication of the locust plague and the creation of a system of cooperative insurance to cover losses in work animals.

"With the increased agricultural production and the consequent increase in per capita wealth of the people, it stands to reason that the commerce of the country will witness a corresponding growth," declared Mr. Reyes. "The Philippines too, because of their strategical location, can serve as a convenient distributing point for the Asiatic trade. The manufacture of finished articles for China, Siberia and other Oriental countries from tropically grown raw materials can, of course, be carried on in the Philippines to great advantage.

"The saving in freight alone would be a decided gain to the manufacturers. At present the people of the Philippines pay more for refined sugar than the people of the United States, though raw sugar is one of the principal exports of the country. The field of sugar refining is practically untouched. Fish, vegetable and fruit canning are practically unknown, though the excess production of fruits, vegetables and fish at certain seasons, not to speak of the greater production that would doubtless result through the development of the canning industry, would be sufficient to maintain several large canneries. All in all, the opportunities for the manufacturer are such that they are bound to draw enterprising capital to the islands."

The Jewish Feast of the Passover is the oldest religious celebration known to mankind. It had its birth on the banks of the Nile 4,000 years ago in the twilight of history.

Make that idle dollar work! Put it in the bank.

ELEPHANT GIRL GRADUATE FROM SPEAKING STAGE

It's nothing to read of circus folks graduating from the white tops to the legitimate stage, nothing at all. We've all read of that, but few of us have heard the story of Stella Rowland, who loved elephants so that she quit an ingenue role in a Cleveland stock company to handle the midget elephant heard with Sells-Floto circus, coming to Klamath Falls on Monday, Sept. 26.

And that's what Stella did. Of course, it might be well to state that Stella, a Denver girl, absorbed her love of the circus when a child in that city, where Sells-Floto's winter quarters have been located for years. Stella is one of the most versatile girls with the show, for besides presenting her elephant act in Ring 3, she is a star in the big aerial ballet, in which thirty pretty young women loop and posture under the dome of the big top while hanging by their teeth. Of the 400 performers with the "second largest show on earth," over 200 are women, and all of them, positively all of them, are just as good to look on as is Stella. You'll see that this is so when the three rings, the two stages the air and the track are filled with them on circus day.

Popular Music and Ragtime PIANO PLAYING Taught in 12 Lessons GUARANTEED

If you wish to play for your own amusement—or to entertain in your own home—or for people to sing—or for them to dance—then get your wish. Don't put it off three months (12 lessons). If you start now, you will be a good player by that time.

PRACTICE AN HOUR A DAY

If you do not play the piano, you positively can learn your favorite melodies, popular music, ballads, etc., in 12 lessons, even if you do not know one note from another now.

If you already play the piano, learn to convert any piece into Jaztime; cultivating a syncopated touch that will not harm classical interpretation. Learn the style used by motion picture players, sheet music demonstrators, professional, cabaret and vaudeville pianists. Learn to alter time, add notes, introduce chimes, runs, etc. Learn to transpose, accompany, harmonize, memorize and improvise. This course answers all your problems from a strictly academic standpoint. It is logical, progressive, practical.

This method was established in 1901. It is endorsed by well known performers and the music trade—and is worthy of your sincere attention.

This school now opening in Klamath Falls is a branch of the well known Waterman Piano schools in Eugene, Marshfield, Roseburg, Grants Pass, Medford and Ashland. In the past 18 months 458 pupils have enrolled and learned to play by this method.

A fifteen-minute demonstration at your home, that will cost you nothing, will convince you that you can learn to play.
